Union Won't Accept Steel Industry Offer

Some Suspicion Between 2 Nations Are Eliminated

BY TOM OCHILTREE

London — (AP) — West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today winds up a visit to Britain which has cleared away some of the suspicions between the two countries and strengthened the western alliance for summit talks with Russia.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan dropped his plan for an experimental disarmament zone in central Europe, which the West Germans feared would leave them defenseless against Soviet pressure.

Agree on Topics Adenauer gave assurances that West Germany would cooperate in averting a trade war between the 6-nation European common market and the rival "outer seven" economic bloc led by Britain.

Both leaders agreed on the general topics that should be discussed at an east-west summit meeting: disarmament; the future of Germany, including Berlin; east-west relations in general.

The Kremlin took its usual dark view of Adenauer's activities.

On-Duty Accident to Cost Officer $43,912

Seattle — (AP) — The anguish had drained from the faces of Jerry and Paula Poth, along with their plans for the future. The fight remained.

Paula, an attractive brunette mother of three, put it simply last night:

"It's hard enough to support three kids. The whole thing scares me."

Proposal Submitted 4 Days Ago

Pittsburgh — (AP) — The basic steel industry today disclosed it had submitted a new contract proposal to the United Steelworkers union. The union promptly announced rejection of the offer.

The union in a formal statement said the industry proposal was made on Nov. 15 and was turned down the same day.

The new proposal, the union said, represents virtually no change from the proposition the company made last Oct. 17. That offer was rejected by the full wage policy committee.

The union estimated the latest offer as being worth about 24 cents an hour over the three year period. It estimated the previous offer at 23.8 cents an hour.

In disclosing the latest offer, R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator, estimated the new proposal would cost the companies 30 cents an hour over a 3-year period.

The industry valued the Oct. 17 offer at 29.4 cents an hour over the 3-year period.

Calls Offer Fair On the basis of the industries two estimates the new proposal is an improvement of six-tenths of a cent over three years.

Cooper said: "The proposal is a fair offer to do what can be done and still keep within non-inflationary bounds in the cost of steel production."

"The only difference between this latest company offer and the earlier offer is a small pension improvement which the union's actuary estimates is worth less than one-third of one cent."

Referring to the industry's proposals on local work conditions, the USW said the latest offer is the "same old attempt to deprive steelworkers of hard-won gains and protections."

H. H. Curtice Kills Friend in Accident

Retired GM President Shoots Companion in Hunting Tragedy

Walpole Island, Ontario — Retired General Motors President Harlow H. Curtice

Curtice accidentally shot and killed a onetime top aide yesterday.

Harry W. Anderson, 67, a retired GM vice president, was killed by a blast from a 12-gauge shotgun fired by Curtice as they were hunting ducks on Ste. Anne's island in the St. Clair river, between the United States and Canada. For many years, Anderson was GM's top negotiator in contract talks with the United Auto Workers union.

Goes to Michigan Home Provincial Police Constable Bud Collins, after questioning Curtice, said the shooting was accidental and that it would be so reported to provincial headquarters today. The Lambton county coroner, Dr. C. A. Henrich, said a decision on holding an inquest will be made when police investigation is completed.

Curtice was driven by friends to Ann Arbor, Mich., where he expressed his sorrow. Turn to Page 3, Col. 1

Appleton Council Holds One Tax Rate, Hikes Other 15 Cents Per $1,000 Value

Outagamie Section Remains at $41.50; Calumet Up to $43.55

BY JAMES NEWCOMB

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Appleton aldermen Wednesday set the city real estate and personal property tax rates at $41.50 for the Outagamie county section of the city and $43.55 for the Calumet county section.

The Outagamie county section rate is the same as last year, but the Calumet county rate is up 15 cents per $1,000 of assessed value.

Brunsdale Named Langer Successor

Bismarck, N. D. —

Gov. John E. Davis today appointed former Gov. Norman Brunsdale to be U.S. senator from North Dakota, succeeding the late Sen. William Langer (R-ND). Davis and Brunsdale are Republicans.

Brunsdale, 68, will serve until a special election in conjunction with the North Dakota primary next June, when a senator will be named to fill out Langer's term, running through 1964.

Both sections pay at the same rate for strictly city council and city school spending, but the charges forwarded by the two county boards differ, thus creating different rates.

A tentative schedule shows the tax rates will furnish about $4,804,000 to defray $6,966,754 in strictly city spending and $815,849 in county and state charges. Incomes from other than the real estate tax

Budget Funds Curb Sought

Ike Wants to Hold Down Demands for Non-Military Needs

Augusta, Ga. — President is taking a sharp, hold-the-line look at the non-military part of his new budget in hopes of compressing it into a $40 billion package.

Eisenhower had Budget Director Maurice H. Stans fly in from Washington to help out with expert opinions at a conference today.

What claimed the immediate attention of the president and his budget officer was the miscellaneous part of the budget—all the items for all governmental activities except the military—for the 1961 fiscal year starting July 1.

$2 Billion Increase

For the current fiscal year, the price tag on them reads about $38 billion. Budget experts foresee a substantial markup for next year.

Stans' deputy, Elmer B. Staats, has said that legislation already on the books and programs already underway carry built-in increases which will force expenditures for 1961 upward by more than $2 billion above 1960.

As Staats has outlined the prospects, more money will be

Rocket Fails to Eject Cloud of Sodium Vapor

Earlier Effort Visible for Hundreds of Miles Along Eastern Seaboard

Washington — (AP) — A second sodium vapor rocket was fired early today from Wallops Island, Va., but it failed to eject its brilliant yellow cloud at the top of its flight. The rocket itself rose to 160 miles.

Civilian space scientists were unable to say immediately why the sodium vapor failed to spew out of the rocket.

Another sodium rocket fired yesterday at dusk was visible for hundreds of miles along the eastern seaboard.

The national aeronautics and space administration plans a third sodium flare try tomorrow morning. The sodium clouds help scientists study wind currents at high altitudes.

Another Test Fizzles Another rocket experiment at Wallops Island last night also fizzled. That was an electron-counting device designed to travel up more than 1,000 miles.

At Cape Canaveral, Fla., last night the army launched a Jupiter ballistic missile on a 1,500-mile flight.

NASA said this morning's two-stage Nike-Asp sodium rocket thundered up at 5:51 a.m., just before dawn.

The army's Jupiter, an intermediate range missile, rose from its Florida launching pad trailing a mass of flame. It streaked down the Atlantic missile range on a scheduled 1,500 mile test flight and was to drop a dummy warhead near the island of Antigua.

Last night's Wallops Island sodium vapor rocket was launched at 5:17 p.m. As it rose above the earth's shadow into sunlight 150 miles up, it spewed out a cloud of yellow sodium vapor for the study of wind conditions at that altitude.

The vapor trail was visible

NATO Countries Urged to Support American Efforts

Washington — (AP) — A NATO economic committee today asked NATO countries to increase their aid to less developed areas.

But the chairman of the economic committee, Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY), told the NATO parliamentarians' conference, it should not expect increased foreign aid spending by the United States.

The meeting also received reports on language barriers and military programs and scheduled an afternoon address by Paul-Henri Spaak.

Predicts Partnership

In presenting the economic report, Javits said:

"Speaking also as a U.S. delegate, I see immediately before us partnerships between the United States and other NATO countries in economic aid programs which the United States has been carrying in the main in many of the less developed areas."

"This is highly necessary as I am convinced that the free world's ability to win the cold war requires more economic aid and technical assistance to the less developed areas than can now be afforded without such partnerships."

"I am also convinced that U. S. foreign aid is not likely to be increased in the immediate future and the hope for meeting the need now rests in partnerships between the United States and NATO countries."

Stories, Photos Describe New Catholic Shrine

In an article on Page B-14, Frances McKusick, of the Post-Crescent Washington bureau, describes the beautiful shrine built with money provided by Catholics throughout the country, including Fox Cities residents.

On Page D-14, is a photo of one of the shrine's mosaics created by Francis Scott Bradford, one of Appleton's most famous sons, and a story on Bradford written by Post-Crescent Reporter Lillian Mackesy, describing all five of the mosaics created by him for the Porch of Charity in the new shrine.

Lawrence, St. Norbert, UW Questioning Oath

Dr. Knight Says 'Disclaimer Affidavit' Not Loyalty Feature Protested by Harvard, Yale

Lawrence and St. Norbert colleges and the University of Wisconsin are among colleges and universities throughout the country questioning a loyalty "disclaimer affidavit" required of needy college students seeking federal loans to help pay for their educations. All three schools use the funds.

Dr. Douglas M. Knight, Lawrence president, said the college has been working since the loans were provided to have one of two loyalty sections removed from loan application blanks.

U. S. Accused of Leaking News on Outer Space Talks

Moscow — (AP) — Izvestia today accused the U.S. delegation to the United Nations of leaking accounts of Soviet-American talks on outer space to the press after both sides agreed to keep the discussions confidential.

The Soviet government organ charged that "biased" reports were given to American newsmen on talks at U.N. headquarters on the makeup of a proposed committee to study peaceful uses of outer space.

"Certain American diplomats refuse stubbornly to renounce their custom of substituting businesslike cooperation with backstage dealings," Izvestia complained.

"During the talks the Soviet delegation submitted certain constructive proposals," the Soviet paper said. "These proposals envisage that both socialist (communist) and capitalist countries must be represented in the space committee without discrimination."

"The American representative, however, continued to insist that the obviously unacceptable composition of the provisional committee be taken as a model for the permanent committee."

54 Loans Granted The Lawrence faculty has asked the Association of American Colleges and the American Council on Education to work with congressmen to eliminate the disclaimer affidavit.

So far, 54 Lawrence students have taken federal loans and no one has objected to signing the oath, Dean Allen H. Hurlbert said.

Science Building Bids to be Asked

Madison — (AP) — The state building commission voted today to advertise for bids for construction of a $2,649,800 science building on the University of Wisconsin Milwaukee campus.

This action by the commission indicates its readiness to release the necessary funds when the bids are approved.

A spokesman for the commission said it has not been decided whether the structure will be paid for with available funds or borrowed money.

Nixon Group Formed in New Hampshire

Concord, N.H. — (AP) — Fifty supporters of Vice President Richard M. Nixon met last night to organize a New Hampshire Nixon-for-President campaign.

New Hampshire will hold the first-in-the-nation presidential preference primary March 8.

Seeks Ouster of Teamster Leader

Deprived of Their Rights, Group Says

Washington — An attorney for a group of rank-and-file members of the Teamsters union yesterday asked the ouster of Teamsters President James R. Hoffa.

Atty. Godfrey Schmidt, in a motion mailed from New York City to U. S. Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Lettis in Washington, asked for Hoffa's ouster on grounds that Hoffa deprived Teamster members of rights guaranteed by the new labor law. The motion further seeks Hoffa's trial on charges previously filed by Schmidt alleging misuse of union powers.

Teamster members bringing the action are Andrew Boggia, Ed McFarland, Frank Kennedy, Hobart Gale, Joe Molloy, Harold Will, Thomas Manning, John McGlynn, John Olsen, Steve Milone, John McManus and George Becker. All are members from the New York City area.

Other Charges
The motion also accused Hoffa of consistent unwillingness to cooperate with a 3-man board of monitors appointed by the court to regulate Hoffa's administration of union affairs.

The formation of the board stemmed from legal action by Schmidt on behalf of rank-and-file. Teamsters opposed to Hoffa's control.

Schmidt also charged that the union's executive board, who normally would consider charges against Hoffa, "are not capable of impartial adjudication."

Because of this, the motion said, a court-appointed board was needed to try Hoffa.

Legal Steps

The Teamsters represented by Schmidt have fought Hoffa in the courts for over two years. Appeals and other legal steps are pending.

When Judge Lettis set up the board of monitors last year to keep tabs on the 11-million-member union, Schmidt was appointed as a monitor. He resigned last June because of a possible conflict of interests. In addition to representing dissident Teamsters he also has clients who deal with the union as employers.

The three monitors held a meeting last night among themselves. Then later conferred with Hoffa. But the meeting with Hoffa was for the purpose of working out procedures for the release of a number of local unions for trusteeships.

Monitor Chairman Martin F. O'Donoghue said no definite commitments were obtained in the conference with Hoffa.

Atom Chief Urges Less Competition

New York — Russia's atomic energy chief urges less competition and more cooperation between the United States and the Soviet Union in developing nuclear power for peaceful use.

Prof. Vasily S. Yemelyanov, chief of the Soviet administration for peaceful utilization of atomic energy, concluded Wednesday a 15-day inspection tour of major atomic research centers in this country.

Yemelyanov, who accompanied by nine other Soviet scientists, said he was impressed by what he saw. He said, however, "nuclear development should not be a race or a football game but a cooperative effort."

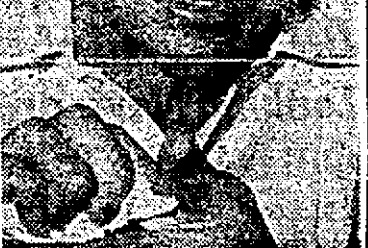

Citing "waste" in constructing atom smashers, Yemelyanov said: "You build a big machine and then we build a bigger one." For world scientists, he added, one machine should be enough.

Last month, a group of American scientists, headed by Atomic Energy Commissioner John A. McCone, toured Soviet nuclear research centers.

Legal Steps

The Teamsters represented by Schmidt have fought Hoffa in the courts for over two years. Appeals and other legal steps are pending.

Development of Bong Air Base Asked in Senate

Bill Introduced Setting Up 5-Man Work Commission

Madison — A bill that would enable the state to acquire and develop the abandoned Bong Air Force Base was introduced in the Wisconsin Senate Wednesday.

The proposal carried the names of Sens. William Trinke (R-Lake Geneva) and Lynn Stalbaum (D-Racine) as co-sponsors.

The plan would allow the appointment of a 5-man commission by Gov. Gaylord Nelson.

Annual Expenses
The group would be officially known as the Wisconsin Federal Surplus Property Development Commission and would be empowered to incorporate for development and disposition of the big site.

A $5,000 annual appropriation from the general fund to cover commission expenses was included in the measure. The authorized issue mortgage revenue bonds to finance acquisition of the property and its development.

Take No Action
However the Federal Aviation Agency says it can take no action on what to do with the Bong base until the base has been declared surplus to the needs of the federal government.

Alan L. Dean, acting administrator of the FAA, wrote Rep. Henry S. Reuss (D-Wis) that the base is still under jurisdiction of the Air Force. Reuss had written the FAA on Oct. 5 suggesting that Bong be used as an international civilian airport to handle jets taking off over seas flights.

"In the event," Dean said, "the properties become surplus to the government's needs, this agency will then, upon request of the General Services Administration, conduct such further investigation as may be necessary to determine whether and the extent to which the properties are essential, suitable and desirable for use for public airport purposes."

Tax Program To be Tested At Hearings

Withholding Bill Likely to Produce Lively Argument

Madison — Gov. Nelson's tax program will run the test of public reaction at public hearings starting in the legislature on Tuesday, Dec. 1, the legislative joint finance committee has decided.

The budget and tax writing committee will hear witnesses testily on the income tax withholding bill which is the Democratic governor's preferred alternative method of raising new money for his hard-pressed state treasury, and also on his second choice major tax plan which involves a three quarters of one per cent upward revision in each bracket of the normal income tax.

Tied to both of the major tax plans of the governor is a miscellany of revenue measures including a one cent addition in the state cigarette tax, to six cents a package, a tobacco products tax of 15 per cent of wholesale value, and a corporation franchise tax that would cover banks, building and loan associations, and credit unions.

Lively Argument
The prospect is for a lively and lengthy argument on the tax plans and especially on the withholding system which drew hundreds of witnesses and produced one of the most spirited hearings earlier in the year. The Republican state senate at that time killed the bill and it is generally expected that the party line division on the issue will remain at this session and that it will die again as a result.

The partisan division on the tax question was suggested yesterday when the finance committee introduced Gov. Nelson's program formally by a vote of seven to four. The four in the minority were Republicans.

Man Wanted in Death Of Couple Found Shot Near Public Library

Thought to be Killer of Divorcee, Male Companion on Boston Street

Boston — Cambridge police reported today that Edward F. Tumulty, 34, sought for questioning in the slaying of a Boston secretary and her male friend last night, fatally shot himself today on the grounds of Cambridge public library.

Police Sgt. John Norton said Tumulty shot himself behind the right ear with the bullet emerging through the top of his head.

Police had sought Tumulty after Miss Barbara M. Betts, 30, pretty brunette divorcee, and Louis Vuona, 40, a Worcester engineer, was shot down on a Back Bay street.

Heard Shot
A neighbor who heard the shot that wounded Tumulty telephoned police. They found him lying in back of the library. He died two hours later.

The slaying of Miss Betts and Vuona occurred not far and just to the rear of the big Boston public library.

Vuona died immediately. Miss Betts died in City hospital about four hours later. Both had been shot in the head.

The Rev. Cornelius Hastie of St. James Episcopal church, Roxbury, who was visiting on Blagden street, looked out the window when he heard the first of several shots fired below.

He said he saw a man wearing a light-colored trench coat and soft hat fire two or three shots into one of the victims at close range.

The Rev. Mr. Hastie said the killer walked about 20 yards to the corner of Exeter street and then sprinted along Boylston street.

Miss Betts was married in 1947 to John Grant of Dorchester and divorced two years later. She had resumed her maiden name and lived in the Back Bay.

American Motors May Add Third Assembly Line
Kenosha — An American Motors corporation official said Wednesday the company probably will add a third auto assembly line at its plant here next year at a cost of about $7 million.

J. J. Timpy of Detroit, AMC vice president, said it is planned to build the line as part of a $39 million expansion program during 1960.

He said the plan still must go before the company's board of directors but approval is expected.

Timpy and other company officials discussed American Motors business with about 50 investment analysts who visited the plant here.

Roy W. Chapin, executive vice president and general manager of the automotive division, said AMC increased production value by $600 million in recent years at a cost of about $49 million.

He said dealer demand for Rambler automobiles this month is beyond the output of 34,000 cars. There are about 56,000 orders for cars on hand this month and about 64,000 for next month, he said.

Santa Claus Goots on Name Of England's Princess Anne

London — "And what is your name?" the afternoon-shift Santa Claus at a London store asked the curly-haired little girl before him Wednesday.

"Princess Anne," she replied.

"Oh, yes," boomed Santa in his good-natured voice, "and I'm Father Christmas."

Santa Goofed
Five seconds went by before Santa realized he had goofed—the name and title of Queen Elizabeth II's daughter had just fallen mechanically on his tired ear.

"Of course you are," said the 9-year-old princess, ending the embarrassing silence.

Details List
Anne stood on tiptoe and detailed her requirements into Santa's red ear.

Santa nodded and said: "I'll see what I can do."

Another pause and Santa asked: "I suppose you're pretty busy with your lessons now?"

"Oh, yes," came back Anne, "but it's not too bad, you know. I get every weekend off."

Then she gravely extended her hand, shook Santa's and, nodding to her governess, tripped off to look at the toys.

Councilmen, acting on advice of Frank Okada of Becher and Okada, the city's auditing contractor, re-evaluated the surplus at $358,000.

Okada explained that the $200,000 listed earlier as the prediction for surplus was not meant to be an estimate of the total surplus, but of the amount suggested for taking from surplus.

The revelation was greeted by surprise by at least six aldermen, all past members of council budget committees. They said they thought the $200,000 was an estimate of total surplus.

Size of the surplus was a key question raised by Appleton Taxpayers association. ATA spokesmen said the surplus could be as much as $500,000, but they could only substantiate $448,000.

In the committee of the whole (informal) discussion after the public hearing on the budget, councilmen said they would have to proceed on the basis of Okada's projection of surplus on Dec. 31.

Earmark $155,000. By doing this, they made available to themselves another $158,000. They disposed of it by earmarking $155,000 of it for specific projects.

The projects are: Police station addition, $110,000. This means the city will abandon plans to bond for the project. Ald. Homer Malmstrom was the lone objector, saying he thinks the project is large enough so it should be paid for from bonds paid over a 20-year period. The money could be used for some other improvement which would not be shared by coming generations, he said.

New street department building, $30,000. The city already has $15,000 in an earmarked fund for purchase of a site and the board of public works has indicated it is nearly ready to start looking for one.

School Sites. School sites, $10,000. There are requests before the council to buy sites for a north-west junior high and a south-east elementary school site. Town of Grand Chute property owners whose land is in the city school system will share $99.40 of the cost of this item.

Public buildings' sites, $5,000. This money could be used as down payment on land that could be used for a number of purposes. Included are a new site for the downtown fire station or parks.

Earmarking the $348,000 of surplus in this way left $3,000 to cut the impending tax rate. The rest of the money to actually trim the expected rate hike came from a readjustment of the $50,000 salary adjustment fund.

Salary Fund. Aldermen cut the fund by $15,000 to $35,000. Discussion showed the new state job and pay plan will cost about $30,000 more next year than if the council had proceeded under its old wage plan for its employees. The extra $5,000 will be used to pay out so-called "merit" increases to employees designated by department heads.

It was said the $20,000 extra the city will receive in Wisconsin Michigan Power company tax shares from the state will be used to defray deficits in the accounts for snow and ice control, accounts depleted last winter in the unseasonal cold and snow.

The question of erroneous estimates on spending for the last quarter this year, which the ATA said could produce another $30,634 in surplus, was not discussed in committee of the whole.

Earmarking of the estimated surplus was suggested by Ald. Ervin J. Bogan, finance committee chairman, who said "Let's pay for something for a change."

A suggestion that taxes be cut, as urged by the ATA, was dismissed.

Other Suggestions. Earmarking of surplus produced suggestions from other aldermen that money be set aside to construction storm sewers in Bellaire ravine and to open Washington or Franklin street westward from Division street. Nothing came of them.

There also was a suggestion that the dog law enforcement budget could be cut $1,300 to $3,000, but aldermen decided to hold the appropriation at the suggested level and wait for a report on what should be done.

The special dog law enforcement committee, reportedly has talked with one citizen group about taking over the city's duties, and probably will schedule talks later with the Outagamie County Humane society.

H. O. Barney, president of ATA, told the council at the public hearing he was pleased to hear the city had a large surplus, that last year's budget had been adequate. He cited the need for re-evaluating the spending estimates for the last three months of this year, a factor in determining surplus at year's end.

'Fine Cooperation'. Barney also thanked Mayor Mitchell, Broehm and the budget committee for "fine cooperation."

Wesley Kolbe, ATA projects committee chairman, also spoke. He traced the surplus to $448,000 and urged the council to use the extra $248,446 it represented to cut taxes.

"Unneeded surplus should not be permitted to accumulate. Each taxpayer would rather use his money himself," said Kolbe.

What surplus there is, he said, should not remain unmarked.

Broehm said he and Okada had determined the year's end surplus will amount to about $358,631.

Kolbe's discussion caused Ald. Mrs. Dorothy Stillings to say she believes Appleton taxpayers paid $2 per $1,000 of assessed value more last year than was necessary.

M. Pusey, formerly president of Lawrence; called it an "affidavit of misbelief."

Princeton university refused to participate at the outset of the program because, said President Robert F. Goheen, the loyalty oath provision "offers no protection whatever against those who would abuse our heritage of freedom and of law."

Columbia university has formally expressed opposition to the affidavit but participates in the program because "many Columbia students need the help that this act may bring to them."

Other schools are opposed to the program for different reasons.

Congress Warned. Last week, the 93-member Association of Land Grant Colleges and State Institutions told congress in a resolution that opposition to the affidavit was growing throughout the nation.

Brigham Young university, although not opposed to the oath, returned its federal funds because it was opposed to government aid to education.

A southern school, Howard college of Birmingham, Ala., refused to participate in the program because it does not want more "entangling alliances" with the federal government.

New Mexico State university has taken the stand that it does not have a right to deny students a loan by dropping out of the program and it added that "the matter of signing the loyalty pledge is a personal matter which an individual can decide."

Dartmouth college President John Sloan Dickey described the loyalty oath as "unwise and ineffective" but said he was "genuinely puzzled about whether it would be right for a college to deny this opportunity to those students who otherwise might be unable to obtain loans and are willing to sign the affidavit."

Dartmouth participates in the program.

Among other schools participating in the program, although protesting, are Rutgers university, University of Connecticut, Bowdoin, Colby, Bates, University of New Hampshire, Colorado college, Denver university, Providence college and the University of Washington. Roanoke and Virginia Tech leave it up to the individual student.

Schools dropping out of the program and those refusing to participate because of the loyalty oath include Bryn Mawr, Haverford, Swarthmore, Amherst, Grinnell college, St. John's, Goucher, Antioch, Oberlin, Bennington, Reed and Sarah Lawrence.

The Wesleyan university faculty has voted opposition to the program but the school has not yet acted.

Brown university hopes congress will eliminate the oath requirement at the next session. If it is not eliminated, President Barnaby C. Keeney said he would recommend the school drop out.

North Adams State Teachers college in Massachusetts supports the required oath and said its purpose was a "worthy one."

The University of Bridgeport, which participates in the program, called the controversy over the oath an "academic tempest in a campus teapot."

At least one school does not participate for an altogether different reason. Hollins, a fashionable college in Virginia, said it has never received any loan applications from its students.

Seeks to Curb Non-Military Budget Needs needed for outer space projects, aviation, the development loan fund, urban renewal and other housing programs, water resources projects, veterans' pensions and the conservation reserve for agriculture.

Thus Eisenhower and Stans faced a stern financial challenge in trying to hit a total close to a $40 billion for the non-military section of the budget.

The military portion, as a no material decrease in the danger to our security."

The obvious reduction in tensions, Mahon said, grew out of the recent visit of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

"While tensions seem to have lessened," Mahon said, "there has been no assurance that I am aware of that there has been a lessening in the danger to our security. We must remain alert and keep up our guard. We must take no risks."

result of conference here Monday, has been put tentatively at $41 billion plus. This also is up a bit from 1960.

May Total $81 Billion. So there are prospects that the over-all budget for 1961 will hit or more. This compares with an estimated $78,905,000,000 for this year.

Eisenhower and Stans hoped to have the entire budget pretty well wrapped up, and ready for delivery to congress in January, before the chief executive sets out Dec. 3 on an aerial good-will expedition to 11 European, Asian and African nations.

The tentative nature of the agreement on the military part was underlined only yesterday. Eisenhower conferred for two and a half hours with the chiefs of the military services. Then he sent word to the civilian secretaries of the services to be in Augusta Saturday morning, ready to talk about military plans and the budget.

There have been inklings that all the differences over the budget within the Pentagon itself haven't been settled.

The tentative budget provides for fewer men and more missiles. It rejects the navy's request for a second nuclear powered aircraft carrier. It calls for small reductions in army and air force manpower.

Complacency Must Not Replace Tensions, Rep. Mahon Aserts

Washington — The nation must avoid "substituting complacency for tensions," says the chairman of a house appropriations subcommittee in charge of defense spending.

Rep. George H. Mahon (D-Texas) said today that while there has been "a reduction in tensions, there has been row to Mrs. Anderson. Then, with head bowed and refusing to talk with reporters waiting outside the Anderson home, Curtice got into a car with friends and drove to the seclusion of his own home in Flint, Mich.

Provincial police said the accident occurred at 11 a.m. yesterday. Curtice and Anderson were sitting side-by-side in a duck blind in the marshes. Anderson stood up just as Curtice raised his gun and fired at a flock of ducks passing over. The charge struck Anderson in the right side of the head.

A Chippewa Indian guide was hiding about 25 feet behind the blind. He saw the shooting and raced over to the blind of two other members of the hunting party, George W. Kennedy, board chairman of Kelsey-Hayes Wheel corporation of Detroit, and Arthur Brown of Rochester, Mich., a manufacturer's representative. Kennedy and Brown were concealed about 100 yards away and did not see the accident.

Aimed at Lead Duck. The guide said Curtice aimed at the lead duck of the flock and as he fired Anderson stood up and stumbled directly into the line of fire.

The hunters had been waiting in vain for several hours for ducks to show up and were almost ready to quit.

Ste. Anne's island is separated by channels from the Canadian Walpole Island Indian reservation. It was Curtice's favorite duck hunting area.

Kennedy has a hunting lodge on a site leased from the Indians. His firm has used the lodge to entertain friends and customers. Curtice and Anderson had been hunting companions for many years and were skilled in use of firearms, friends said.

Kennedy said, "It was one of those unfortunate things that you can't understand. They'd both been shooting guns all their lives. You can't understand why these things happen."

Curtice retired as president of GM Aug. 31, 1958. He is still a GM director. Anderson retired Dec. 31, 1956.

As one of Curtice's top aides, Anderson made labor relations history as vice president in charge of personnel and chief negotiator of union contracts. He negotiated contracts that gave the UAW cost-of-living increases and annual wage increases based on increased productivity.

OH, MY ACHING BACK

Now You can get the fast relief you need from nagging backache, headache and muscular aches and pains that often cause restless nights and miserable tired-out feelings. When these discomforts come on with over-exertion or stress and strain you want relief—want it fast! Another gliding massage may be mild. Another following wrong food and drink—often setting up a restless uncomfortable feeling. But the work fast in 3 separate ways: 1. by speedy pain-relieving action to ease torment of nagging backache, headache, muscular aches and pains. 2. by soothing effect on bladder irritation, by mild diuretic action tending to increase output of the 16 miles of kidney tubes. Enjoy a good night's sleep and the same happy relief millions have for over 60 years. Now, large size saves money. Get Doan's Pills today!

The Other Speaker at Gettysburg

Two men were the "main speakers" at Gettysburg just 96 years ago today. No one today forgets Lincoln, but who remembers Dr. Edward Everett?

Dr. Everett won the plaudits of the multitude. President Lincoln finished his address and was given only silence. Dr. Everett turned to Sec. of State Seward and said: "It is not what I expected from him," and Seward agreed: "His speech is not equal to him."

However, perhaps because the amenities demanded it, Dr. Everett wrote Lincoln:

Permit me also to express my great admiration of the thoughts expressed by you, with such eloquent simplicity and appropriateness, at the consecration of the Cemetery. I should be glad if I could flatter myself that I came as near the central idea of the occasion in two hours as you did in two minutes.

Or perhaps Dr. Everett, himself acclaimed as the foremost American orator of the Civil war era, had more perception than his fellows.

He was equal to his speech, but then he took almost as many hours as Lincoln took minutes. If he did not hold his audience spellbound during all this time, at least he held its attention. He justified the northern cause and deplored that of the South. He glorified in the victory at Gettysburg, and painted a gloomy picture of what would have happened had the Confederates won.

"God bless the Union; it is dearer to us for the blood of brave men which has been shed in its defense," he concluded. (Remember "those who have consecrated it, far above our power to add or detract"?)

Who was the Hon. Edward Everett of Massachusetts? At Gettysburg, he was 69 years old, a noted public servant and scholar. He led his class at 17 at Harvard, became pastor of a Boston church, was the first American to receive a Ph.D. at Gottingen university, edited the North American Review and served in Congress. He was governor of Massachusetts, minister to Great Britain, president of Harvard, secretary of state for four months after the death of Daniel Webster in 1852, and United States senator. This part of his career covered a period between 1825 and 1854. Ill health forced him to resign from the Senate, but he returned briefly to politics in 1860 to become the Constitution-Union party's candidate for vice president against Lincoln. His ticket received 39 electoral votes. After that he became one of Lincoln's strongest supporters.

Everett was chiefly responsible for raising $70,000 for the purchase and restoration of George Washington's home at Mount Vernon.

But for him, the services at Gettysburg would have been held Oct. 23. He was asked to speak at that time, but said he could not prepare himself by then, so the dedication was postponed until Nov. 19.

Move Against Lucey Milwaukee Inspired

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — Notes accumulated on a statehouse assignment:

Harry Harder, the state tax commissioner whose term has expired and who has had no word from Gov. Nelson about a reappointment, is considering several attractive outside job offers.

Wyngaard

Most of the campaign against the reelection of Chairman Patrick Lucey of the Democratic party organization was artificial, in the sense that it amounted to publicity inspired by some of the Milwaukee party chieftains. Their failure to carry even their own district delegations against him at the convention last weekend, therefore, shows them with something less than commanding positions in their own neighborhoods.

The fact that John Lynch of Douglas county was unable to win reelection as tenth district leader of the Democratic party organization may reduce the claims of those who have told Gov. Nelson that he ought to be rewarded with a seat on the state conservation commission. Lynch was tripped up by Sen. Carl Lauri of Superior, who evidently works at district politics with more aptitude than his Madison associates have suspected.

GOP HISTORY

Republicans and others who are interested in the political history of their state will do well to read the new biography of E. L. Philipp, governor of the state from 1915 to 1921. It is one of the best in the biographical studies series of the State Historical society. Philipp served three terms as governor, each time turning back the formidable LaFollette machine in the heyday of the senior LaFollette, without wavering in his stalwart Republican views and purposes.

These are boom times for those who know something of the art of political publicity and promotion. During the last fortnight this space has had half a dozen inquiries relating to jobs for persons qualified for political and quasi-political public relations and publicity.

A salient political fact about Gov. Nelson's alternative tax programs, and one that Republicans didn't miss, is that both the withholding tax proposal and the plan for an upward revision of the individual income tax rates will become effective on Jan. 1 of 1961 — conven-tently after the November, 1960, elections.

You can expect to hear reminders of such timely political planning on the part of the Democratic state administration from the Republicans the next time the governor accuses the GOP of playing politics with the state tax issue, as he doubtless will.

MISSED A MEETING

Wisconsin Republican local leaders laughed heartily when they heard Minnesota GOP Chairman Ed Viefhman talking about practical politics in his state not long ago. The loudest laughter came from the knowing local politicians when the visitor related that he had once asked one of his county chairmen how he managed to become county chairman.

"I missed a meeting," the worthy replied. The anecdote evidently had a Wisconsin application, too.

Political privilege is a curious thing. In the Wisconsin legislature there is a rule that a former member, no matter how distant his service or how brief it was, has the right in perpetuity to the floor of either chamber at any time. Few former members fail to exercise their right, although they must stand during the proceedings and the gallery seats are far more comfortable in their anonymity.

Almanac Sees Mild Winter — In Texas

From the Ft. Worth Star Telegram

A good many Americans are counting on a mild winter. They are not laying an extra supply of canned goods and warm quilts in anticipation of being icebound in a sudden blizzard, and they are already planning how they will spend the money they expect to save on the heating bill. Santa is not being asked to bring sleds for their children, because they are not looking for a white Christmas.

These are the growing legions who have come to take for granted the weather predictions of the Farmer's almanac. As it has been doing for 143 years, the almanac has just concluded a peek into the months ahead and reported that old man winter doesn't plan to go on the warpath. Almanac followers believe it, and their confidence, perhaps, is not totally unwarranted. The almanac's lengthening list of correct forecasts gives it a reputation for reliability that isn't easily refuted. How does one explain away the accurate forecasts of the 1938 New England hurricane and the 1950 storms? Of course, almanac addicts may tend to overlook an occasional slip-up by their own infallible journal.

But another element that may help to account for the almanac's large and loyal leadership is the air of certainty about its predictions. Quite often, the most the weatherman will do is to tell when, by all the knowledge available to him, conditions appear to be favorable for rain, snow or violent storms. The almanac doesn't hedge. It flatly predicts when it will rain, snow or storm.

Reliance upon these predictions may cause a lot of picnics not to get planned, but it probably keeps a lot of picnics from getting rained out too.

Double Talk and Double Taxation

"We can balance the budget, with a tax reduction."

That's what Gov. Nelson told the Wisconsin legislature last week. If true, it's quite a feat. This modern miracle in financing can be achieved, the governor explained, "simply by changing the method of collecting taxes. That's withholding. The alternative is a tax increase."

The governor is suffering from the political DT's — double talk about double taxation.

The governor has a problem. He deals in bigger figures because the state of Wisconsin is big business, but the basic issue is the same that faces any householder who finds he doesn't have enough money to pay his bills. There are only two ways to solve that problem: (1) reduce spending, or (2) provide more income. The state administration apparently has decided it cannot, or will not, take the first alternative. That means more income must be provided if the budget is to be balanced. In government, that can mean only more taxes.

But the governor told the legislature he could balance the budget — and reduce income taxes — simply by changing the method of collection and adopting a higher tax on cigarettes and collecting some new taxes from banks, savings and loan associations and now untaxed tobacco products.

The governor apparently hasn't let his office staff in on the secret, because on the same day he spoke to the legislature it released some figures on how income tax payments of typical families would be affected by withholding. In every instance, of course, the tax dollar payments would be more, not less.

For instance, the governor's staff said a family of five with a $5,000 annual income and typical deductions now would pay $50.31 in state income taxes in April, 1960. In April, 1961, they would pay $40.25 and through the year another $3.35 a month, or $40.20, would be withheld.

Whoops, governor, that makes a tax bill payable in 1961 of $80.45, an increase of about 60 per cent! If the legislature doesn't accept this "reduction" plan, Nelson said, he has an alternative plan under which, his staff explained, the family tax bill would be $55.71. That, Nelson told the lawmakers, is an increase.

The picture is the same in other income brackets, the governor's staff's figures show. A family of five with typical deductions making $7,000 a year will pay $126.88 next April, $203.50 in 1961 under Nelson's withholding plan (This is a "reduction") or $141.67 under his alternative proposal which, he says, means a tax increase. With a $10,000 family income, the figures are, respectively, $290, $464.20 and $314.81.

We don't mean to be unduly harsh with the governor in his use of words, because he acknowledged in another part of his talk to the lawmakers that the withholding "windfalls" (that means more money from the taxpayers) would be temporary and would force some sort of tax revision in 1961 (that means how to find more tax money to keep the budget balanced).

The governor cautioned Republican legislative leaders on the danger of playing politics by using their Senate majority to wreck his program and destroy any chance of a reasonable solution to the tax problem. However, the governor knows politics and taxes cannot be separated. Playing politics with the state fiscal problems was a favorite Democratic sport while they were the "outs" and now the Republicans are trying their hand at it. Nelson, of course, doesn't want Wisconsin voters to get the idea there is a third alternative — changing the administration.

And we're not at all sure that method would work, either. You still come back to the basic issue: when government spends more, it must tax more to keep the budget balanced. Withholding is not a "windfall." The extra money it provides comes straight out of the taxpayers' pockets and the governor's proposal means simply we would be paying state income taxes twice in 1961 — once in a lump sum and again in 12 monthly installments. The total tax dollars paid will be a lot more than heretofore.

Please, governor, let's not call that a "tax reduction."

Airplane Crashes

Despite the intensive studies that are made of all airplane crashes, there is a good deal to be learned about safe flying. Many planes crash over water and disappear forever. Others are lost in the wilds of sparsely settled areas so that the cause of their loss is never known.

The crash of the National Airlines plane in the Gulf of Mexico, only a little more than a hundred miles from New Orleans, is a case in point. This plane with 36 passengers and a crew of six was en route from Miami to New Orleans. The plane had stopped at Tampa to pick up 10 passengers and had reported its position over a check point about 100 miles east of New Orleans and 45 miles south of Biloxi, Miss., shortly before the crash.

The aircraft, flying at 14,000 feet, was being tracked by a radar station at Dauphin Island just south of Mobile, Ala., when it apparently crashed. Radar observers said it "just dropped off" the radar screen. Apparently the crash took place within a few minutes after the pilot had reported his position over the check point. What could have gone wrong during that time? It was something so violent as to have prevented the crew from reporting it or it was something that happened so silently as to have been unobserved by the crew.

There is some interest, of course, in the fact that the same airline company had a similar loss in the same area six years ago, when one of its planes crashed in the gulf taking 46 lives. Both planes were on the same run and weather conditions were similar. In the six years intervening between the crashes, of course, this airline carried millions of passengers great distances, delivering them safely. Thus it can be said that the company's planes are operated properly and safely most of the time. Probably it will never be possible to avoid all such losses but the more information the airlines have on the reasons for such plane crashes the sooner we will be able to eliminate them. This explains the diligent examination that is given to every piece of wreckage recovered from such a crash.

Summit Conferences Bring Extension of Red Influence

Editor, Post-Crescent:

The first four summit conferences — Teheran, December 1943; Yalta, January 1945; Potsdam, July 1945; Geneva, July 1955; (the first three of which I attended as chief adviser to Admiral King) — providing, as they did, green lights for communist aggressive expansion, played an important part in extending communist enslavement over one-third of the world. Hundreds of millions of mute and hopeless victims are now being forced to watch the immurement of new victims by new "summits." With each new retreat from freedom, they are forced to bow lower to a future of unending servitude — in the Baltics, in Poland and the other mid-Europe satellites, in mainland China, North Korea, North Indochina.

The summit conference demanded under threat by Khrushchev should not be accepted until there is set up concrete action, protected by irrevocable sanctions for the conduct of free elections throughout East and West Germany.

The 1938 summit conference in Munich between Hitler and Chamberlain was made under threat. Chamberlain's return to London with his "Peace in our Time" was received with great applause by both parties, conservative and labor. Those who condemned "Munich," led by Churchill, were called war-mongers.

Deference of a summit meeting by De Gaulle appears now to be reinforced by President Eisenhower's visit in the interests of the United States, to nine nations either on our side or technically neutral. There are other visits open to the President of the United States that could prove of benefit, rather than a probable defeat by an unsanctioned repeat of the four summit meetings that took place from 1943 to 1955.

After Last Monday You Can Have Climate Changes

Editor, Post-Crescent:

I, for one, would be very willing to exchange our weather for a steady diet of ideal climatic conditions. I certainly would not consider it a tragedy if I never again felt a winter wind like the one that roared into Appleton on Monday; that is, unless I were dead.

The only special feeling I receive during the first snowfall is one of utter despair and desolation. The knowledge that Wisconsin winters last six months adds to my misery.

I can't think of a brighter Christmas than one with sunshine and 80-degree temperatures. Anyone who has ever spent a winter in Flori-

Man Escapes Death on Train Track

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Nov. 20, 1880.

Thursday afternoon the south bound freight on the Chicago and North Western Railway came near running over a man in the First ward.

Just about the arrival time of the train, a man and woman were driving a horse and buggy north near the Jones stove factory, and when about to cross the track, the noise of the coming train freighted the horse who sheered around, went over the cattle guard and west on the track, pell mell, throwing the man out on the track, stunning him somewhat, but just before the train reached him he managed to roll out of the way, but not a moment too soon.

The demoralized horse was finally stopped, the woman escaping altogether, but the prospect at first was that they would both be killed.

Ask $250,000 More For Student Loans

Educators Back Nelson's Request, Change in Administrative Method

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison — In strongest terms, officers of public and private colleges and universities Tuesday endorsed Gov. Nelson's plan for a more generous state student loan fund for needy and worthy young people.

The governor wants an additional appropriation of $250,000 to beef up a loan program that was started at the onset of the depression of the 1930s and that recently has had more applications than it can handle.

The existing program, run by the state welfare department, involves about $500,000 in state money, most of it loaned out. The new program would be separately administered, by a commission headed by the state superintendent of public instruction, and probably on more lenient terms. The commission would set rates of interest and other conditions, but a spokesman for the governor said the charge would be less than the 4 per cent now carried.

Second Try
The bill represents the governor's second try for more state financial assistance to students, one of his strongest interests. An earlier version would have combined loans with grants and was killed when private colleges assailed it as unfair to them and likely to divert prospective students to the tax-supported institutions.

The coordinating committee for higher education, an association of independent and sectarian private schools and colleges, the regents of the state colleges and the University of Wisconsin sent written comments to the legislative finance committee to endorse the loan bill, likely to win approval of the legislative group.

"We could use all of this money in our own system," said E. R. McPhee of the state college system, which has 10 schools. "The need for loan funds is growing daily."

"We've been amazed at the growth in demand for student loans," added Leroy Lueberg, an official of the University of Wisconsin, who recalled that only four years ago the university had used student loan money from grants and endowments. The school had about $538,000 in its own funds available for loans last year, and loaned money in 5,000 separate transactions, he related.

Loyalty Oath
Fred Harrington, academic vice president of the University, told inquiring legislators that the school doesn't like the provisions of the national act providing for federal loans to students that require loyalty oaths.

(Yale and Harvard have declined to participate in the federal program, citing the loyalty oath requirement as the objection. Harvard President Nathan M. Pusey, former president of Lawrence, Wednesday announced the move.)

The University has asked the congress to strike such provisions from the law, he said, remarking that some schools have withdrawn from the federal student aid program because of the loyalty oath required of applicants.

The legislature was told that the welfare department since 1933 has loaned $1,245,000 to needy students, virtually all of whom repaid their obligations. The loss rate has been about 2 per cent, it was reported. The department now has about $500,000 for loans.

Most of it committed. During the quarter of a century of its student credit program it has earned about $143,000 in interest, at a usual rate of 4 per cent.

Lueberg said the typical student asks for a loan of $300 when he scouts for emergency credit on the university campus.

His Subscription's Good Until 1989

McAlester, Okla. — A letter from a farm magazine to Jerry Daniel invited him to take advantage of present subscription rates, because they would soon rise. Daniel isn't worried. His subscription doesn't expire until February, 1989.

Contaminated Water?

Engineer Says Bellaire Ravine Storm Pipes Would Cost $100,000

It will cost about $100,000 to enclose all remaining storm waters of Bellaire park ravine in pipe.

Director of Public Works Duszynski says the work could be done in two $50,000 segments.

The park board has been considering the project. Ald. Douglas Ogilvie in a formal resolution handed the city council has called for some solution.

Park board members are studying whether George F. Peabody estate money, which they were awarded by the probate court, can be used for storm sewer construction.

Duszynski said park board members are inclined to believe the money could not be used in such a fashion.

Neighbors, Worry
There also remains, said Duszynski, a question of how to go about installing the storm sewer across ravine ditches owned by private property owners.

The storm waters in the ravine ditch have been a source of worry to neighbors for several years.

Most of the anxiety stems from a court decision in which the parents of two boys were awarded damages from the city because one boy allegedly died and the other allegedly became ill after drinking sewage-contaminated water in the ravine. Although the city has said that all sewage outlets into the ravine have been removed, the question of whether another boy recently became ill after falling into swollen waters in the ravine remains.

"The finding of 1,000 to 10,000 coliform index" by city health officials on Aug. 27 and 31 "indicates fecal contamination from a warm blooded animal or human," explains Dr. Marvin S. Kagen, city health commissioner.

Possible, Says Doctor
"It is possible that contamination of the water was a causative agent in producing the (latest) boy's illness," adds the doctor. "However, this can not be definitely proved, and there is a difference of medical opinion in regards to the degree of certainty."

Medical opinion was sought by the doctor from the public health committee of the Outagamie County Medical society.

Dr. Kagen has suggested the city engineering department test manholes in the lowest level of the ravine to make sure they are not sur-charging or overflowing at any time.

The suggestion was made despite the finding of Bruce Stevens, district public health engineer, that there are no places where discharge of sewage into the ravine is possible since city sewers were constructed after the incident involving the two boys.

Mortar Board Talks Planned At Lawrence

Four Colleges To Send Girls For Weekend

Delegates from four colleges — Carleton, Beloit, and the Universities of Wisconsin and Minnesota — are expected on the Lawrence college campus this weekend for a section meeting of Mortar Board, national honor society for senior women.

The Lawrence chapter, under the presidency of Marilyn Low, Evanston, Ill., will sponsor a day of speeches and workshop discussions in the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity house. More than 30 women are expected to attend.

Registration and coffee hour will take place from 9 until 10:30 a.m. when each chapter president will have a conference with Miss Charlotte Wollaeger, section director of Mortar Board. Miss Wollaeger, former dean of women at Lawrence, is now dean at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee.

Keynote Address
After welcoming speeches by Miss Low and Miss Mary Morton, Lawrence dean of women, the keynote address will be delivered by Miss Wollaeger.

A luncheon in the dining room of the Phi Gamma Delta house will have Miss Marguerite Schumann, former section director of Mortar Board and Lawrence publicity director, as speaker.

Workshop discussion groups will be held from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m., chairmanned by the Misses Pene Kegel, Wauwatosa; Hannah Gale, Grinnell, Iowa; Marilyn Low and Mrs. Joyce Ward Fox, Deerfield, Ill.

A tea at 3:30 p.m. will be held for visiting delegates, all alumnae of Mortar Board in the area and honorary members. The two undergraduate

Says Farms Lost To Big Business

Sen. Proxmire Backs Gov. Nelson's Plan for Marketing Cooperatives

Sen. William Proxmire Wednesday night blamed the Republican administration for "unjustly low" farm income and claimed that since 1952 the Republicans have channeled a larger and larger share of the income to big business.

Sen. Proxmire

Speaking to a joint meeting of Outagamie and Fond du Lac county Democratic clubs at the Kimberly-Clark clubhouse in Kimberly, Proxmire said the Republican's "unwavering policy of increasing interest rates" since 1952 has upped returns on investment income from $12 billion to $21 billion a year, while farm income has dropped from $15 billion to $10 billion.

"To a great degree Sec. of Agriculture Ezra Benson is responsible for the present farm problem," Proxmire said. "When I asked him for his total farm program in February, 1958, when he appeared before the senate agriculture and farm committee, he went on record saying he would deliver it. He never has."

Senate Seems Reluctant on Appointments

May Mean Trouble in Getting Carley, Nussbaum Approved

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — A seeming reluctance on the part of the Republican state senate to take up a confirmation vote nomination by Gov. Nelson of two of his immediate associates to high state offices may mean trouble.

The governor, last week as the legislature reconvened, sent to the senate the appointment of Joe E. Nussbaum as commissioner of administration and of David Carley as director of the new state department of economic resource development.

The nominations were referred to the senate committee on veterans and governmental affairs. It is headed by Sen. Leo O'Brien of Green Bay, who has yet made no move to hold a hearing on their qualifications, or to report a recommendation to the senate without a hearing.

Common Impression The common impression in the senate is that Carley has less chance of winning approval than has Nussbaum. Although the senate Republican caucus has not yet made a count of its members on the confirmation of the two, there have been reports that some senators want to defer action altogether. This would permit the two appointees to serve with what would amount to a cloud upon their credentials.

Gov. Nelson's other pending choices for state administrative offices apparently face no special difficulties. The Carley-Nussbaum team, however, is of greatest importance to him.

He regards the creation of the agencies the two men head as the most important achievement of his first year in office.

In a message to Democratic organization workers in the current issue of the party's twice a month periodical the governor wrote:

"We have carried out the greatest shakeup in state government since the days of 'Old Bob' LaFollette, including the creation of two new state departments—Administration and Economic Resource Development—that between them pull together all the state activities previously carried out in bits and pieces by no less than 17 scattered agencies."

Making Seed Pins or Chart Can be Interesting Project

BY CAPPY DICK

Some people have their names in electric lights. You can have yours in cabbage seeds and wear it on your lapel.

A young friend of mine recently found a package of cabbage seeds left from last spring's planting. Noticing how round and black they were, he decided that instead of throwing them away, he would see what he could make of them.

With a pocketknife he cut the bowl from a wooden ice cream spoon. He dipped the wide end of a toothpick into a bottle of clear shellac and brushed the initials of a friend on the spoon. The initials (Figure 1) were "J.O.L." While the shellac was wet, he set the spoon in a saucer and, taking the little cabbage seeds in his hand, sprinkled them on the spoon. The seeds that fell upon the shellac stuck there. He removed the others by shaking them off. He discovered it was easy to fill any vacant places in the letters by pushing some seeds into the shellac with another toothpick.

When the shellac had dried, the seeds were firmly cemented in place. My young friend lightly brushed the whole spoon with more shellac to make the entire surface shiny. Then he used model airplane glue to fasten a small safety pin to the back of the wood, completing the pin as in Figure 1. Then he gave it to his friend.

If you have several kinds of vegetable or flower seeds, it will be fun to make a seed identification chart as in Figure 2. Print the name of the vegetable or flower with shellac on heavy cardboard, then apply the seeds of that vegetable or flower to the letters. Such a chart will be an interesting display to take to school.

Seeds are sprinkled on shellac.

There's nothing like a new car—and no new car like a Chevrolet. This is the 1960 Chevrolet Bel Air Sport Coupe!

PEOPLE SAY THESE ARE THE THINGS THEY WANT IN A CAR...and CHEVROLET for '60 comes closest to meeting every need!

Interviews with thousands of car owners across the country show clearly what they like or dislike about their present cars... and what they want most in their 1960 cars. Here's what the people tell us they want... and here's how Chevrolet meets their needs.

"Price, that's what's uppermost in my mind." All Impalas and Bel Airs with V8 engines are lower in price, as are automatic transmissions and many other popular options. Also Biscaynes now include as standard equipment conveniences formerly optional at extra cost.

"And how about operating economy? And resale value?" You keep right on saving after you buy your favorite Chevrolet, too. And Chevrolet's traditionally higher resale value means you'll get more back when you trade.

"Give me plenty of good old-fashioned comfort." There's comfort and then some in this one. Chevy's long on space, for one thing. Once you're under way you'll know just how comfortable Full Coil suspension makes your ride.

"Safety—don't forget safety!" You're surrounded by safety features in a new Chevrolet. You've got big, sturdy brakes underfoot, for example, that last longer. As it has been for years, safety is standard equipment in Chevy.

"Let's keep upkeep down, too." More than ever, Chevrolet for 1960 is built to stay on the road and out of the repair shop. You can tell that from its hushed, unruffled way of going, from the solid thump of Chevy's big doors. Of course, if you should need service, you're always near efficient, economical attention to your needs.

"I want a car that will stand up to the driving I do." For proof of Chevy's staying power, just spend a minute watching the nearest road. You'll see more Chevrolets traveling on it than any other car—evidence-on-wheels of Chevrolet durability. (And that higher resale value attests to it, too.)

"Me for a sweet-handling car." Handling's always been Chevy's forte, and 1960 is no exception. But really, this kind of lightness and precision you've simply got to enjoy for yourself.

"... a car you can look at and be smug about buying it." Chevrolet for 1960 leaves the low-price field far behind when it comes to fashion. But you're the best judge of styling, so take a good close look at Chevrolet. We warn you: you're about to fall in love.

"And performance. Let's have a hot one!" Chevy's spirited V8's have set the standard for ultra-efficient power in American-built passenger car engines. You've got a long list of performance-minded transmissions to pick from, too.

So that, friends, is what you told us you want. We think it can be summed up rather well in just one word: value. Get the full story of Chevy's brand of value soon at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Nearest to perfection a low-priced car ever came... CHEVROLET

Stuffings Star In Holiday Meals

BY LILLIAN MACKESY

Post-Crescent Food Editor

As the Thanksgiving season approaches, homemakers' thoughts turn to menus for the big day . . . some keep to traditional foods served at family gatherings year in and year out . . . others prefer new ideas . . . new recipes to make each year's feast a bit different.

But whether the holiday meat is turkey, chicken, duck or pork . . . there's always the all important stuffing to make it a real Thanksgiving dinner. . . This may be the year when the clan won't gather round the festive board . . . when one of the smaller turkeys or a different type of meat may be in order.

Now that turkeys in all weights are in plentiful supply, two small birds . . . each stuffed with a different dressing . . . can make even a traditional dinner different and a bit more exciting.

Market men say that the gobble population is at an all time high and that more Americans will eat more turkey meat in the 1959 holiday season than ever before.

Whatever the choice, here are some wonderful dressings for both Thanksgiving bird and other meat suggestions for a bountiful Thanksgiving meal.

Roast Turkey With Oyster-Bread Stuffing
5 to 7-pound ready-to-cook turkey
1 cup butter
1 cup chopped onion
5 cups toasted 1-inch bread cubes
1 cup drained oysters
1 cup oyster liquid
3 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon sage
1 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon celery salt

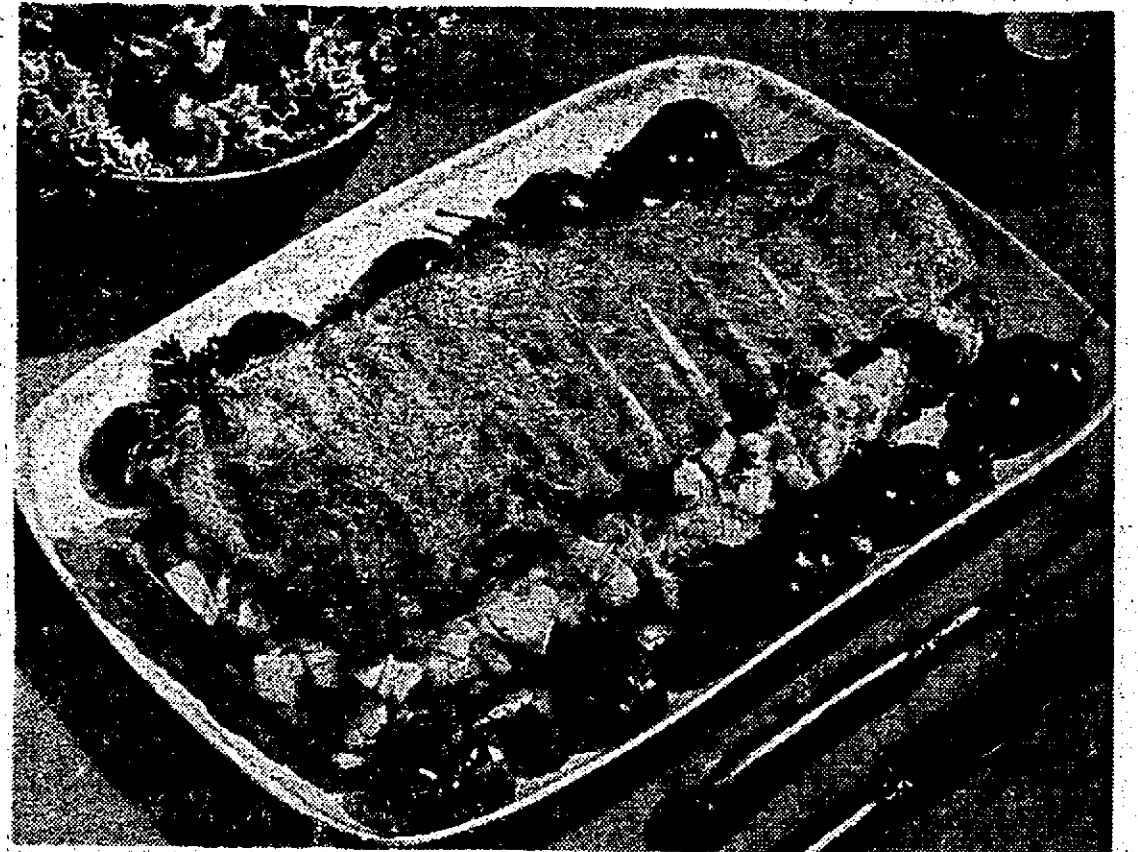

Rinse turkey in cold water and pat dry. Refrigerate while stuffing is prepared. Melt butter in skillet; add onion and saute until tender. Pour over toasted bread cubes, oysters, parsley, salt, sage, paprika and celery salt. Stuff, truss and roast turkey uncovered in a preheated, 325-degree oven for three hours or longer, until stuffing temperature reaches 165 degrees and meat is done. Recipe makes about five cups of dressing.

Roast Turkey With Tutti-Frutti Stuffing
9 lb. ready-to-cook turkey
3 quarts (1-inch) soft bread cubes
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon mace
1 1/2 cups diced glace fruit mixture
2/3 cup melted butter
2/3 cup orange juice
Combine soft bread cubes, salt, mace and fruit mixture. Blend in butter and orange juice. Stuff prepared turkey, truss and roast as in above recipe. This recipe makes about two and one-half quarts of stuffing.

Roast Duck With Orange-Coconut Stuffing
1 (4-or 5-pound) ready-to-cook duck
1 1/2 quarts (1-inch) soft bread cubes
2/3 cup diced orange sections
1/3 cup flaked coconut
2 teaspoons grated orange rind
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons melted butter
Rinse cleaned duck in cold water and pat dry. Combine

Down Through the Years, roast duck has gained international favor by teaming with an orange garnish or orange-flavored accompaniment. This Roast Duck with Orange-Coconut Stuffing is an exotic entree that presents the favorite fruit in a simple yet elegant stuffing.

Here is a Menu sparkler, Sauerkraut-Apple Stuffed Spareribs, which the home-maker can serve to her family between the usual holiday fare of turkey and its trimmings. Garnished with pickled crabapples and parsley, the platter comes to the table in the season's favorite color scheme of red and green.

This Brace of Thanksgiving turkeys is garnished with double rings of pineapple, small clusters of glazed kumquats and glossy green leaves of a gardenia plant. Each bird has a different stuffing—plain dressing in one for the young fry and a gourmet variety in the other. If all the family likes special dressings, Tutti-Frutti Bread Stuffing could go in one turkey and Oyster Stuffing in the other.

Bread Stuffing Shares the limelight with a baked ham slice in these Cheese and Apple Stuffing Puffs. To make: toast one and one-half quarts of soft bread cubes; add one-fourth cup melted butter and mixture of one egg beaten with three-fourths cup water, one-fourth teaspoon salt and one cup grated sharp processed cheese. Shape into balls, using one-half cup stuffing mixture for each ball. Cut red apple, peel and all, into wedges. Insert apple wedges into stuffing balls, pointed end up and skin side out. Bake on greased baking sheet in 350-degree oven 20 to 25 minutes or until apples are tender.

Here are Preparation, Roasting Suggestions for Holiday Birds

There are tricks to every trade, including the preparation and roasting of the Thanksgiving bird.

Here are a few ideas on how to stuff and truss that turkey gobble, chicken, goose or duck and a few rules to follow on roasting so the bird comes to the table plumply delicious and golden-brown done.

The first step is to rinse the bird thoroughly in cold water, then pat dry. Rub the neck and body cavities lightly with salt. Refrigerate while stuffing is being prepared.

To estimate amount of stuffing, allow three-fourths cup of stuffing per pound of poultry, dressed weight, or one cup per pound for his ready-to-cook weight. Birds weighing 20 pounds require the maximum amount of stuffing since heavier birds do not have larger cavities, but added weight in meat. Extra stuffing may be baked separately during the last hour the bird is roasting. Lightly spoon stuffing into neck and body cavities. Use only enough so that the bird will look plump when served.

Fold neck skin over and skewer it to the back. For turkeys, geese and chickens, twist wing tips and bring onto back. Skewer duck wings on either side of the breast.

Insert skewers through the skin across cavity opening. Lace with cord to close. The drumsticks are tied together. For turkeys and chicken, tie drumsticks to tail. Insert thermometer through the membrane between first and second ribs so that the bulb reaches center of the stuffing.

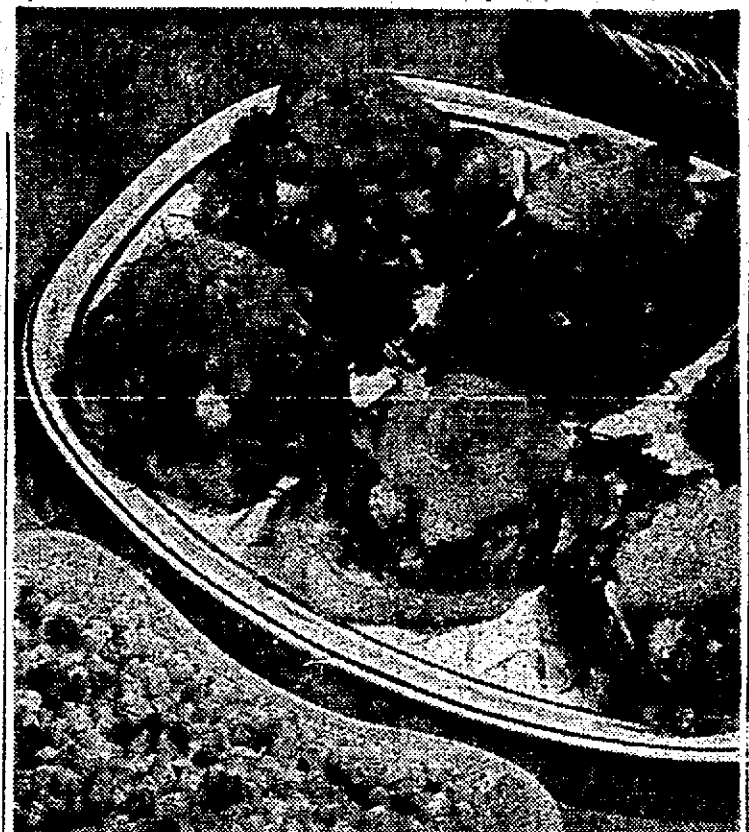

Then place the bird, breast side down on a rack in a pan. Brush turkey, chicken, capon and game birds with melted fat. Roast uncovered in a preheated 325-degree oven until about two-thirds done.

Turn breast side up, brush with melted fat and continue roasting until the thermometer reaches 165 degrees.

Things to remember are these: spoon off extra fat as it accumulates and never sear the bird nor add water. Allow a 20-minute rest period before serving to assure the highest stuffing temperature and carving ease.

Make other tests for doneness to be sure. Press the fleshy part of the drumstick between fingers, protecting fingers with cloth or paper. Meat should be very soft to the touch. Also, if the drumstick moves easily up and down, the bird is done.

For a "Little Thanksgiving" for a small family when the traditional large fowl means days of leftovers, try a festive meal centering around Baked Pork Chops with Stuffing. The usual touches of the harvest meal can be accomplished in the vegetables, fruits, relishes, mince and pumpkin pies.

Sauce, Relish Supply Dinner Trimmings

Relishes and garnishes long have been a part of holiday meals. Here are several old-time favorites and some new recipes to give traditional "trimmings" to next Thursday's meal.

Cherry Meat Sauce
2 cups canned red tart cherries
(1 cup sugar if water packed cherries used)
1 cup cherry juice
1 1/2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 teaspoon allspice
1 teaspoon ground cloves
Red food coloring as needed
Combine all ingredients in a small sauce pan; cook until thickened, stirring constantly. This spicy sauce may be served in individual dishes or spooned over the meat.

Gingered Relish
Add one-half cup slivered candied ginger to two and one-half cups apple slices, chopped. Chill. Makes two cups.

Orange-Apple Relish
2 cups apple sauce
1 cup chopped oranges
2 teaspoons grated orange rind
2 tablespoons sugar
2/3 cups toasted almonds
Combine apple sauce, chopped oranges, orange rind, sugar and almonds; mix well. Chill. Makes about three cups.

Apple Cinnamon Relish
2 cups apple sauce
1 cup diced celery
1 cup seedless raisins
1 cup red cinnamon candies
Combine apple sauce, celery, raisins and candies; chill in refrigerator several hours. Stir until candies are completely dissolved and mixed through apple sauce.
Turkey Special
1 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon curry powder

2 1/2 cups apple slices
1 cup seedless raisins
1 cup apple juice
1 cup salted almonds
Combine brown sugar and curry powder; add apple slices, raisins and apple juice. Simmer until apple slices are transparent, about 10 minutes. Chill just before serving. Add almonds. Makes about four cups.

Woman Regrets Past Mistakes; Offers Advice to Ann's Readers

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: I often read letters in your column from people who want to help others avoid a tragedy which they have suffered. This is the purpose of my letter.

Tell young girls who have babies out of wedlock if they can't or don't want to keep their child, to let an agency find suitable parents. Never give a child to relatives or friends.

I made the horrible mistake of giving my out-of-wedlock son to my middle-aged cousin and her husband. They couldn't have a family of their own and begged me to give them my baby. I agreed to leave town. They made all the arrangements, paid the bills and we made a pact not to tell anyone their baby was mine. They told people it came from "a home."

I've watched my son grow up into a selfish, worthless person right before my eyes. They gave him everything his heart desired and now he's a spoiled smart-aleck. It kills me when I run into him which is often.

Please print this letter. If it saves just one person from making this same mistake it will be worth the heartache it took to put the facts on paper. — Childless Mother

DEAR ANN: Why should a girl in high school have to stay home every night except Friday and Saturday? My parents both work and my sister and I have orders that when we come from school we are to clean the house, fix dinner and do our homework. We can't go out on dates.

I'm going steady with the nicest boy I've ever known. He's out of school and is getting fed up because I can't go out with him during the week.

Buck says he'd never break up with me because of this, but I'm afraid he'll find another girl for his week-day dates and I'll lose out. Is this fair? — Underprivileged

Dear Underprivileged: A high school girl should be at home during the week. Friday and Saturday night dates and an afternoon Sunday date is enough socializing for any high school girl.

It isn't possible to do justice to your school work if you date during the week. Teenagers who date on school nights are always dead tired. They look it, and so do their grades.

And P.S. the way to keep a boy interested is to give him less of your company than he wants. Get smart.

DEAR ANN: My girl friend's father is 77. I'm 33, unmarried, and think he's a darling but — whenever I go to their home, he gets fresh and pinches me.

This man has been a widower for 13 years. I know he's lonesome, but I resent his actions all the same. He never gets out of line when his daughter is present, but the moment she goes to the kitchen he's right there.

Am I being stuffy? I wouldn't dream of telling her why I'd rather have her come to my home than go to hers but I hate to go over there. Please give me your opinion. — B Fuddled

Dear B: Your person belongs to you, and you should not have to put up with pinches from anyone — even if he is 77.

Of course you shouldn't mention this to your friend.

Go over there only when you cannot avoid it. When your friend goes into the kitchen, go with her. Outsmart the old pincher and don't be alone with him for even a minute.

Are you going steady? Making marriage plans? If so, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Before You Marry — Is It Love Or Sex?", enclosing 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

A Lovelier You By Mary Sue Miller

Fascinating Eyes

A good deal of stress is being given the use of eye cosmetics, and rightly so. Skillfully applied, cosmetics do much to enhance the fascination of a woman's eyes.

But where the eyes are concerned, there is need for emphasis of quite another sort. More thought should be given to eye care and health. What good make-up, if the eyes are dull, bleary or strained? Attention is what keeps them clear and sparkling.

A minimal program follows, and its measures help to safeguard sight as well as looks: Have your vision checked yearly, whether or not you wear glasses.

If you need glasses, wear them. There is no health or beauty in eyes that squint to see. Handsome frames or contact lenses actually possess cosmetic virtues.

See to it your diet contains large amounts of Vitamin A and riboflavin.

Get plenty of sleep and fresh air.

When reading, hold your head erect; read and work under a good light.

Avoid long stretches of close work; look away every half hour.

Should your eyes become fatigued, bathe them with cool water or apply witch hazel compresses.

Lawyers' Wives Meet To Plan New Group

A new group which will be known as Lawyers' Wives of Outagamie county met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Walter Brummund, 310 River drive, to set up a constitution and schedule for the club.

The state president, Mrs. John A. Kluwin, Milwaukee, and the state membership co-chairman, Mrs. Charles Nolan, Oshkosh, were present to assist with plans.

Officers pro tempore who were appointed are Mrs. Brummund, chairman; Mrs. Fred Froehlich, secretary; Everett Stecker, treasurer; Mrs. A. Gerard Patterson, nominating committee chairman; Mrs. Donald Herring, constitution and by-laws chairman; Mrs. Pat Coughlin, social chairman.

Make Plans for Retardation Day

The Outagamie Citizens for Retarded Children, Inc., met Tuesday evening in Little Chute in Dr. Robert Scherzinger's office. Donations were presented by the Little Chute Kiwanis club and the Knights of Columbus ladies.

Final plans were made for Retardation day, Dec. 1, at which time scout troops from Badger school will distribute cans and posters in the downtown areas.

Dr. Ray Breitbach, Kaukauna, was named to the board of directors for the proposed school for the retarded.

Three Students Become Members Of Air Society

Three Lawrence college men from the Fox Cities area were recently elected to the Arnold Air society, honorary organization of outstanding members of the advanced AFROTC program on the campus. They are Ronald Simon, 224 S. Christine street; Joseph Lamers, 205 W. Division street; Kaukauna, and Donald Tyriver, route 2, Neenah.

Her Promise Kept Twice, Wife Asks for Breather

Atlanta — In 1948 Laura Peters, now Mrs. Donald Pierce, promised to see her fiancé through college. She did — twice.

Then, after two college degrees, four children and many miles of travel, she asked for a breather.

Pierce, an army captain, took a 1959 law degree from Emory university while with the Third Army at Ft. McPherson, Atlanta. In 1950 he graduated in journalism from the University of Maryland where as a sophomore he met his wife, from Port Matilda, Md.

Soon after his law degree, the 6-foot-4 captain, a native of Laurel, Md., obtained a transfer from the infantry to the judge advocate's corps, the legal branch of the service. He was all set for another degree, under army sponsorship, but after a brief rest, "I want a breather," pleaded Mrs. Pierce. Her husband gave in to the extent of getting his study for a master's degree in law at the University of Virginia put off — until November.

Pierce did his advanced study in spare time from army service at many places. The birthplaces of his and Mrs. Pierce's four children are a good index of their far-flung travels.

Donna, 9, was born in Maryland; Leslie, 8, at Ft. Knox, Ky.; Stephen, 5, in Tokyo; and Elizabeth, 3, in Atlanta.

Pierce prefaced his law degree work with a correspondence course from the University of Wisconsin while he was in Japan.

Miss Elizabeth Abel

Tell Troth of Elizabeth Abel, Menasha Man

Mr. and Mrs. Burnell Abel, 1907 N. MacDonald street, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth, to William Vander Heyden. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Vander Heyden, 312 Chute street, Menasha.

Miss Abel is a graduate of St. Mary Catholic High school, Menasha, and Marquette university, where she affiliated with Kappa Beta Gamma sorority. She is employed at St. Elizabeth hospital.

Her fiancé is also a graduate of St. Mary Catholic High school and Marquette university. Vander Heyden was a member of Sigma Phi Delta, Tau Beta Pi and Eta Kappa

Pair Weds In Double Ring Rite

The Rev. N. L. Gross officiated at the double ring ceremony at 10 a. m. today at St. Edward Catholic church, Mackville, uniting Miss Ida Mac Spaulding, 820 N. Division street, and Richard F. Wittman. Parents of the young couple are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Spaulding, route 1; Shiocton, and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Wittman, route 2, Appleton.

Mrs. Walter Steffens, Appleton, attended her sister as matron of honor. Mrs. Clarence Wittman, Appleton, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, was bridal aid.

Clarence Wittman, Appleton, was his brother's best man and Walter Steffens, Appleton, brother-in-law of the bride, was a groomsman. Lester Spaulding, Loyal, brother of the bride, and Marvin Griesbach, Appleton, ushered.

A noon dinner was served at Babe Van Camp's club and a supper, reception and dance will be held this evening at Van Abel's restaurant.

After a wedding trip to southern Wisconsin, the newlyweds will reside at 820 N. Division street.

Mrs. Wittman is employed at Tuttle Press company and her husband is working at the Kimberly-Clark corporation, Kimberly.

Males Criticize New U.S. Women for Competitive Spirit, Lost Femininity

BY HAL BOYLE
New York — What is the basic thing wrong with most American women?
There has been a rash of criticism about the hen-pecked U. S. male lately, but nobody has been putting the U.S. woman under the microscope for flaws.
Isn't it about time someone performed this neglected public service?
There are certain traditional objections that are always voiced when the subject of what is wrong with women comes up. They can be summarized:
1. When you first marry a woman she glows like the morning sun, but in time she kind of gets to look like a rain-stained old copper roof.
2. A woman talks endlessly but rarely says what she really knows—or really knows what she says, so how can a man ever understand her? A man can understand only things that make sense.
3. In keeping appointments a woman always arrives by the calendar instead of the clock.
4. A woman is supposed to Volunteer Campaign Fund workers are making preparations for the 1959 municipal dystrophy drive Nov. 21 and 22. The drive in Outagamie county is part of a nationwide effort, and a door-to-door campaign will be held. Preparing envelopes for the drive are, seated, left to right, Mrs. Edwin Schmidt, Mrs. James Wyngard, Mrs. Dee Schnell, and standing, Mrs. Eleanor Mader, superintendent of workers; Fire Chief Paul Neumann, chairman of the Outagamie county drive; and Roger LaBerge, publicity chairman.

by the etiquette of romantic chivalry.
As an elderly gentleman observed a bit bitterly:
"A woman goes into an office and takes a man's job away from him; then if they ride down in the same elevator, she expects him to take off his hat to her before he goes out to look for another job."
Are U. S. women becoming racketeers in girldes when it comes to the fields of ordinary courtesy? Do they take for granted the polite favors and small human kindnesses men still like to extend to them out of old habit?
Lost Manners
Many men think so. Many men think women have lost their manners and charm of gentility, and are more arrogant than appreciative for the little gestures of kindness men still like to extend them.
If you step aside to let a woman get in a bus instead of you, or yield your place in line to let her take the first cab, she often rewards you with a sovereign indifference or the child disdain she would accord a tramp. How rare indeed is becoming the woman who can accept such tributes to her sex gracefully, or bothers to repay them with the acknowledgement of a smile or a "thank you."
More and more men are getting weary of the average woman's increasing bad manners in public. More and more men are secretly harboring a resentful desire to kick in the knee every woman who expects them to push her way through the revolving doors of this world.
The basic think wrong with American women is they no longer act like women. They look feminine, talk masculine — and act beastly.
Maybe the country needs a national kick-a-woman-in-the-knee day to put the whole question of modern chivalry back on a sounder footing for all.

Challenging Wife

"... I think I know my husband well after forty plus years of marriage and it's all good. I challenge you!"

Your husband's writing indicates a brilliant mind, assertive nature and very strong emotions. He needs much affection yet a wife as intense as himself might antagonize and disturb him.

He is a man of action who wastes no time beating around the bush. For this reason he may even be abrupt, but he is highly sensitive. Even when he doesn't consider the feelings of others he expects them to consider his!

When offended, he never forgets.

You are the perfect counterpart. Though your mind is quick, your writing also reveals a responsive, gentle, protective nature. You are modest with a good sense of humor. The needs of others concerns you more than your own needs.

If you were a completely placid angel your husband might find you frustrating despite all your virtues, but your t-bars frequently a tall high. You can be overed to quick anger but it's over in a second. You hold no resentments.

An ideal marriage needs similarities of certain kinds, yet also counter-balancing. Here both writers are alike in essential ways such as quick intelligence and spontaneity of feeling. They differ in strength of will and desire for leadership. The wife is submissive, the husband dominant. They also differ in disposition. The husband is high-strung, moody. The wife is calm and well-stabilized.

Undoubtedly you did not write 40 years ago exactly as you do today. Our writings develop as we do. These two personalities may even at one time found it difficult to merge but over the years true compatibility has been achieved.

Miss Stafford welcomes letters from her readers. They cannot be acknowledged but the most interesting ones will be used in her column.

Trip Above Criticism In This Case

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a widow in the late sixties and live alone. My children are married and live out of the state. I am very lonely. About a year ago I met a man who lives in this same apartment house. He is a widower and approximately my same age. He has been very kind to me, taking me for rides, to dinner, to the movies. My life would be desolate without him. Noting of us want to marry again because of family reasons. This man would like to go to the coast and has asked me to go with him. I would share expenses and we would register at hotel and motels separately, en route. Would such a trip be proper?

Answer: In view of your ages, I do not see how anyone could criticize you for taking the trip you describe.

Christmas Cards

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it necessary to send Christmas cards to all those who send us cards? Every year we receive cards from quite a few people whom we haven't seen in years. In the past we have always sent cards in return. This year I would like to cut down on my Christmas list and thought of eliminating these names. My husband does not feel that it is the right thing to do and says that as long as these people continue to send us cards we are obliged to send them cards in return. I would like your views on the matter.

Answer: As long as you continue returning these people's Christmas cards, they will probably continue sending them to you. My advice is to simply stop sending your cards and thus put an end to this exchange.

Walk Toward Door

Dear Mrs. Post: When I am having dinner in a restaurant with a man friend, where am I supposed to stand to wait for him while he pays the check?

Answer: You just walk slowly toward the door and wait, exactly as you do when he goes to the box office to buy theater tickets.

Hilbert Class Visits College On Annual Trip

Hilbert — Lakeland college was the first stop when the Hilbert High school home economics class went on its annual trip.

They were given a guided tour through the college and the Welder house at Kohler. After lunch at Sheboygan they visited Kohler High school.

Next on the agenda was a visit to the model home at Kohler. This was an older home which the Kohler Women's club had completely redecorated. Mrs. Elva Jaeger, home economics instructor was in charge of the trip.

Says Teamwork Big Discovery Of Century

Du Pont Man Calls
Big Corporations
Vital to Progress

"The creative team of modern industry, operating in an atmosphere of freedom, is the greatest discovery of this century," Wyatt F. DeLoache, midwest regional manager of the Du Pont company's public relations extension division, told members of the American chemical society at Riverview Country club Tuesday.

He said the surge of progress in the 20th century didn't just happen. "It was brought about by gifted, dedicated, industrious people. But every age has had people like that." He said the new element providing the surge is "the economic strength of today's large corporations which enables them to bring together teams of scientists, inventors and technologists, place them in an environment of creativity, free them from economic want, and place at their disposal every device to bring their projects to fruition."

Need Big Investment
He said the benefits of this atmosphere are enjoyed not only by the scientist or corporation, but by the nation as a whole.

The lone wolf inventor does not have the necessary facilities at his disposal. "Each new discovery requires enormous amounts of effort, time, and money to determine what it might be good for," he said. DeLoache used synthetic fibers as an example of the time and money that goes into development of a new product.

He said the fibers are examples of "the tasks only the big units in our industrial system can undertake. Where bigness is needed, but bigness is accepted a penalty is placed upon all of us."

Dr. Knight Sets Trips

Conferences, Talks
Take Him Twice
To Washington

Two trips to Washington, D. C. along with shorter journeys to educational institutions in the midwest will occupy President Douglas M. Knight of Lawrence college in the next few weeks.

This week he was at Ann Arbor, Mich., to deliver a speech at the thirteenth annual conference on higher education sponsored by the University of Michigan's committee on college relations. He spoke Tuesday evening on "Beyond Excellence." Theme of the conference was "The Pursuit of Excellence."

Nov. 23 will find him in Milwaukee for the semi-annual meeting of the Lawrence board of trustees, then to Washington, D. C. for a meeting of the National Commission on Accrediting, which coordinates the activities of all accrediting agencies in the United States. Dr. Knight represents the Association of American Colleges on the commission. National vice president is John S. Millis, former dean at Lawrence and now president of Western Reserve university.

Chicago Meeting
A meeting of the board of directors of the Associated Colleges of the Midwest is scheduled for Chicago on Nov. 25, which President Knight will attend.

Dec. 3 and 4 he will be in Washington for the winter meeting of the problems and policies committee of the American Council on Education.

A speech at Macalester college will take the Lawrence president to St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 8 and 9. He will speak on the Woodrow Wilson phrase "Education in the Nation's Service," part of a nation-wide series of discussions sponsored by the Woodrow Wilson foundation.

Acheson Accuses Ike Of Appeasing Russia

Washington — Former Sec. of State Dean Acheson Wednesday accused the Eisenhower administration of blundering toward appeasement of Russia on the future of divided Berlin.

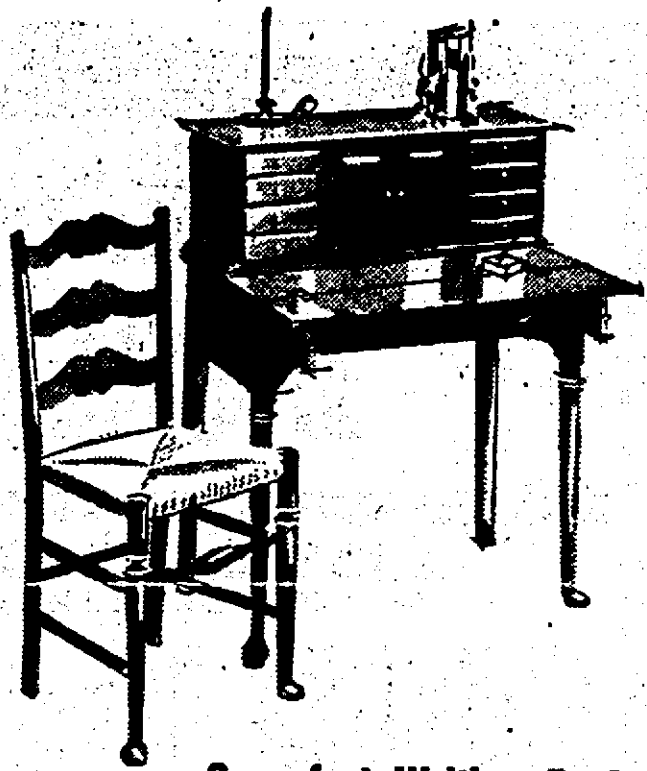

"The plain truth is that to negotiate about Berlin with the intention of coming to terms," Acheson said, "is only a polite misleading phrase for a retreat and an acceptance of Russian terms."

"It is a device for cloaking defeat with the appearance of consent."

Acheson's address was given at a meeting of representatives of the 15 Atlantic pact parliaments. He helped set up the anti-communist NATO alliance signed 10 years ago.

The west should stand firm in Berlin despite Soviet ultimatums and threats, he said.

Cranberry-Growing Bennetts Sit, Wait Amid Uncontaminated Crop

By CHARLES HOUSE

Wisconsin Rapids — On the marshy flatlands near this heartland of Wisconsin's cranberry industry, the Bennett family sits in wait to see what the future may hold for them—feast or famine.

In their warehouse is a sight strange to them in this season — 40,000 crates of bright, roseate fruit known scientifically as vacuum oxycoccos and nationally known as cranberries. The berries thus stored are unsold even though uncontaminated by aminotriazole.

Bradley, 36, and Irving (Chuck) Bennett, 34, are great-grandsons of Asa C. Bennett who came in 1880 to pioneer in cranberry growing on this land which is suitable for the production of nothing else. The elder Bennett dug his drainage ditches by hand and carved an acceptable cranberry marsh from the poorly drained bottomlands of an ancient glacial lake. He raised and cultivated the native berries known to the Indians for countless centuries.

No Activity

The farm passed from Asa to Arthur to Ermon and finally to the two Bennett brothers who, in the busiest season of the year, can only sit and wait whatever will happen.

At this time of year, 30 employees usually are busily sorting, grading and packing tons of the pretty berries.

65 Producing Acres

The 85 acres of uncompromising marshland of the Bennett farm has 65 producing acres, for each summer and spring the Bennetts have ripped out the old native berries cultivated so long ago by their great-grandfather, and they plant the new, plump hybrids developed locally. It takes four years for the new plants to produce berries.

The nine conveyor belts which carry the big, juicy fruit to sorters and packers are silent, unmoving.

"The word of the day is 'wait.' There is nothing else to be done."

Brad, a hearty hunter, decided not to buy the new deer rifle he had his eye on for months. Next week will see the delivery of a new digger which the Bennetts have contracted to buy for the improvement of their marshes. Price: $9,000.

"The insurance premiums are coming due," said Mrs. Brad Bennett. "We had started to remodel our home because of the twins."

Girl twins, Jean and Kay, have been sharing a common bedroom with Russell. Another bedroom, plus added space is needed.

"We may have to curtail the remodeling," she said.

1,600 Barrels

It costs the Bennetts $6 to raise a barrel of cranberries. The selling price of recent years is about $10.50 per barrel. Today 1,600 barrels remain in the heated warehouse—a cost of more than $16,000 considering the cost of heating, the spoilage, the waste.

Some $50,000 worth of farm machinery stands idle as it usually does at this time of the year on the Bennett marsh, but will it be fully employed next year?

"I can only say that next year's crop will certainly be curtailed if the berries we have now are not marketed," said Brad. "Our permanent employees certainly will not be with us next year. We will not be able to produce as much next year."

Great Fear

A great, lingering fear has struck at this average family of cranberry growers. Cranberries are not just asked for; they have to be sold each year and sold hard and well. But there is a thought that whether or not Wisconsin berries are given a clean bill of health, people will simply not buy them this year — or perhaps next. The thought of dread cancer — far-fetched or not — is enough to put fear in the minds of many. The thought is enough.

The herbicide aminotriazole, and the effects of a statement by Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of health, education and welfare, is certain to strike a nearly mortal blow at Wisconsin's $10,000,000 crop which this year is a bumper one — 430,000 barrels.

The Bennetts, however, did not use the herbicide because, like other growers, they were advised not to.

Chuck indicated hope that "the whole mess can be cleared up" before the mar-

Village Scouts To Sell Wreaths For Christmas

Little Chute — Members of Boy Scout Troop 51 will tour the village Saturday taking orders for the annual Christmas wreath sale.

Boys will accept orders for any size wreath and deliver the finished product sometime after Dec. 1. Troop committeemen will visit business places for the sale.

Proceeds will be used to help defray expenses for various troop projects and programs. Joseph Van Thiel will be in charge of committeemen soliciting while Donald Siebers, Scoutmaster, will have charge of the boys.

ket is completely gone for this year.

"Flemming knew about the herbicide and its effects on rats as long ago as May," he said. "Why didn't he say something then when growers could do something about it? But he has announced this thing at the absolute instant that it could do the growers most harm. And we will suffer, too, although we have used none of the suspected herbicide."

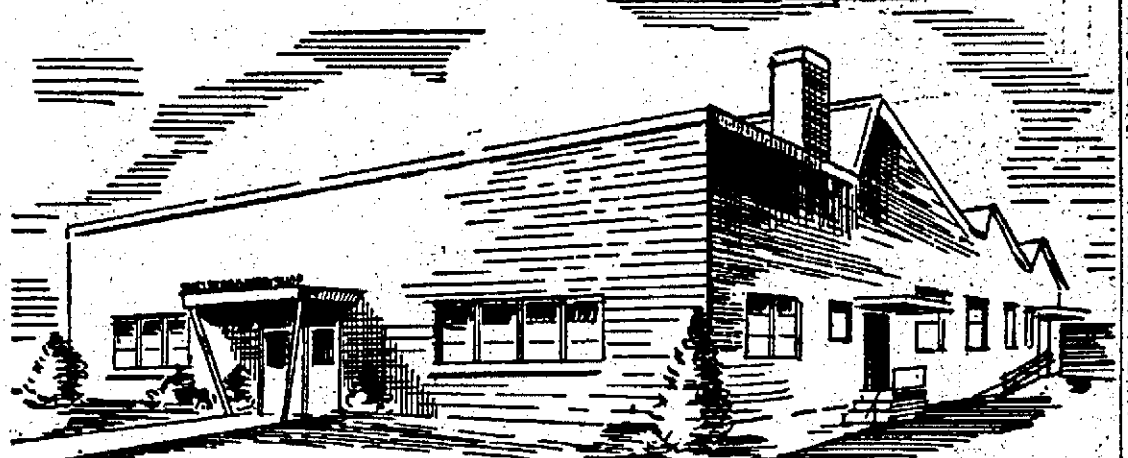

20-Year Setback

Chuck and his wife, Jane, have four children — Debbie, 8; Michael, 7; Rebecca, 5; and Randall, 4.

"The announcement will set us back at least 20 years," he said. "Our berries should have been packaged and ready for the market two weeks ago. Look at those crates now!"

The Bennetts belong to a cooperative, Ocean Spray Cranberries association, Inc., a group which handles the sale and distribution of 115 of the 150 cranberry growers in Wisconsin. To date Ocean Spray has sold only 3,000 barrels of the Bennett crop.

After a year of promise and hard down-to-dark toil in the boggy marshes of their farm, the toughest job for the Bennetts is this: Wait.

The New Fox Valley Sheltered workshop is under construction on S. Perkins street. The groundbreaking ceremonies were held Monday. The $50,000 building is 62 by 150 feet and includes offices, lounges and a first aid room in the front of the building, with the main workshop area and a shipping room at the rear. It is scheduled to be completed March 1. There are 17 workers at the present workshop at 121 N. Douglas street and a waiting list of 12 more.

Buy-America Clause Attached to Small Part of Aid Funds

New York — Sec. of State Christian A. Herter has disclosed an administration decision to attach a Buy-America provision to another small part of foreign aid funds. But at the same time he made clear the administration has rejected a treasury-led drive to insist that all foreign aid money be spent on the American market. Herter talked about what amounts to a backstage state-treasury fight in a speech before the national foreign trade council. His words demonstrated that the state department has given a little ground in the argument but that the overwhelming part of the $3,200,000,000 foreign aid program will be free of any Buy-America restrictions. The newest shift, however, will tie some 20 to 30 million dollars to such a provision. These will be funds advanced by the international cooperation administration, the government's foreign aid agency, to countries wanting aid for specific development projects.

Businessmen Set Turkey Program

Manawa — The Manawa Businessmen's association is sponsoring a "Turkey Day" program this year, with 18 turkeys to be given away before the Thanksgiving holiday. A free movie will be shown at the Manawa theatre at 1:30 p.m. Saturday for all children in the Manawa area. Winners of the turkeys will be announced after the show. Members of the committee in charge of arrangements for the affair are Tom Hutchison, Simon Nemschoff, Bill Trantow, Frank Fura and F. J. Gehrk.

Big Retirement

Sacramento, Calif. — It was quite a day for Sgt. Leonard H. Wheeler of Mather air force base. He retired after 25 years service, got married and celebrated his 43rd birthday.

four is a non-white against one out of 10 in the whole labor force. (5) The ratio of jobless among the unskilled is even worse. One out of 10 among the unemployed is an unskilled worker. (6) Unemployment is still heaviest in the long-depressed industries and the long-distressed areas of our nation. The problem of the distressed areas was not solved by the upswing before the steel strike and it won't be solved by the new advance. It's scarcely a story to make you smug. (Copyright, 1959)

bein, manpower chief of the labor dept., puts it, "Peel away the surface, look at the hard and soft cores of the situation."

(1) The jump in joblessness in these weeks has occurred almost entirely among men—the major breadwinners of the family.

The steel strike's impact was concentrated in heavy industries in which men are the bulk of the workers. While the rate of unemployment among women has remained static since summer, the rate among men has soared.

Long-Term Jobless

(2) The number of long-term for 15 weeks or longer—is remaining high at over 725,000. In Wolfbein's words, "When over three-quarter million workers are jobless for this long a period, something basic is involved." It's scarcely a total to be shrugged off.

(3) The number jobless for more than 26 weeks—over half a year—is staying high, too. The total is almost 400,000. And while this is half the number of very long-term unemployed a year ago, it is twice the number of those unemployed for this long a time in the fall of 1957.

Non-White Jobless

(4) The ratio of very long-term unemployed among non-whites is far above the national average. Of those unemployed for more than 26 weeks, one out of 500,000. We know layoffs in the auto industry were mounting even after the steel mills were reopened. We know joblessness in mid-October was officially put at 3,300,000 and that unemployment usually rises 9 to 10 per cent to mid-November.

We can make a fairly accurate forecast that joblessness in the next official report will be up and the rate of unemployment, will be at the year's peak. It is not a pretty pattern. The agonizing duration of the steel strike distorted the entire economic picture, interrupted the general recovery underway since April, 1958, clashed into the fall expansion in production, forced auto output almost to a standstill at a time it should have been soaring, laid the basis for this unemployment report.

Surface Peeled But just predicting the overall statistics blaming the steel strike for them and saying they're not pretty hardly tells the whole tale. Let's, as Dr. Seymour Wolf-

Jobless Figures At New '59 High

BY SYLVIA PORTER

Today there are about 3,600,000 men and women in our land able and willing to work who are jobless.

This means that close to 7 per cent of our labor force is unemployed, and this rate of unemployment — adjusted for seasonal factors — is the highest of 1959 to date.

It'll be another three weeks or so before these figures hit the headlines. The official report on the number and percentage of unemployed as of mid-November won't be released by the department of labor until early December.

Electrical Safety Was Stressed at Wednesday night's meeting of the Twin City Industrial Safety Council. Seated are, left to right, Walter Lindemann, Janesville, Wisconsin council of safety president, and Don Fitzpatrick of Allen-Bradley company, Milwaukee, speaker. Standing are John H. Ebben of Kimberly-clark corporation, Otto Nabbefeldt of Menasha Wooden Ware and Erwin J. Vogel of Marathon division, head electrical engineers for their companies.

People Cause Trouble

Machines Must be Fool-Proof, Engineer Tells Safety Council

Menasha — "Today it isn't is that as you develop more machines you are creating jobs to maintain them."

"But we can build all sorts of safety devices into a machine and it only takes one man to goof it up."

Static electricity is one of the chief hazards of industry, he said, hence the most dangerous thing in the plant is anything electric filled with oil.

Walter Lindemann, president of the Wisconsin Council of Safety, spoke briefly. He is plant manager of the Hough manufacturing company, Janesville.

He said one of the goals of the state council was to add safety education to the engineering colleges in the United States.

"How can these colleges graduate engineers without a respect for electrical equipment? These men come to us for other types of equipment. We are living in a peculiar age; developing more complex machines to eliminate people on the job, but the fact is that as you develop more machines you are creating jobs to maintain them."

Announce Promotions Of Policemen

Fahrenkrug Named
Captain; Lingnolski
To Be Sergeant

Menasha — Promotions of three Menasha policemen were ratified Wednesday night by the police and fire commission at its November meeting. The promotions were made by Chief Peter P. Clark.

Franklin Fahrenkrug, a sergeant since Feb. 27, 1956, was promoted to captain to replace Capt. Joseph Rippl, who retired last month.

Virgil Lingnolski, who joined the force Jan. 20, 1949, was named sergeant. He has been a squad car driver the last year.

Gregory Ropella, patrolman, was assigned as a squad car driver.

Fahrenkrug, 108 Luch street, was born July 30, 1912 in Menasha. He joined the police force June 16, 1937 and was the department's first records clerk, assigned to the post May 28, 1948. He served 4½ years in the army military police corps from 1943 to 1948. One year of his service was in the Aleutian islands. Before joining the force, he was employed at Marathon corporation. He is a 1931 graduate of St. Mary High school.

Lingnolski, born Oct. 21, 1923, in Menasha, was graduated from St. Mary High school in 1941. He served in the army airborne troop carrier command from 1942 to 1945. He is vice president of the Menasha Policemen's Protective association and a board member of the Menasha City Employees' Credit Union. Before joining the force, Lingnolski was employed by Neenah Paper company. He resides at 737 Pleasant Lane.

Ropella, of 316 Polonia street, was born June 11, 1934, at Stevens Point. He was graduated from St. John school and Menasha High school and attended Oshkosh State college. He served in the army military police corps from 1956 to 1958. He interrupted his police duties for his army service time. Before joining the police force, Ropella was employed by Marathon corporation, Kimberly-Clark corporation and the city of Menasha.

Tentative Budget Calls for $2.50 Increase; Mayor Cites Factors Causing Increase

Neenah — A $2.50 tax rate increase up to $53.50 per $1,000 of assessed valuation is in the offering for Neenah taxpayers if the council adopts the tentative budget proposed Wednesday night.

The council set Wednesday, Dec. 2, for the public hearing on the budget and it will review the tentative budget at an informal meeting next Wednesday night.

Mayor Chester Bell stressed this morning that the $53.50 proposed rate is not final and the rate could be changed if changes are made in the proposed budget.

"I regret any increase but I feel that some increase is unavoidable. The original budget request would have called for an increase of from $5 to $6," Bell said.

Cites Factors
The mayor cited several major factors which combined have led to the tax rate increase.

1. Commercial street reconstruction. The city's estimated share of this project must be provided for in the 1960 budget. The project has not received final approval for state and federal aid for the 1960 program and if the work is not done next year, the money can be used for other street work projects.

2. A new fire engine. The proposed budget contains $5,000 to begin providing funds for a new fire engine to replace one of the city's old engines. The fire insurance underwriters have advised the replacement.

3. A workshop and storage building for the park department. The council had promised the park board funds for such a building which had been sought for some time.

4. City hall remodeling and improvements. Money is included in the budget for remodeling the present police station for use by the city.

Spices Add Accent, Variety to Meals

Neenah — At a time when every food and beverage eaten in America is getting the calorie test, it is interesting to note that spices do not contain any calories.

The word "spice" has come to have the connotation of "hot" or "sharp" but actually there are more sweet and spicy sweet spices than hot spices.

What is the difference between a spice and an herb? Botanically, spices are the roots, bark, buds, seeds or fruit of aromatic plants which usually grow in the tropics. Herbs are the leaves of plants which grow only in the temperate zones. The American Spice Trade association now classifies both types of products under the general term, spices.

For the best flavoring results, spices should not be stored in the home much over six months. Buy in reasonable quantities and keep spices tightly covered. Store in a dry, cool place, definitely not near the stove.

Vitamin Source
Paprika, the bright red garnish spice, is one of the world's most concentrated sources of vitamin C. All spices, except dehydrated parsley and celery flakes, may be used in low sodium diets, according to the American Medical association.

Fines Herbes is a French term for specific combinations of herbs. The basic combination usually contains parsley, chives and chervil. Fines Herbes mixtures are packaged commercially or can be made at home. They are especially good for seasoning vegetables, soups and salads.

To make a spicy pomander choose a small orange with thin skin and poke whole cloves into it, using a darning needle or meat skewer to start the holes. Cover the entire orange, placing the cloves very close together. In a few days the orange will dry out, shrinking until no part of the skin shows. The cloves will prevent decay and the pomander will give off its spicy orange scent year after year.

The spices nutmeg and mace are products of the same peach-like tree fruit. Nutmeg is the seed or pit and mace is the lacy, flesh-like covering that surrounds the nutmeg. While similar in taste, the orange colored mace is more delicate than the nutmeg.

Allspice
Although it tastes like a combination of cloves, cinnamon and nutmeg, allspice is actually the product of a single type of evergreen berry, coming from Jamaica.

Bay leaves, the spice that does so much for pot roasts, stews, sauces and soups is the "laurel" once woven into crown for Greek Olympic heroes. The spice, ginger, comes from the tuberous root of a tropical plant.

Origin of the slang word "pep", meaning spirit, energy, vim is the pungent spice pepper, a seasoning that literally pep up a meal.

'Joy in Home' Lecture Topic at Paine Art Center

Oshkosh — Mrs. James R. Otto, national instructor for National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc., will lecture on "Joy in the Home" at 8:15 p.m. tonight at Paine Art Center and Arboretum.

For the past 12 years she has developed her talents in garden club work, specializing in promotional work, flower arrangement and development of unique and original containers. She has won ribbons and trophies across the nation for her outstanding and original creations.

Mrs. Otto has served as state president for Arkansas Judges' council and has been on the Ohio state board of garden clubs. In 1960, she was appointed to the national board of National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc. She is a graduate of Michigan State college and has done post-graduate work at the University of Arkansas.

She also has studied with many private teachers throughout the country. The public meeting is not open to children under 13 years.

Jays Battle Ships; Zephyrs Collide With Rapids Entry

MHS Eyes 2nd Win at Expense Of FVC Champs

Menasha — Off to a running start with a 52-40 triumph over West De Pere Tuesday, Menasha will run into stiffer competition Friday night when they engage Manitowoc on the Shipbuilders' court.

The contest will be the first of two within the next week for Coach Lucian Gajewski's cagers, who make their home bow against Appleton next Wednesday.

Manitowoc won the Fox River Valley conference title last year with a 10-4 record. It won a regional tourney and came to the Neenah sectional where it lost to Kimberly in the finals.

In the preseason ratings made earlier this week by sportswriters covering the Valley conference schools, Manitowoc was picked in a tie for third in the votegetting. The Ships drew the same number of votes as Sheboygan Central. Oshkosh and West Green Bay were picked to finish higher.

A year ago, Manitowoc had one of the Valley's finest sophomore players in history in 6-5 Paul Meany. He is back as a junior.

Other lettermen are Al Zipperer, a sophomore last year who was a regular at tournament time, Ron Balzan, Ron Schuh, Art Neillitz, Jack Kleiber and Tom Wall.

Ball Graduates
Gone are all-time scoring star Dick Hall, "Bucky" LeClair, Bob Shaw and 6-7 Norris Jorgensen, who never quite lived up to the capabilities predicted of him.

The Ships are coached by John Jung, who in 12 seasons at the Lake Michigan city school, has a fine 161-83 record with three league titles and one trip to the state tournament.

Gajewski is expected to start an all-letterman five of three juniors and two seniors. Dave Ristau led the way with 22 points against West De Pere while Jay Drzewicki and Bill Ritchie each had 10, Jim Stenson five and Bill Prange three.

The Jays dropped a 43-42 test to the FVC champ in last year's meeting here. They led 23-20 at halftime and 31-22 midway through the third period but, like in their earlier game against West De Pere, succumbed in the last quarter.

Zephyr Frosh Play Lutheran

Menasha — The St. Mary freshman basketball team will open its schedule against Fox Valley Lutheran of Appleton at 7:30 p.m. tonight at the Zephyr gym.

Royals Take 2 of 3 Early Season Tilts

Menasha — St. Mary's high powered Zephyrs will be challenged by a strong Wisconsin Rapids Assumption squad at 8 p.m. Friday at the Menasha High school gym.

The Zephyrs rode rough shod over the Royals 79-50 last Jan. 2 but soon after the Rapids boys began to improve, culminating their year's efforts with a trip to the state tournament.

This fall Assumption has played three games to the Zephyrs' one. The Royals bumped Milwaukee Pius 55-35 Saturday night and lost to Milwaukee Notre Dame 62-56 the following day.

Tuesday night Coach Gordy Lewison's Rapids five bested New Holstein 76-45. Lewison formerly coached the Huskies.

Romp Over Bosco
St. Mary romped over Milwaukee Don Bosco 84-41 in last Sunday's debut.

Gone from last year's Rapids squad are Bill Millenbach and Stan Ellis, who were regulars for three years, but returning are boys who saw considerable action as sophomores and juniors.

Pat Daly, who broke into the starting lineup as a sophomore, collected 20 points against Pius and seven in the Notre Dame contest while Bill Davis, another junior, hit 15 and seven in the two games.

Other Players
Jerry VandeHey, a senior, collected 14 in the Notre Dame contest and Jim Jacunski, who didn't play against the Menashans last winter, hit 15 in one of the games.

Other underclassmen who were on the squad a year ago were Bill Nimitz, Jim Rott, Jerry Bach, Al Villeneuve and Jim Neuberger.

Coach Ralph McClone started an all-letterman squad against Bosco last week consisting of Jerry Laemmrich, center; Mike Herliche and Jim Rueckl, forwards; and Dean Schreiner and Pete Vanderhyden, guards, Junior Jim Koerner, who scored 10 points and rebounded well against Bosco, may break into the starting five.

The Rev. Donald Stoegbauer, St. Mary athletic director, reported this morning that Assumption will bring its jay-bee team for a 6:30 p.m. test.

Nicolet School Sixth Graders have instituted the year's safety patrol. Patrol captain is John Herziger, left. Anne Hyde and Bruce Frederick are lieutenants. The safety patrol is sponsored by the American Automobile association through the Police department.

Zuelke Jars 641 Set In Fox Classic Play

Betty Saegert's 509 Triple Tops Hi Neighbor Loop

Hedberg Drugs fired a big 1,027 game and 2,927 series for team honors. Jessup Realty leads by five games with its 27-6 record.

Joyce Stephani posted a 199 game and Betty Saegert had a 509 set in the Hi Neighbor Women's league Wednesday night at Lakewood. Marilyn Kersten rolled a 197 game.

Marten's Dairy (244-84) is tops by 64 games. Helen Tensendorf rolled a 202 game and Bonnie Borchert had a 507 set in the More Fun Ladies league Wednesday afternoon.

Badger Oil holds a 3-game first place lead with its 23-7 record.

Leroy Leibhaber bowled a 221 game and 515 set in the 550 set in the latest session of the Beer Mixed league. Budweiser (12-3) leads by a game.

Gear Topples 253 Single in Business Loop

Becker Bowls 621 Set; Heller Slams Commercial Honors

Menasha — William Gear jolted a 253 game and Harold Becker came up with a 621 series in the Business Men's Bowling league Wednesday evening at the Mid-Town alleys.

Bob Hanson rolled 583, Bernard Nadolny 572, Pat Patterson 552 and Ted Birling 551. Frank Heller swept Uptown Commercial league honors with a 238 game and 620 set Wednesday night at Mid-Town.

Don La Count and Art Brazee rolled 594, Lee Holcomb 235-585, "Woody" Burden 229-555, Marsh Bayer 556 and Bill Gear 553.

Florence Kasel bowled a 221 game and 515 set in the Catholic Women's league Monday afternoon at Mid-Town. Rosella Rippl posted 212-510.

Shirley King Hits 522 Triple to Top Women's City Play

Neenah — Earl Erb authored a 603 series to lead the way in the Commercial Bowling league Wednesday night at Muench's Recreation alleys.

Morgan Haufe posted a 576 series while Rex Clow and Henry Bellin each had 573 threesomes. Holz Sewing Center is in the lead by 1-game with its 19-11 record.

Shirley King's 522 series was tops in the Neenah Women's City league Wednesday night at Muench's.

Miss King rolled a 203 game but yielded singleton honors to Evelyn Losse, who fired a 222 singleton.

Other honor scores included Dorothy Allen 515, Marilyn King 192-506, Milly Brecklin 508 and Betty Clow 199.

Larson-Schreiter and Curly's Tap are tied for the lead with 22-8 records. Their spread is five games over the third-place team.

Jorgensen's 34th Team Opens Slate

Rockets Entertain Fondy; Four Veterans Included on Neenah High Roster of 12

Neenah — Coach Ole Jorgensen will put his 34th edition of a Neenah High school basketball team on the court Friday night when Fond du Lac comes here to help the Rockets kick off the 1959-60 campaign.

During his first 33 years, Jorgensen's teams have rolled up 429 victories and have lost 213 times. They garnered numerous conference and tournament crowns plus one state championship (1930).

The Rockets go into Friday's inaugural with a squad of 12, including four letter-

Mott, Bill Fahrenkrug and George Steffensen, guards; Larry Rogers and sophomore Dave Burton, centers, and Jim Sauby, and Forrest Hyde, forwards.

Fond du Lac was involved in a 5-way tie for fifth place last year in the Fox Valley conference, posting a 6-8 record along with Appleton, Shegogyan Central and Green Bay East and West.

Picked for 7th Place From that squad, which this year was picked to finish in seventh place by sportswriters covering the Valley conference, Fondy has four lettermen.

They are Mike Murphy (6-4) center, and Ken Wilderman (5-10), guard, who were regulars, plus 5-10 forward Bob Hochrein and 5-11 guard Ron Rauls. Last year's jayvee squad had a 5-9 record.

Graduation took Darrell McArthur, Hub King, Jim Damm Duane Krebsbach and Darwin Rose. All started against Neenah. McArthur dropped from the squad late in the season.

The Rockets led Fondy 28-20 at halftime in last year's game at Fond du Lac but were outscored 32-21 in the final two periods and bowed 52-49.

Neenah will make its second start in as many nights, playing host to Wisconsin Rapids Saturday evening.

St. John Garners Non-Loop Verdict

Brillion — St. John Holy Name eked out a 72-70 win over Brillion in a non-league contest here Wednesday night.

The score was tied 22-22 at the close of one quarter and the Menashans held a 43-31 lead at halftime. St. John failed to score for the first six minutes of the third quarter and Brillion tied the score at 43-all.

St. John fell behind once but went ahead 55-53 at the close of the period. The winners had a 7-point lead with seven minutes left to play.

Earl Furlow led the winners with 25 points on 11 baskets and three free throws. Fred Schmidt hit 15 and Roy Kramer had 14. "Buck" and Don Edinger collected 28 and 18 respectively for Brillion.

The box score:

Reassessment For Street Work Planned

Hearing to be
Dec. 2; Council
Rezones Two Areas

Neenah — New assessments will be set for some public works projects undertaken this year and a hearing on the reassessment was set for the Dec. 2 council meeting, the council decided Wednesday night.

City Clerk R. V. Hauser advised the aldermen that, in some cases the cost estimates for the assessments were greater than the actual costs and in other cases the actual costs were greater than the estimates.

The work involved the installation of sanitary sewers and water mains and the grading and graveling of Greenfield street, Sterling street, Western avenue, Baldwin street and S. Park avenue.

The entire east side of S. Commercial street between Spruce street and the Chicago and North Western tracks was rezoned from multiple family to commercial and the site owned by the Wisconsin-Michigan Power company on Spruce street was rezoned from residential to commercial.

slough bridge was rezoned to light industrial to permit a sub-station.

Zoning Change
Hearings were held Wednesday night on both requests. Referred to the plans commission was a request to rezone to commercial several sites on the south side of W. Columbian avenue between S. Commercial and Church streets. This will make the entire block commercial in classification.

Transfers of $11,097 to pay architect's fees for the new junior high school and of $900 for the purchase of land for opening Haylett avenue were approved, the money coming from funds not otherwise appropriated.

A petition protesting the blocking of the Henry street crossing by a Chicago and North Western freight train on Oct. 12 was filed after it was pointed out Mayor Bell had taken this petition up with the railroad company. The crossing was blocked for at least 13 minutes at noon, the petitioners said.

be secured from William Hug to aid in the drainage improvement before the work is done.

The cost for both projects is to come from the parking meter receipts fund. The actions were approved on separate motions and Ald. Aaron Dix cast the only vote against improving the lot south of the police station.

Purchase of a new 1960 model car as a police squad car from Neenah-Menasha Motors Inc. for $1,150 plus trade-in was voted by the council, the money for which is in this year's budget.

Approval also was given to the relocation by the state highway department of the stop signs along Green Bay road and Highway 41 and the council also ordered a "no parking" restriction for that part of Main street between Green Bay road and the Highway 41 overhead.

To clear its books, the council rescinded a Sept. 16 action which would have removed a parking meter from in front of the "Black" Auto Sales garage on E. Wisconsin avenue and the approval of that site for a bus stop.

The Mollon Travel agency, which is agent for the Greyhound lines, has changed its plan to move to that site from its present N. Commercial street location.

Council Votes to Remove Street From County System

Neenah — On, off, on again and now off, again has been the status of S. Commercial street from Winneconne avenue south relative to the county trunk system.

For many years the section from Winneconne avenue south to the city limits was part of County Trunk A, against the wishes of the county highway committee which points out that Neenah can receive twice as much in state aid for that street as the county can.

A month ago the council voted to take the street off the county system from Winneconne avenue to the city limits as soon as the reconstruction work set up for 1960 is completed. The county shares in this reconstruction cost.

But all of S. Commercial street for that distance will not be reconstructed as there is a short section just north of the city limits that won't be rebuilt.

Revises Resolution
Consequently the council at its Nov. 4 meeting rescinded its previous action taking the street off the county system so it could bring in a new and corrected resolution.

Wednesday night the council voted 8 to 1 to remove that part of S. Commercial street which is reconstructed and also N. Lake street from Main street north to the city limits from the county system upon completion of those resurfacing projects.

Ald. Ewald Miller cast the lone dissenting vote and Ald. Warren Sanders, who continuously has opposed this action, was absent.

YWCA Purchases
Knudson Home

Oshkosh — Purchase of the Knudson property on W. North Water street for $4,250 by the Neenah-Menasha YWCA was approved this morning by County Judge Herbert J. Mueller.

The property, owned by Thora H. and Helma E. Knudson, adjoins the YWCA property on the west. It will be used for future activities of the YWCA.

For Theft of Watch

Oshkosh — Walter Klechak, 53, Iron Mountain, Mich., this morning was sentenced to 15 days in the county jail by Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsinger after pleading guilty to the theft of a pocket watch valued at $3.50 from the Schultz Brothers store, Neenah.

Klechak was arrested by Neenah police Wednesday afternoon after he tried to sell the watch at a service station.

On Drunkenness Count

Menasha — Frank Kopp, 74, 200 Manitowoc street, today pleaded guilty to drunkenness and was sentenced to 15 days in the county jail. Police Jus-en, is active in the St. Vincent de Paul society and was an early volunteer worker at the Milwaukee county hospital for mental diseases.

On his topic "Why Volunteer?", Doyle traced mental illness treatment from the middle ages to the present and pointed out that "only a few people have the charity, the vision you display when you work among the mentally ill. When you visit a mental patient, your presence is the most important thing. The volunteer is the bridge arching between the whole unexplored terrain of mental illness and the community."

Discharges Increase
"Great changes are now going on in the treatment of mentally ill. Anyone who is psychotic will benefit from hospital treatment. There has been a remarkable increase in the proportion of patients being discharged."

Earlier in the program, Mrs. Thomas C. Catlin, in the absence of Clarence Ward, Winnebago county hospital superintendent, outlined plans for an expansion of volunteer activities at the county institution.

Beginning Jan. 1 volunteers will begin working with patients in their wards. Up to the present, they were limited to the occupational therapy department.

"Remotivation"
About 50 women now are making the twice-weekly hospital visits, said Mrs. Catlin. Expansion of volunteer services to wards will permit patients who cannot walk to have volunteer visitors.

Volunteers will carry baskets containing stationery, playing cards and seasonal decorations. They will try to lighten the ward attendants' burden and to make patients more aware of the people outside the hospital. Mrs. Catlin called the new type of therapy "remotivation of the patient."

"You can be as effective as your imagination permits," she suggested.

A seasonal dance will be held at Central State hospital, Waupun, Nov. 30. Mrs. Catlin asked for volunteers to act as dancing partners at the party.

2 Appletonians
Address Nursing Home Association

Two Appleton residents spoke on problems faced by nursing home owners at the district meeting of the Wisconsin Independent Nursing Home association in Appleton Tuesday.

John Engle, business administrator at Appleton Memorial hospital, talked on business practices in medical institutions. Mrs. Barbara Lynch, of the Creative Arts workshop, Appleton, described creative expression for aging people.

Association members toured the city home and observed renovation projects taking place there.

This reduces the original request by about $37,000 which is equal to about $1 on the tax rate. I appreciate this cooperation, the mayor said.

The original request was equivalent to a $3.34 increase in the tax rate.

Mayor Bell called attention to a rise in school costs, not only locally but both state and nation-wide, which he said was frightening. School population has increased but the costs per pupil and the amount from the levy are increasing at even greater rate.

In 1956, tax levy for school purposes was $78,000. Since then the school population has gone up about 164 per cent. Even after the reductions were made by the cooperation of the school board the cost per pupil is up about 35 per cent and the amount from the tax levy is up about 54 per cent over the 1956 figure.

"This steadily mounting cost is general over the country but somehow this increase must be retarded or delayed. The disparity between school population, cost per pupil and tax levy amount is frightening. Where is it going to end?" the mayor asked.

"The school board," he continued, "has been most cooperative in its efforts to eliminate any unnecessary expenses. I had hoped for a cut of $50,000 to $60,000 in the tax levy request but was informed that any further cuts beyond the $37,000 would endanger the state aids and almost certainly result in the loss of assistance from the state and therefore impose an even heavier burden on Neenah taxpayers."

"I am happy to find that their request could be reduced by $37,000," the mayor expressed.

"Under the circumstances, I feel $2.50 is a very modest increase and believe we avoided an even bigger jump in the tax rate."

Neenah — Expenditures totaling $3,762,383 are being proposed for the city of Neenah for 1960, according to a tentative budget submitted to aldermen Wednesday night by Mayor Chester Bell and the finance committee.

The expenditures are up roughly $411,000 and call for a tax levy, if the budget is approved as presented, of $2,033,325. The proposed tax levy is up $166,296, the equivalent of a $2.50 increase on the tax rate which is proposed at $53.50 for next year.

The division of the tax levy is $799,348 for the city operating costs, up about $108,000; $20,191 for state taxes, up about $800; $235,697 for county taxes, down $6,308; $30,948 for county school tax, up $2,800; $890,791 for the board of education, up $90,000; and $55,340 for the board of vocational and adult education, up about $10,000.

General government costs were figured at $505,637 for next year, a drop of $28,000 from this year's actual costs. State and county taxes are included in these costs and account greatly for the drop.

An analysis of these costs and other departmental costs will be presented in future issues of the Appleton Post-Crescent.

Expenses for protection of persons and property, which includes the police and fire department, building inspector budgets, are tentatively estimated at $403,150. This is up about $11,500 over this year's actual costs and $22,500 over the amount put in this year's budget.

Down about $2,000 is the conservation of health section. It totals $197,100 and includes the costs for the board of health, sewer maintenance, sewerage disposal plant operation and garbage collection and disposal.

Highway costs of $154,480 are $5,000 under this year's actual costs but $15,000 over the amount put into the budget. The heavy snowstorms accounted for the budget excess, topping the estimate by about $22,000. New in this budget is $6,000 for Dutch elm disease sanitation.

Also down is the charities and corrections budget which is estimated at $21,500 for next year as against $24,404 in this year's budgets. Poor relief makes up the greater share of this budget and the actual costs were $1,700 under the amount estimated for next year.

Being spent for the library, park and recreation program and celebrations next year will be $156,550, up $11,600. The library board will get $63,000 of that amount, up about $8,000; the park and recreation program $88,300, up $3,000; and celebrations $5,250, an increase of $750 over this year's budget.

Cemetery costs will remain about the same, $36,000. Unclassified expenses will add another $51,150, an increase of about $20,000, most of which is reflected in a contingent amount increase.

School Budgets
Debt service will cost the city $381,200 in the payment of interest and retirement of bonds.

The budgets for the schools are $1,251,109 for the board of education and $75,840 for the board of vocational and adult education, totaling $1,326,949, up about $119,000.

Outlays planned for next year add up to $528,667, up $256,600 over this year's budget. Street construction costs of $253,800, which includes the S. Commercial street project, makes up half of this budget item. The rest includes sewer construction, police and fire department equipment, city hall remodeling expenses, a new building to be used by the street department and the park and recreation departments and street machinery purchases.

Outlays planned for next year add up to $528,667, up $256,600 over this year's budget. Street construction costs of $253,800, which includes the S. Commercial street project, makes up half of this budget item. The rest includes sewer construction, police and fire department equipment, city hall remodeling expenses, a new building to be used by the street department and the park and recreation departments and street machinery purchases.

Neenah Expenditures

Up Roughly $411,000; Tentative Budget
Submitted by Mayor, Finance Committee

Neenah — Expenditures totaling $3,762,383 are being proposed for the city of Neenah for 1960, according to a tentative budget submitted to aldermen Wednesday night by Mayor Chester Bell and the finance committee.

The expenditures are up roughly $411,000 and call for a tax levy, if the budget is approved as presented, of $2,033,325. The proposed tax levy is up $166,296, the equivalent of a $2.50 increase on the tax rate which is proposed at $53.50 for next year.

The division of the tax levy is $799,348 for the city operating costs, up about $108,000; $20,191 for state taxes, up about $800; $235,697 for county taxes, down $6,308; $30,948 for county school tax, up $2,800; $890,791 for the board of education, up $90,000; and $55,340 for the board of vocational and adult education, up about $10,000.

General government costs were figured at $505,637 for next year, a drop of $28,000 from this year's actual costs. State and county taxes are included in these costs and account greatly for the drop.

An analysis of these costs and other departmental costs will be presented in future issues of the Appleton Post-Crescent.

Expenses for protection of persons and property, which includes the police and fire department, building inspector budgets, are tentatively estimated at $403,150. This is up about $11,500 over this year's actual costs and $22,500 over the amount put in this year's budget.

Down about $2,000 is the conservation of health section. It totals $197,100 and includes the costs for the board of health, sewer maintenance, sewerage disposal plant operation and garbage collection and disposal.

Highway costs of $154,480 are $5,000 under this year's actual costs but $15,000 over the amount put into the budget. The heavy snowstorms accounted for the budget excess, topping the estimate by about $22,000. New in this budget is $6,000 for Dutch elm disease sanitation.

Also down is the charities

and corrections budget which is estimated at $21,500 for next year as against $24,404 in this year's budgets. Poor relief makes up the greater share of this budget and the actual costs were $1,700 under the amount estimated for next year.

Being spent for the library, park and recreation program and celebrations next year will be $156,550, up $11,600. The library board will get $63,000 of that amount, up about $8,000; the park and recreation program $88,300, up $3,000; and celebrations $5,250, an increase of $750 over this year's budget.

Cemetery costs will remain about the same, $36,000. Unclassified expenses will add another $51,150, an increase of about $20,000, most of which is reflected in a contingent amount increase.

School Budgets
Debt service will cost the city $381,200 in the payment of interest and retirement of bonds.

The budgets for the schools are $1,251,109 for the board of education and $75,840 for the board of vocational and adult education, totaling $1,326,949, up about $119,000.

Outlays planned for next year add up to $528,667, up $256,600 over this year's budget. Street construction costs of $253,800, which includes the S. Commercial street project, makes up half of this budget item. The rest includes sewer construction, police and fire department equipment, city hall remodeling expenses, a new building to be used by the street department and the park and recreation departments and street machinery purchases.

Leaders Praise Advertising of Religion Value

New York — Top religious leaders have joined to praise a multimillion-dollar advertising campaign to remind Americans of the value of religion.

The advertising council, made up of business interests, is making available more than $8 million worth of advertising during November stressing this message:

"Find the Strength for Your Life . . . Worship Together This Week."

Francis Cardinal Spellman, Roman Catholic archbishop of New York, said: "The roots of our great nation lie deep in the rich soil of religion, and as in the past, she has drawn her strength from her profound belief in God and His laws. So, I believe, will she find her future greatness in the religious spirit of her citizens."

The Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, chief administrator of the United Presbyterian church, said the program Rabbi Max D. Davidson, president of the Synagogue Council of America, said the program fosters a "deepened spirit of commitment on the part of Americans of all faiths to their houses of worship."

Chicken for Salad

If you feed two or three cups of chicken for a salad or some other dish, a 3 1/2 to 4-pound hen (after simmering in water or steaming) will yield this amount.

Spicy Sauerkraut, Which Now ranks with favorite foods around the world, forms the base for many unusual dishes. Here, the kraut combines deliciously with chicken and macaroni for a refreshing salad.

Wide Appeal

Sauerkraut Favorite Food Around World

At the food editors' conference in Chicago, it was a surprise to learn that sauerkraut — whose title has such a German flavor — is almost a world-wide favorite and has many more uses than as an accompaniment to pork and frankfurters.

It is not always to be found in bulk today, as it is generally available in cans, which may be held in reserve on the pantry shelf, and sometimes in plastic bags. It is no longer necessary to buy a paper bucket of kraut a minute before the meal to avoid scenting the kitchen and the house.

Perhaps this is one of the reasons why we are eating much more sauerkraut than we did a few decades ago. The National Kraut Packers association, like many other food processors, has called upon the scientists to help produce consistent quality from specially grown cabbage. The plant pathologists advise the packers.

Kraut and Pork Curried Chowder
1 tablespoon salad oil
1 pound finely diced pork
1 large onion, sliced
1 medium apple, pared, cored and diced
2 cups grated potatoes
1 can (1 pound, 11-ounce) sauerkraut
2 cups water
2 tablespoons curry powder
2 cups milk
1 cup light cream
Heat salad oil. Add pork, onion and apple and cook over medium heat, until pork is browned on all sides. Add potatoes, undrained kraut, water and curry powder. Cover and cook over medium heat about 45 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add milk and cream and heat to serving temperature, stirring often.

Famous Chicken Pie

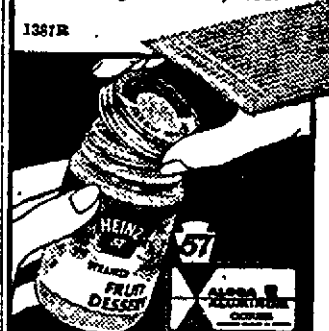

Favorite of a famous White Mountain hotel is chicken pie baked with a mashed potato crust in which the potatoes are whipped with the addition of cream cheese and snipped fresh dill or dill seed.

Chicken Kraut Salad
2 cups diced, cooked chicken or other meat
1 cup cooked elbow macaroni
1 cup drained sauerkraut
2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
1 cup chopped green pepper
1 canned pimiento, chopped
1 egg yolk
One-third cup olive oil
1/2 cup dry white wine
1 teaspoon salt
Crisp lettuce
Combine chicken, macaroni, kraut, hard-cooked eggs, green pepper and pimiento and mix well. Combine egg yolk, olive oil, wine and salt. Shake or blend well, and combine with macaroni mixture. Toss lightly and arrange on lettuce.

Veal Featured

Pork Still Heads List of Bargains

With the promise of turkey just around the corner, housewives will want to steer clear of fowl for the weekend and concentrate on variety. Fortunately, grocery store owners this weekend feature pork, veal and lamb as their special bargains.

Beef still is rather high, although butchers predict the price should be falling soon. Pork chops are at the lowest price level in weeks. Loin chops are featured by one butcher for as little as 55 cents a pound. Other stores have chops up to 79 cents a pound. The low price, however, is about the least expensive chops have been this year — a year of excellent pork bargains.

Pork Roasts
Pork roasts range from 33 to 55 cents a pound, depending on quality, also considered excellent buys.

Veal chops are featured again at some stores, although the prices have crept ed up from last week. Chops can be found for 70 cents a pound, although they average about 89 cents a pound.

Lamb chops are considered an excellent bargain at 45 cents a pound. Leg of lamb, however, is steady at 89 cents. Lamb steak also is a good buy at 89 cents a pound.

For those who want to rush the season somewhat, chicken is 35 to 39 cents a pound, turkey about 41 cents a pound.

Produce Prices
Produce prices have remained nearly constant since last week. Potatoes have gone up slightly, reflecting the gradual price increase that always occurs in late fall and early winter. Idaho bakers are about 8 cents a pound, Wisconsin whites about 4 cents. Sweet potatoes now are about 12 cents a pound.

Apples vary in price and quality. Good McIntosh, for example, range from 10 to 13 cents a pound. The same is true for other varieties of the fruit.

One notable void exists on the produce counters. Cranberries have not been reinstated and market managers do not know when the berry will be cleared. Some markets have them, however, with signs saying they are guaranteed not to be contaminated. If cranberries are a traditional favorite at your house, you may have a few problems appeasing your family's appetite with a substitute.

The best bargains on the

14 Students on Top Honor Roll At Chilton High

Chilton — The first quarter list of honor students at Chilton High school shows 14 pupils on the gold honor roll which requires an average of 2.8 or above on a 3 point grading system.

They were Mary Einolf, Sandra Gasch, Harold Geiser, Judy Geiser, Kay Gordon, LeRoy Keuler, Lowell Klessig, Nancy Pelk, Shirley Schlad, Susan Schneider, William Wetstein, Lea Whitby, Karen Winkler and Diane Woelfel.

The blue honor roll for students with a grade point average between 2 and 2.7 had 72 members.

produce counter still are squash, onions, potatoes, and the late fall vegetables. Salad vegetables are rather expensive, but available in quantity.

Grapefruit is the choice for fruit buyers, costing only 5 cents each. Some bargains on oranges are advertised, but watch the quality. Pears also are considered fairly reasonable, at about 25 cents a pound.

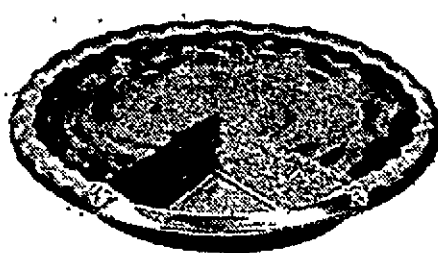

Eggs have dipped a few pennies since last week, ranging from 47 to 49 cents a dozen.

2 'New Faces' In Wisconsin's GOP Picture

Jack Olson and Phillip Kuehn May Seek to Lead Party

Madison — The possibility of a contest for the 1960 Republican nomination for governor has developed with the apparent availability of two "new faces" as candidates for the leadership of the GOP state ticket next year.

The committee which announced that it will seek backing for a "draft" of Jack Olson of Wisconsin Dells has confirmed widespread reports in party circles in recent months that the young resort industry leader wants to run for the office.

It is also generally known that Phillip Kuehn of Milwaukee, a former Republican party organization chairman, has decided to run and is deferring his formal announcement of candidacy only to await the results of the current legislative session and the policy positions of the Republican leaders there.

Olson has a record of local and regional party service but is not as widely known in state party circles as is Kuehn.

But the youthful Wisconsin

Dells boat livery proprietor is widely known in the tourist industry and apparently will rely upon some of his tourist industry associates to boom him for the nomination. His voluntary committee chairman is W. T. Comstock, who has publishing interests in Portage and Oconto, and who recently became publisher of the Badger Sportsman, a monthly periodical devoted to outdoors subjects.

No Interest

Meanwhile there has been no visible development involving two men who were earlier supposed generally to be the most likely contenders to head the minority party ticket next year, former Gov. Vernon W. Thomson of Madison and former Representative Glenn R. Davis of Waukesha.

Thomson has shown no interest in the possibility of a political comeback to those friends who have talked politics with him lately and Davis has consistently said he would be interested only if the Republican party organization tendered him a draft.

The evident availability of Kuehn and Olson makes it improbable that Davis' desire for unanimous or nearly unanimous organization backing at a convention will be granted.

2 Get State Posts In March of Dimes

F. John Barlow, 178 River drive, and Karl P. Baldwin, 707 S. State street, have been

Barlow named to state posts for the 1960 March of Dimes, it was announced today by Francis Strapp, Madison, Wisconsin representative of the National Foundation.

Barlow has been named state co-chairman of the polo fund drive. Warren Loveland, La Crosse, is chairman. Barlow has been active in March of Dimes work since 1955 and was state co-chairman last year. He had previously served as city and county chairman.

Baldwin was made state chairman of solicitation of fraternal clubs and organizations. He has been active in March of Dimes work for three years and has served as advanced gifts and county chairman.

School Board Unhappy With Budget Cuts

President Krueger
Takes Issue With 3
Items Listed by ATA

The Appleton school board is dissatisfied with the 1.5 per cent cut in its budget by the city council.

Edward V. Krueger, school board president, told the council Wednesday at the public hearing on the 1960 budget.

Krueger confined his remarks to explanations of why three projects—which the Appleton Taxpayers association said could be eliminated—are needed.

Appleton Taxpayers Tuesday circulated a letter in which it listed $40,925 in cuts from the school board budget which it said could justify the council's earlier flat cut of 1.5 per cent.

No Copy

Krueger said he could not comment on each item because he had not been furnished a copy of the list and had only the time just before the hearing to scan some of the items.

The board president listed these three cuts as unwarranted:

- $1,000 from the power and light account of the senior high school. The bills this year will amount to about $9,000, the amount sought for next year, he said.
- $2,000 from operational equipment for Roosevelt Junior High school. The money will buy a printing press to replace one which was purchased second hand in the mid-1920s when the school was built, Krueger said.
- Any cut in the water account at the senior high school. Again, he said, it's a matter of what bills are running this year.

Wesley Kolbe, ATA projects committee chairman, said the association had not sought to justify the council figures, but to assure itself that the council action was warranted and realistic.

Around Home

The man is Herbert Klein, No. 1, Nixon ad, editor of the San Diego Union and likely "Jim Hagerly" of a possible Nixon administration.

John Wyngeard, Post-Crescent staff writer at Madison, set us straight.

M-D Drive Starting in Fox Cities

Fire Stations to Serve as Donation Collection Centers

Fire stations in Appleton, Neenah and Menasha will be gathering points for people with packages of money Saturday and Sunday. The stations are receiving centers for volunteer workers in the 1959 muscular dystrophy fund drive.

Fund drive collection packets were sent to volunteer workers Wednesday and today, and house to house canvassing is already underway in some areas of Appleton, Neenah and Menasha, according to Mrs. Eleanor Mader, chairman of the workers.

Muscular dystrophy canisters are also being distributed throughout the area. Moose club members are placing the canisters in Appleton, and employees of the Geo. Walter Brewing company are distributing them in outlying villages.

Campaign Chairman

Roger La Berge is canister chairman for Appleton, and Fire Chiefs John Zick, Neenah, and Edward Heim, Menasha, are canister chairmen in those cities.

Appleton Fire Chief Paul Neumann is county campaign chairman.

The canvassing will be completed Sunday and proceeds will be collected at the fire stations. The canisters will be collected during the first week in December, when the national fund drive officially ends.

According to Outagamie-Winnebago county service chairman Roland Nock, eight muscular dystrophy cases were aided by the groups last year.

Seeks Stronger Employment Law For Children

Madison — The governor's commission on human rights today considered a proposal to ask the state legislature for a stronger law to guard against exploitation of children employed in "industrialized agriculture."

The proposal came this morning from Prof. Elizabeth Brandeis, University of Wisconsin professor of labor economics, in a report to the commission in session at the state capital.

The report said that there is no reliable estimate on the number of migrant children employed in Wisconsin each summer, but that there probably are more than 5,000 under the age of 16.

Prof. Brandeis said any new law would apply primarily to migrants.

Present state and federal child labor laws prohibit the employment of children under 16 while schools are in session, but there are exceptions to the statutes, the report noted.

Reports to Kiwanis Club

Religion, Farming Go Hand In Hand, Missionary Says

The slow process of bringing Christianity to Hindu Pakistan was explained to Kiwanis members Wednesday by John R. Lockland, Methodist lay missionary to Pakistan.

Lockland, originally from Waukesha, is an agricultural engineer and works in the Indus river area of West Pakistan to aid farm production and improve the standard of living.

He said missionary work in Pakistan begins with aid to the farmers. This is necessary to show the people the church is willing to work with them and thereby promotes their confidence and friendship. It also provides the economic stability necessary if the people are to support a church.

Agricultural work in Pakistan is not easy, he said. The area in which Lockland works is 600 miles from the Indian ocean and receives only seven inches of rainfall per year. In the summer the temperature averages 115 degrees, he said.

The land was a desert area until the British set up an irrigation system several years ago but the water comes 150 miles and the supply is controlled by the government.

Lockland said he operates six acres of land as a demonstration and proving ground for ideas that would aid the farmers.

Projects are initiated for the farmers are always simple and basic and must be practical enough to permit the natives to carry out all phases of it without outside help.

These include building windmills to pump water from local wells developing the simple wooden plow and demonstrating new ways of making the soil produce. The main food crop is wheat and cotton is the main money crop, he said.

UW Milwaukee to Get New Building

Madison — The state building commission today approved a $2,694,000 outlay for construction of a science building on the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee campus.

The 5-story building will be the first major construction project on the campus since the institution was formed in 1956 through a merger of Milwaukee State College and a UW Extension Center.

The commission also approved use of $894,250 in building trust funds for construction of a shop laboratory at Stout State college. Bids for the project have been approved by the board of state college regents. The commission's action opens the way to an immediate start on the project.

Two Cardinals Added

U. S. Influence Increases In Vatican, Sources Say

Vatican City — (U. S. —) The forthcoming elevation of two additional American prelates to princes of the Roman Catholic church was seen today as a reflection of the increasing influence of United States Catholics at the Vatican.

Pope John XIII Monday named Archbishop Aloisius Muench, bishop of Fargo, N. D., and apostolic nuncio to Germany, and Archbishop Albert Gregory Meyer of Chicago among eight prelates who will be raised to the rank of cardinal at a secret consistory Dec. 14.

All of the new cardinals except Archbishop Meyer are expected to join the Vatican curia—the church's central executive—in a move to strengthen the church's administrative machinery for the ecumenical council, due to be held here in about three years.

Enlarge Curia But even though enlargement of the curia is the consistency's object, Pope John at the same time increased the number of American cardinals to six—the largest number ever—while the hopes of several Catholic nations did not materialize.

The eight appointments will increase the size of the college of cardinals to 79, the largest in history. U. S. representation will be third to Italy's 31 members and France's 7, just as the Catholic population in the United States is exceeded in numbers only by Italy's and France's.

Among the disappointed Catholic nations were the Philippines, which have long been hoping for creation of their nation's first cardinal, Colombia, where Crisanto Cardinal Luque, archbishop of Bogota, died last May, and Argentina, which thought the transfer of Santiago Luis Cardinal Copello from Buenos Aires to the Vatican in March might mean appointment of another cardinal at home.

WCTU Charges CBS Violates Decency Code of Television

Evanston, Ill. — (U. S. —) The Women's Christian Temperance Union Wednesday accused CBS of violating television's decency code, with shows depicting murder, delinquency and drunkenness.

Mrs. Fred J. Toozie, president of the WCTU, in making the charge, said: "CBS has long been a headache in Christian homes, with its array of westerns and detective shows featuring murder, gun fights and violence presentation will be third to Italy's 31 members and France's 7, just as the Catholic population in the United States is exceeded in numbers only by Italy's and France's.

Among the disappointed Catholic nations were the Philippines, which have long been hoping for creation of their nation's first cardinal, Colombia, where Crisanto Cardinal Luque, archbishop of Bogota, died last May, and Argentina, which thought the transfer of Santiago Luis Cardinal Copello from Buenos Aires to the Vatican in March might mean appointment of another cardinal at home.

at hours when most children watch."

Mrs. Toozie singled out Edward R. Murrow's "See Me All World" interview with Irish playwright, Brendan Behan Nov. 8 which she said was a "drunken exhibition."

Behan sang, roared unintelligibly and rose, unsteadily to his feet during the first half of the show. He did not appear in the second half.

The show was filmed Oct. 11 with Murrow in London and Behan in Dublin.

"Murrow's interview with the drunken Behan was obviously preapproved by CBS since the film was made weeks before," Mrs. Toozie said.

Tangy Lemon Sauce Tops Pumpkin Cake

Pumpkin Cake
1 1/2 cups sifted enriched flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons cinnamon
2 teaspoons nutmeg
1 teaspoon allspice
1 teaspoon ginger
1 cup shortening
1 and one-third cups sugar

2 eggs
1 cup cooked pumpkin
Two-thirds cup buttermilk
Lemon Sauce
Sift together flour, baking powder, soda, salt and spices. Cream together shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Add unbeaten eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Combine pumpkin and buttermilk. Add alternately with flour to creamed mixture. Blend well. Bake in well-greased, paper-lined 9 - inch square pan in 350-degree oven about 45 minutes. Cool. Serve with Lemon Sauce.
Lemon Sauce
1 cup sugar
1 cup enriched flour
2 cups boiling water
1 cup butter

Thursday, Nov. 19, 1959 Appleton Post-Crescent C15

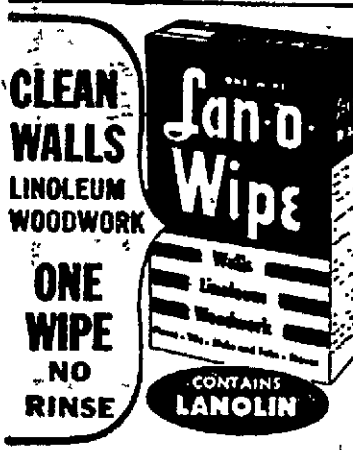

3 tablespoons lemon juice
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
Sift together sugar and flour. Add boiling water gradually, stirring constantly. Simmer mixture about five minutes. Stir in butter, lemon juice and lemon rind. Continue to simmer until mixture thickens. Sauce may be served warm or cold. Makes 2 cups.

Potato Nutrients
Potatoes offer a lot of food value inexpensively: they provide calories, iron and thiamine every month of the year; at some seasons they also provide vitamin C.

Famed Gold Mine Finally Closes

Grass Valley, Calif. — (U. S. —) The last traces of the famed Empire mine have finally disappeared, 109 years after the day in 1850 when it began California's first mining operation.

A total $136 million in gold was brought up from the Empire's 467 miles of underground workings, until 1856 when the veins went dry and the mine was closed. Recently the remaining equipment was either auctioned off or demolished.

Sen. Humphrey Asks Extension Of Nuclear Ban

Year Should be Limit, He Says
In Idaho Speech

Idaho Falls, Idaho — Sen. Hubert Humphrey has called for an extension of the ban on nuclear bomb testing by the U.S. for one year but no longer unless agreement is reached at the Geneva talks.

The Minnesota Democrat urged the three nuclear powers negotiating at Geneva, the United States, Great Britain and Russia, to set up a test monitoring system under United Nations sponsorship to see if such a control arrangement could work.

Humphrey said President Eisenhower was under strong pressure to let the voluntary test ban expire at the end of the year.

This would be a great mistake, he said, would turn world opinion against the U.S. and jeopardize the Geneva conference which he said "is coming as close to success as any arms control conference has come since the end of the war."

One More Year
Humphrey, in remarks prepared for a party luncheon at Idaho Falls near the nation's nuclear reactor testing station in East Idaho, said he "would make it very clear that these temporary extensions will not be extended repeatedly."

One more year, should be the limit for suspension without agreement, he said, and if the U.S. ever resumes testing it should never be done in the atmosphere, "from ground level to outer space."

The potential presidential candidate had two appearances scheduled during his one-day tour of Idaho. The other was an evening address in Pocatello.

Humphrey, chairman of the senate disarmament subcommittee, has called for extension of the test ban before, not only to stop fallout but as a first step toward what he calls "a world-wide system of guaranteed mutual disarmament."

Quiz Exposures Cause Return of Hotel Articles

Boston — A resurgence of "moral conscience" in the wake of TV quiz exposures is causing anonymous return of "valuable and invaluable objects" taken by guests years ago, a hotel operator says.

Ernest Henderson, president of the 54-hotel Sheraton system, said its Baltimore hostelry received a silver and pearl pendant from a woman who said she found it in her room, and $15 from another, who said the cashier overpaid her in cashing a check.

The Washington hotel, he said, received a package containing a silver pitcher of a type not in use in 10 years.

Henderson is a bit apprehensive over return of another item—a bath towel.

If former guests go in for that sort of restitution, he said, Sheraton will need additional warehouses.

Maesch Speaker, In Illinois, on 2 Music Panels

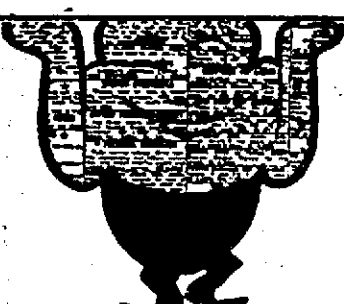

LaVahn Maesch, director of the Lawrence conservatory of music, spoke Tuesday evening at Wheaton college in Illinois at a centennial fine arts symposium. His topic was "Art, Entertainment and Education."

Over Thanksgiving weekend, Maesch will be in Detroit, Mich., attending a meeting of the National Association of Schools of Music. He will participate in a Phi Mu Alpha-Sinfonia panel on "The Place of the Music Fraternity on American Campuses."

At the same time, Maesch will participate in a radio panel, along with Howard Hanson, head of the Eastman school of music, and several others, for broadcast over WJR. They will discuss American music and its cultural climate.

Name Heiss, Kottke Honorary Co-Captains of Terror '11'

23 Letters Awarded at Lions' Fete

BY MIKE DREW
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

A pair of hard-hitting line-men — Dick Heiss and Tom Kottke — have been named honorary co-captains of the powerful 1959 Appleton High school football Terrors.

The selection of the two all-Fox River Valley conference performers by their mates was revealed at the annual AHS football banquet Wednesday evening in the American Legion clubhouse.

Stresses Desire
Main speaker Vern Woodward, University of Wisconsin boxing coach and assistant freshman football mentor, stressed the importance of physical conditioning and desire in a brief message.

In a departure from precedent, Terror Head Coach Ade Dillon picked Frank Manier, father of Appleton's all-conference defensive tackle Jim Manier, as honorary assistant coach.

"He's spent a lot of time backing us for 14 years, starting when his son was 4 years old, and he's helped to keep our Appleton Quarterback club alive," said Dillon. "I was going to give him an Appleton High letter tonight, but he's already won one. It must have been a very happy moment for him when he learned Jim made the all-conference team."

All-Around Star
Heiss, offensive guard and defensive middle guard, was an outstanding all-around player. No opposition player in the FRVC was able to handle him, either offensively or defensively, and he rates as an excellent college prospect.

Kottke was the regular Appleton offensive center for two years. It was the rock- 'em, sock- 'em blocking of Kottke, Heiss and all-FRVC Ron Tollerfson which made the Terrors' power stuff up.

Johnson Happy Over 'Fiery' New Manager

Bob Elliott Signs 1-Year Contract To Pilot A's

Kansas City — "We wanted a fiery guy and we got him. I'm very happy with the choice."

That's how Arnold Johnson, president of the Kansas City Athletics, feels about hiring Bob Elliott as manager of his seventh-place American league club.

Elliott, 43, a major league player 15 years and a manager in the Pacific Coast league four years, signed with the A's Wednesday.

He signed a 1-year contract, reportedly at a $20,000 salary, to succeed Harry Craft, whose contract was not renewed at the end of the season.

"It's one of the greatest thrills of my life," the husky Elliott said.

He announced he would retain Don Heffner of the Craft regime as third base coach. He will hire two more and indicated he has decided on the ones he wants.

Elliott played with the Pittsburgh Pirates from 1939 through 1948. With the Boston Braves in 1947 he batted .317, drove in 113 runs and was the National league's most valuable player. He later played with the New York Giants, St. Louis Browns and Chicago White Sox.

He managed San Diego of the Pacific Coast league from 1955 until early in 1957. He led the Sacramento Solons to fourth place in 1959 and had signed with them for next year.

With the trend moving away from "breather" practices, more and more high school basketball teams are opening their seasons with a bang.

But the annual Kimberly-Appleton collision continues to produce one of the biggest season-opening reverberations in the state.

At 8:15 p. m. Friday in the Kimberly gym, Coach Gil Frank's Papermakers and Coach Dick Emanuel's Terrors open against each other for the sixth successive year.

The previous five season inaugurals (three of which have been won by AHS) were viewed as barometers on an area-wide (indeed, state-wide) basis. And, they proved pretty accurate indicators, too.

23 in a Row

For example, last season, when Kimberly handed AHS the biggest trouncing in the series (74-44), the superlatives were trotted out early. And, the Papermakers proceeded to live up to them by winning 23 straight en route to the No. 1 rating in Wisconsin and didn't lose until the state tourney opener (in an unforgettable, last-minute heartbreaker to Milwaukee Lincoln).

In 1957-8, the Terrors raised high hopes among their followers with a 61-52 season-opening win over Kimberly. And, they went on from there to compile the best record in the Emanuel regime (18-5) and won the regional championship.

And, so it's gone almost every time. Friday's meeting should shed a good deal of light on both teams' expectations for 1959-60.

Kimberly, with a more seasoned and thoroughly tested lineup, will rule as favorite to begin a new victory streak (the Papermakers lost their final two games last season).

Lamers Missing
Only Jack Lamers will be missing from last season's powerful array of starters. As captain and most valuable player of the Mid-Eastern conference and regional and Melbourne — America's Sam Snead, his putter blazing, the 6,853-yard layout with most of the gallery of 15,000 at his heels.

He canned five birdies in a stretch of seven holes. He 1-putted 10 of the last 12 greens and came to the final hole needing only a par for a 64. Then he took his only bogey of the round, missing a 24-footer after a crashing drive down the middle of the fairway and a nice approach to the middle of the green.

Al Balding, Leonard's partner, nailed a birdie 3 on the final hole for a 73 which gave Canada a 35-hole overall total of 263.

The United States was third at 285 and certainly would have moved into stout contention if the roof had not fallen, on Dr. Cary Middlecoff. The Memphis dentist took seven fives on the last nine holes for a 6-over-par 42. He finished with a 75.

Redskins Have Edge Over Green Bay in Individual Statistics

Guglielmi No. 2 Passer, Bosseler 5th-Rated Ground-Gainer in New League Compilation

Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay — The Packers and Redskins — opponents in City stadium Sunday — have identical won-lost records, 3 and 5. But in the department of individual statistics, the Packers can't match the visitors.

Washington, figurewise, has the league's No. 2 passer, Ralph Guglielmi; the No. 5 rusher, Don Bosseler; the No. 8 pass receiver, Bill Anderson; and the No. 4 punter, Sam Baker.

Havana — Bob Allison gave winter baseball credit today for helping him win 1959 American league rookie honors.

The 6-foot-3, 210-pound Washington Senator center fielder was selected Wednesday for the honor by the baseball Writers Association of America in what amounted to a runaway vote.

The former University of Kansas fullback from a suburb of Kansas City polled 18 votes in the balloting of the 24-man committee. Jim Perry, Cleveland pitcher, was second with five votes and Kansas City's Russ Snyder, an outfielder, third with one. "I definitely think last year

Westphal and Krull Only 2-Way Picks

Shawano — Co-champions Clintonville and Neenah dominated the 1959 All-Mid-Eastern conference football team selected by circuit coaches here Wednesday evening.

The Truckers and Rockets both have six boys on the first offensive and defensive unit. The Truckers, however, had their six players named to eight berths. The only two both-ways performers on the first honor squad were both from Clintonville.

The Clintonville Westphal was named the offensive quarterback and a defensive halfback while Bob Krull was selected as both defensive and offensive tackle.

Westphal was one of the two repeaters from the 1958 honor squad. He tied with Neenah's Bill Kuehl as first team offensive quarterback in 1958.

Other Repeater
The only other repeater was Kaukauna's Doug Ludwigsen who was named to the first defensive squad as a guard both last year and this. Kimberly end Darrell Jansen, chosen a first team offensive end last season, was left off both the first and second clubs this time.

Besides Westphal and Krull, the Truckers' first team members are: guard Doug Hogan and halfback Archie Gough on the offensive platoon and end Harold Blum and tackle Dennis Handrich on the defensive squad. Neenah's offensive first team members are: fullback Dick Wilson, center Jim Sherman and guard Mitch Miller, while Rockets on the No. 1 defensive squad were: halfback Mike Lintner, linebacker Pete Miller and end Gary Bayer.

Only Junior
The only junior to make either the offensive or defensive first squads was Menasha's linebacker Bill Ritchie.

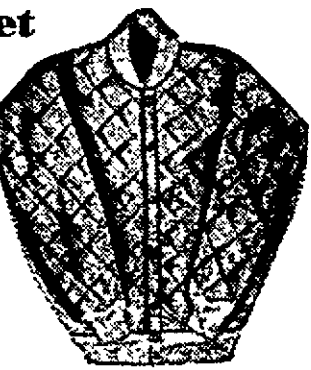

Kaukauna had four players on the all-conference club — guards Doug Ludwigsen and Gary Nowack on the defensive squad and end Myron Zachowski and halfback

Expect Few 'Name' Players to be Involved In Inter-League Swaps

Cardinals' Devine May be Busiest Trader of All

BY JOE REICHLER

New York — Those who should know best — the club owners and general managers — expect a lot of swapping during the unprecedented 3-week period of inter-league trades starting Saturday. But they don't think many "name" players will be involved.

"Practically Every Club" "Bing" Devine, general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, probably will be the busiest trader of them all. He's already agreed to swap Gene Green to Baltimore for Bob Nieman and is considering a Chicago White Sox offer of Billy Pierce, Billy Goodman and Jim Rivera for Joe Cunningham. He also has a bid in for Gil McDougald of the New York Yankees.

"We've talked with practically every club in both leagues," said Devine. "Most of our conversation has been with the White Sox, Tigers and Orioles. Bill DeWitt, newly elected president of the Detroit club, said he was seeking a shortstop, a first baseman and some additional reserve strength.

The Tigers have rejected a Milwaukee offer of pitcher Carleton Willey and second baseman Felix Mantilla for Frank Bolling. They may make a deal of lesser significance with Philadelphia involving Phillie shortstop Chico Fernandez.

Kansas City general manager Parke Carroll said his club expected to complete a couple of deals with National league clubs. He declined to identify the clubs or players but said the A's are seeking a catcher, a third baseman and a pitcher.

Calvin Griffith, president of the Washington Senators, expects brisk trading, judging from the feelers he's had for his players.

"Everybody wants Camilo Pasqual, Bob Allison and Harmon Killebrew," he said. "I told them these fellows can't be had."

Washington manager "Cookie" Lavagetto currently is in San Francisco, discussing a possible deal that would send relief pitcher Truman Clevenger and one of three infielders — Reno Bertoia, Ken Aspromonte or Billy Consolo — to the Giants for outfielder Felipe Alou.

The Boston Red Sox are said to have closed a deal whereby Dick Gernert, goes to the Chicago Cubs for pitcher Dave Hillman and first baseman Rufe Marshall.

Liska Forecasts Wins for UW, Illinois in Key Big 10 Games

BY JERRY LISKA

Chicago — We hope the football season's final round won't find the Midwest swami strangled with his own turban.

The most unpredictable Big Ten season in years sends this seer stumbling into the last scrimmage with a 37-21 record and a .638 average.

Here's the farewell bounce of the crystal ball:

Illinois 14, Northwestern 13

— This is genial Ray Eliot's last game as Illini coach and his last game as Illini coach and his last game as Illini coach.

Illinois 14, Northwestern 13 — This is genial Ray Eliot's last game as Illini coach and his last game as Illini coach and his last game as Illini coach.

— The Badgers will out-batter an arch neighborhood foe for the Big Ten title and a Pasadena journey.

Indiana 7, Purdue 6 — The Hoosiers will grab that Old Oaken Bucket in a ding-dong battle. Purdue is badly weakened at fullback.

Ohio State 13, Michigan 6 — Once this traditional finale was a perennial showdown for the Big Ten title. But now Michigan could fall into a cellar deadlock and Ohio State could finish next to last. However, this should be a spirited, even scrap.

Iowa 18, Notre Dame 7 — The Hawkeyes have too much passing power for the visiting Irish, who will be striving to stave off a sixth loss.

Michigan State 14, Miami of Florida 7 — The Spartans may be pulling for Northwestern and Wisconsin to lose more than they'll be trying to harness the Hurricanes.

There's still a possibility Michigan State can slip into the Big Ten championship. Marquette 13, Holy Cross 12 — The Warriors can make it three successive victories by taming the Crusaders.

Nats Shoot At .527 Clip Hand Celtics Second Loss Of Campaign

By the Associated Press

All it takes is a record performance to make those Boston Celtics look human in the National Basketball association this season.

They didn't lose until their seventh game, when they ran into Minneapolis and Elgin Baylor, who set an NBA record with 64 points for a 136-115 decision. Then the Celtics clocked off five in a row before the Syracuse Nationals, whipped Boston, 138-103, Wednesday night.

It was Boston's first defeat by an Eastern division team and left the Celtics with only a 14-game edge over the Philadelphia in the East.

Detroit closed within a half-game of the Western leader St. Louis by defeating Cincinnati, 110-93, and the New York Knicks held off Minneapolis, 106-105, after leading by 21.

Syracuse's Dolph Schayes finished with 32 points while the Nats wound up with 58 field goals and tied their shooting percentage record of .527. Sam Jones' 28 points led the Celtics.

Bailey Howell scored 27 and Gene Shue 25 for the Pistons.

Indiana 16, Notre Dame 12 — The Trojans will have to prove to the Irish how scrappy the McKeever twins really are.

Rose Bowl Game: Wisconsin 14, Washington 7 — That's if we have the right parties.

Perry Moss Signs As Coach of Montreal Team

Montreal — Perry Moss, 1-time assistant coach at the University of Wisconsin and a former Green Bay Packer football player, Wednesday signed a contract as head coach of the professional Montreal Alouettes of the Big Four Football Union.

Moss, who is head coach and athletic director at Florida State University, led Illinois to the Big Ten championship in 1946 and a Rose Bowl victory over UCLA in 1947 as the star quarterback for the Illini.

Kotke, Heiss Are Honorary AHS Captains

the-middle work. The three blockers in the AHS' unbalanced line were a fearsome sight for enemy defenders to contemplate.

Notable Honor

Kotke was a reserve line-backer who filled in effectively on defense when needed. The honor bestowed upon he and Heiss was especially notable since five of their senior teammates also made the all-league team.

Woodward, a former boxing star, recently returned from conducting coaching clinics in Germany. He related several experiences from his football and boxing background in emphasizing the importance of desire in sports.

One of these was a fine goal-line stand by Wisconsin in the Northwestern game, another was a victory by UW boxer Charley Moore in the NCAA tournament finals a year or so ago, beating a man who had eliminated Moore the season before.

Hit the Books

Before providing commentary on films of Wisconsin's 9-6 loss to Illinois, Woodward told the group that "It's important to hit the books now and to go to school. You're sacrificing quite a lot but it's important to get good study habits, to prepare yourselves to go on to college."

Dillon announced the names of the 23 Terror letter-winners — 15 seniors and eight juniors—plus two monogram-winning managers. He introduced the entire group as well as all other members of the varsity. Of his assistant varsity coach, Herdis McCrary, Jr., Dillon said "I couldn't get anyone with a better football background to help me." He also lauded the "exceptional job that Junior Varsity Coach Gene VandenHeuvel and Keith Kohlman have been doing, saying "I hope they stay here as long as I'm here."

Team Effort

Dillon thanked all who helped contribute to the Terror's 7-1 season and runnerup finish in the FRVC. He called his club "one of the best teams Appleton High has ever had," and said that "no club ever played with better team effort. They never stopped working together."

His group of seniors, the coach remarked, "wanted to win very much and came back this fall in better shape than any group we've ever worked with."

Here are some of his capsule observations on the senior letter-winners.

Dave LaViolette — "A real fine all-around football player."

Wally Huttenberg — "A reserve, he stayed with us and I sure wish he were coming back. He could make someone a real good college tackle."

Larry Handel — "A hard-luck-guy who was bothered by foot and shoulder injuries. He really loves football."

Larry Bogenschultz — "Larry, too, had bad breaks, hurting his back during the season."

Dick Kloes — "He gave us insurance at quarterback and made us a better football team."

Jim Manier — "A fine leader and a real good team player. He was an all-conference defensive player who we were also able to use on offense."

John Nussbaum — "If he hadn't been injured and missed the last 3½ games he should have been all-conference and might have been all-state."

John Taylor — "Did a very fine job in the last three games" (replacing Nussbaum).

Ron Tollefson — "Ron was consistently good during his two seasons at guard. His specialty was blocking on our off-tackle plays and he did a fine job on defense."

Dick Wankey — "An all-conference offensive end who had very good hands. The weatherman spoiled our notions of passing to him more often."

Brian Zordel — "He was fast for a big man and got better each week."

Cal Klues — "An all-conference player if there ever was one. When we got him mad he made our offense go. I give him credit for our winning the Fond du Lac game."

Illini Trustees Honor Ray Eliot

Chicago —(AP)—Tribute was paid to Ray Eliot, who has announced his retirement as Illinois football coach, by the university's board of trustees Wednesday.

The tribute read in part: "Ray Eliot is an example of what a young man can achieve if he has the vision and the will. . . . He has installed in them (players) principles of conduct which have marked them on the playing field as well as in their careers. . . . In all his actions, both on and off the football field, he has gained respect and admiration."

Papermakers, Terrors Open Season Friday

boom, Joe Mitchell, Dave Hamann and Dave Kringling. None of these is under 6 feet. The Terror's starting height will not only be similar to Kimberly's, but they will be in much better shape, experience and moralewise for their opener this season. AHS opened 1958-9 practice, with only two lettermen (compared to six this season) and three nights before the Kimberly opener, the Terror's lost one of these, Ron Abel, for the season, via injury. The squad hadn't recovered from the loss of this potential scoring pace-maker (the 6-5 Abel) by the time the first game was run off.

Wins 9 Games

AHS came back to win nine of its last 19 games for a reasonably good season and gave Kimberly a much better battle in the sub-regional finals. In fact, it was all even midway in the third period, before the Papermakers surged away for a 70-57 victory.

AHS' starting center is expected to be 6-3 Harold "Lud" Lodholz, the team's leading returning scorer—outside of the still-incapacitated John Nussbaum. "Lud" averaged 10.5 points in the two games against Kimberly last season.

Schultz to Start

Abel, whose questionable knee has held up well in practice, is also due to see action at center.

The 6-3½ Marty Schultz and 6-3 Paul Vander Heyden will round out the front line. Both progressed well in the final half of last season, and Schultz was particularly outstanding against Kimberly in the tournament.

Probable starters in the backcourt, where Emanuel has been experimenting extensively, are senior letterman Dave LaViolette and junior Pete Treiber. Last season, Treiber was the leading AHS jayvee scorer with an average of about 8 points a game.

In four games at Kimberly in the Emanuel regime, AHS has won only once. However, in the overall series against Frank's Papermakers, Emanuel's teams hold a 5 to 4 edge.

Carpenter Won't Enter New Pro Football League

Philadelphia —(AP)—Bob Carpenter, president of baseball's Philadelphia Phillies, said today he had decided not to enter the new American Football league with a Philadelphia franchise.

Carpenter said that after an extensive study he had decided not to apply for the eighth and final franchise in the league, which expects to start operations next year.

"An important consideration in making the decision, is our feeling that if there were two teams in Philadelphia, an intense competitive situation might develop which would drain the financial resources of both clubs, with the eventual result that neither one could afford to maintain a top notch team in its league," he said in a statement.

Bruce Ludtke on the offensive platoon.

Two Shawano Indians were honored — end Guy Booth and tackle Glen Seering, both on the offensive team. Kimberly's Jeff Dietzler was selected first team linebacker while Ritchie was Menasha's lone honor choice. Neither Two Rivers or New London had a boy on the first team.

The coaches also picked second offensive and defensive squads this season.

Paces 2nd Team

Kaukauna paced the second team with six boys named to seven positions. Dennis Burns was second team offensive tackle and defensive end. He and Clintonville's Jim Sutliff were the both-ways boys on the second squad, Sutliff making it at offensive center and defensive guard.

Clintonville had five boys at six positions and Shawano four boys at four spots on the second squad.

Trophies were awarded at Wednesday's meeting to: Kaukauna, in cross-country; Kimberly, baseball; Neenah, tennis and track. The conference debate meet will be at Two Rivers on Jan. 9.

The conference acted to accept the cancellation of the Kaukauna-Kimberly football game instead of crediting it to Kaukauna as a forfeit.

Mo-Ski-Tow Club Again Picks Kubisiak

New London—George Kubisiak, New London, has been reelected president of Mo-Ski-Tow Hill club, Inc.

Other officers elected by the directors are Fred Heinemann, Appleton, vice president; Edward Macklin, New London, recording secretary; Miss Joyce Boensack, Appleton, corresponding secretary, assisted by Miss Carol Richardson, Appleton; Vincent Derschied, Appleton, treasurer.

Directors discussed the possibility of having a special weekend activity at the hill to replace the winter costume carnival held during the last three seasons.

Heinemann and Kubisiak were invited to meet with the directors of the ski club in Sturgeon Bay to help promote winter activities there.

Directors also decided to offer family season tickets at a also a theory of Packer Coach Vince Lombardi.

Washington and Green Bay rank among the league's top four rushing clubs. San Francisco leads with 1,445 ground yards, followed by Cleveland with 1,435, Washington, 1,358 and Green Bay 1,275.

Double Wing

The Redskins rushed 297 times, Green Bay 278. Each has a per-rush average of 4.6 yards.

The Redskins picked off one of the Packers' emergency weapons. Down to a couple of able-bodied backs, Lombardi put in the double wing against the Colts in Baltimore a few weeks back. The next Sunday Washington, used the same formation against the Colts.

The Packers may see and use some double wing Sunday.

Sunday's battlers use the forward pass on a similar scale. Washington tried 171 passes, Green Bay 183. The Redskins completed 79, Packers 73. Each team suffered 14 interceptions.

Washington's percentage of completions is 46.2, Green Bay's a low 39.9. Packer receivers must have dropped 20 passes in the first eight games. They would boost the Packer percentage close to 50.

The Redskins play Anderson at left end, Joe Walton at right end, with former back Jim Podoley backing up both spots. Anderson has caught 26 passes for 579 yards and four TDs. Anderson is 6-3, 211; Walton 5-11, 205; and Podoley 6-2, 205.

Have Tickets

The "Have Tickets, Will Sell" sign is out at the Packer ticket office, Ticket Agent Earl Falck reminded. The Packers will need some vocal help to end their 5-game losing streak.

The Packers worked on the north half of the stadium Wednesday, although the hard ground wouldn't permit the use of cleats. The players wore tennis shoes. Considering the foot gear, Lombardi said it was a "good workout."

Incidentally, the ground was starting to thaw a bit. With moderating temperatures and use of the tarpaulin, the field could be fast for Sunday. The extreme cold has departed for a week or so, 'tis said.

Quarterback Lamar McHan was running well, apparently recovering from a muscle pull. Bobby Dillon, who has the same ailment, is limping some.

The team is in excellent spirits. After five straight losses, the fire of the club in practice Wednesday gave Lombardi still new admiration for his team. "They just won't quit," he beamed.

Folley Unhappy About Decision Over Johnson

Referee Rules 3 Trips to Canvas All Were Slips

Phoenix, Ariz. —(U)— Zora Folley, stretched out on a bright red sofa, shook his head in disgust and said, "I should have put him away twice."

Folley, 197½, the No. 2 heavyweight contender, was rehashing his unanimous decision over young and inexperienced Alonzo Johnson, 189½, of Pittsburgh in their nationally televised 10-round Wednesday night.

The Arizona, who used a punishing left hand and an occasional booming right, added, "I wasn't at my best. I saw the openings but just couldn't take advantage of them."

Johnson went to the canvas three times, but Referee Max Baer ruled each a slip.

Rests in Suite

Folley rested in one of the plush ground-floor suites of the swank motel where the fight was staged for TV cameras and only 600 ring-siders, and griped, "Johnson might have slipped the first time, but I put him down once."

It wasn't until the late rounds that Folley, who has only one of his 28 bouts, was able to get any stiff rights across. Johnson stung him in to action with a good left hook to the face in the fifth.

Folley was given a 99-93 edge by Judge Joe Vozdik and a 98-94 margin by Judge Jack Alpert. Referee Max Baer scored it for Folley, 99-96.

Robinson-Pender Bout Re-Slated

Boston. —(U)— The "Sugar" Ray Robinson-Paul Pender title bout, originally set for Dec. 14 has been re-scheduled for Jan. 22 in order to avoid television conflicts, promoter Sam Silverman said Wednesday.

Silverman said he has secured a national television contract for $100,000 for the January date. Of that, Silverman said, Robinson will get $75,000 while he and Pender will split the rest.

Oscar Schirm's 569 Paces Hahn's Fraternal Loop

"Fil" Grearson's 588 topped the Industrial league at Hahn's Wednesday night and his Wires No. 2 team. Gus Richter cracked a 245 for Knoke Lumber (28-5) the top-ranking club, and finished with a 550.

Merchants wheel keggers at the Elks were topped by "Tex" Techlin and his 568 for Singer Sewing. Ray Peterson of Zwickler Knitting walloped a 225. Jahnke's 24-9 is four games in front of the field.

Other Industrial honor tallies include: Ery Feldhahn, 580; Rolfe Winter, 567; Frank Sanders, 565; Harold Vonderhere, 235,574; Mark Catlin, 537; Les Asmus, 562; Dick Jabas, 553; Bob Mirkes, 571; "Fritz" Kirk, 560; Glenn Rohm, 560.

In the Fraternal circuit, Earl Arnold posted a 565 and Earl Moritz a 551.

UW Defense Worries About End Tom Hall

Madison. —(U)— There was no letup in practice at the Wisconsin football camp Wednesday despite the fact that Coach Milt Bruhn said he had a "tired bunch" on his hands.

The coach said that his squad took a physical beating at the hands of Illinois when it lost, 9-6, last Saturday, but the players are determined to come back strong with a victory in the final game of the season Saturday at Minnesota.

The emphasis Wednesday was on pass defense, designed primarily to stop Tom Hall, Gopher end who has blossomed into one of the Big Ten's most effective receivers recently.

Hall, a sophomore, caught nine passes for 124 yards in last week's game against Purdue and moved into second place in the conference's pass catching department.

5,500 to See State Hall of Fame Show

Names of Sundt, Jennings, Marino To Be Enshrined

Milwaukee. —(U)— The names of three sports figures—Conrad M. Jennings, Hank Marino and Guy Sundt—will be enshrined in Wisconsin's Athletic Hall of Fame tonight.

Jennings, former athletic director for Marquette university, and Marino, one of the nation's best known bowlers, will be on hand for the program sponsored by the Milwaukee Press club.

The award for Sundt will be made posthumously. The former University of Wisconsin athletic director died in 1955.

Over 1,000 persons have bought tickets for the $10 a plate dinner program and 4,500 special guests will be admitted to the gallery of the Milwaukee arena for the program following the banquet.

Guests at the speakers' table will include Ralph Metcalfe, Olympic sprint star from Marquette; Don Hutson, one-time pass-catching great for the Green Bay Packers, and Chris Steinmetz, a Wisconsin basketball star many years ago. They became members of the Hall of Fame in past years.

Athletic Director Jennings was named track coach at Marquette in 1922 after ten years as a high school coach. He was named athletic director in 1926 and held the position until he retired in 1956.

Marino is a former American Bowling congress doubles champ and held the world match title for four years starting in 1934. He captained the Milwaukee Hells when they held the world match championship.

Sundt was graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1922 where he won eight letters in football, basketball and track. After two years at Ripon as a coach, he returned to Wisconsin as freshman football coach. He was assistant athletic director from 1936 to 1950 and then served as athletic director until he died in 1955.

The selection of Jennings, Marino and Sundt to Hall of Fame membership brings to 28 the number honored since it was started in 1951.

Manitowoc Fetes Coaches Rather Than 'Hanging' Them

Baugh, Cliff Battles, George McAfee and Bronko Nagurski. He puts "Bulldog" Turner at center; Danny Fortmann at the other guard; Bill Hewitt at the other end; and Steve Owen, Link Lyman and Duke Slater, at tackles (he named a couple extra). At the same occasion (a Burlington, Iowa, banquet), Grange made an expected choice when asked about his biggest thrill. He said it came when, as an Illinois sophomore, he held a 55-yard place-kick for Earl Britton which beat Iowa, 9-7. "Red" revealed that he went to Illinois originally for basketball and track (he did the 100 in :09.8) but wound up playing football and baseball.

In an era of hanging coaches in effigy, it is refreshing to note that over Manitowoc way they hang plaques to honor coaches. Parents of Manitowoc High school football players honored Coach Frank Granitz and his assistants last week. The plaque says, in part: "A football coach is a courageous man to expose himself, as he does each season, to the displeasure of townsmen and of parents. A football coach is a wise man to be able to organize sometimes unruly young men into a spirited winning team." Len Robichaud, father of the Ship's most valuable player, Dennis Robichaud, summed up his regard for the coaches in this way: "You have done much more for our boys than can be seen by the dictionary definition of 'coach'. You have guided them, helped them, built their character to a high point and prepared them for entry into a competitive world. For this we express our thanks." We'd like to second the motion and extend the tribute to all coaches in this area.

Lee Grosscup, the Giants' No. 1 draftee who won't play a minute of NFL ball this year, is the professional equivalent of the "red shirt." Grosscup, who couldn't crack the Giants' top quarterbacking trio, is working out regularly with the team and making all the road trips. He's being kept "on ice" until 1960.

Though Appleton High school had one of its better football teams this season, attendance was the lowest for a full campaign since 1943. Unfavorable weather was primarily to blame, although there's another factor, too: some of the best attractions (Green Bay West and Oshkosh) were road games. The only smaller AHS gate receipts in the last 16 years came on the "polio" year of 1955 when only two home games were played.

AHS Hears International Cage Figure McGregor Has Coached, Taught In 30 Countries

Jim McGregor, who spoke at an Appleton High school lyceum Wednesday afternoon, is probably the most "international" basketball figure outside of the Harlem Globe Trotters.

A former coach at Whitworth college (Spokane, Wash.), McGregor has either coached or given basketball clinics in 30 countries. He has coached, among others, the "national" teams of Italy, Greece, Turkey and Sweden in international competition.

Behind 'Curtain'

McGregor says he is the first American basketball mentor to get permission to coach behind the "iron curtain" — that was in Poland in 1957.

McGregor is trying to arrange two or three more Wisconsin games between Jan. 4-9 for the Swedish quintet which is due to tour the U.S. He already has games booked with La-Crosse and Eau Claire collegians, and has such other schools as Oshkosh and St. Norbert in mind.

For the rest of November, McGregor will continue his lecture tour of Wisconsin high schools and colleges.

The advantages of international coaching, according to McGregor, are: more money, more travel and no eligibility worries ("the only qualification is that the player be a citizen of his country.") Despite this, McGregor says he's reducing his schedule to include only such future assignments as Olympics and Pan-American games coaching.

Webster Given Additional Rest

Milwaukee. —(U)— Marquette's football team got only a brief drill Wednesday on a frozen and slippery field as it worked on offensive and defensive patterns in preparation for the final game here Saturday against Holy Cross.

Haliback Jim Webster, who was pronounced ready for action earlier this week, was held out of action to give him additional rest. He has been suffering with an ankle injury but is expected to play Saturday.

Minnesota '11' Ranks Higher, Statistically, Than Badgers

Chicago. —(U)— If statistics showed on the scoreboard, Northwestern and Wisconsin would have the shudders for their showdown battles Saturday.

Last-place Minnesota, Wisconsin's foe, has looked consistently better on paper than the Badgers during the season. The Gophers rank fourth in offense and fifth in defense, while Wisconsin is eighth in both, official Big Ten statistics showed today.

Only 9.8 Points

Illinois, Northwestern's opponent, is No. 1 on defense, yielding only 9.8 points a game and an average of 184.5 yards. Northwestern ranks third in both offense and defense. Illinois is sixth in offense.

The Iowa Hawkeyes, who already have finished their conference campaign with a 3-3 mark, have clinched offensive honors. They lead in average points scored, 19.8; rushing yardage, 226.5; passing yardage, 125; number of plays, 70.7; and yards a play, 4.97.

Individual leaders include: Rushing—Bob Jeter, Iowa, 443, and Mike Stock, Northwestern, 354; passing—Olen Treadway, Iowa, 63-111 for 683 yards, and four touchdowns; Dean Look, Michigan State, 35-72 for 568 and 7 TDs; total offense—Treadway, 637 (includes minus 26 rushing), and Look, 597; scoring—Stock, 33 points; pass receiving—Don Norton, Iowa, 23 for 283 and 3 touchdowns; punting—Jim Bakken Wisconsin, 28 for 39.2 average.

Mary Palmer Blasts 583 National Set

Mary Palmer blasted a handsome 583 threesome in the National league at the Elks club Tuesday night—the fourth best triple of the season by an Appleton female bowler.

She had a 212 and 209 along the route for runner-up Schabo and Son. Her 590 in the same circuit on Oct. 27 was the season's No. 2 women's triple.

Fond's (22-8) holds a 3-line circuit lead.

TV Actors Disgruntled By Low Pay, Long Hours

AF Movie-TV Writer

Hollywood — Why does a star walk out of a TV series and go into another business?

Walter P. Reuther, the lead in Warner's "Colt 45" and now an executive of an air charter and sales firm, tells why:

"I made 26 films last year, working 16 to 18 hours a day with personal appearances on the weekend. My net for the year was $7,200. I can make more money elsewhere."

"It wasn't just the hard work and low pay. The studio did petty things that added insult to injury. I got tired of being treated like an ingenu-

"Publicity? Sure, I got lots of it. But I told the studio, 'If I had a truckload of publicity and a dime, I could buy a cup of coffee.'"

Preston was not the first to revolt against the Warner's TV regime. Tight-chinned Clint Walker vanished from the "Cheyenne" range for nine months last year. He returned the series with a new deal, but is still discontented.

"I signed with the studio under the impression I was going to do feature pictures," he complains. "I wound up as a TV actor. If I continue in a series, it can do nothing but hurt my career."

"I've never been a quitter, but I don't think I'd walk out again. I see no reason to lose a paycheck on the studio's account."

Edd Byrnes, the Kookie of "77 Sunset Strip," appears willing to sacrifice his paycheck for a better deal. He didn't report for work last week when talks for a new contract broke down. He doesn't feel he can support his booming career on $224 take-home pay.

James Garner is growing more restless in the "Maverick" corral. Says he: "I'm not taking any action right now, because it's like beating your head against the wall. I think I have rights as an actor and as a human being that are not being recognized. I think Warner's is making a mistake in not keeping their actors happy. I think they'd get a better product if they did."

His TV brother, Jack Kelly, is not as militant, but he has his complaints. "We have no opportunity to parlay what popularity we have achieved through the series," he said. "The studio wants half the money we would get for rodeos, so why try?"

Will Hutchins of "Sugarfoot" comments: "We're

Co-Existence Hard Without Free Press

Misunderstandings Result From Red Publicity Policy

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — When red China refuses to permit American newsmen to enter that

One would suppose this exhibition of communist tyranny would raise doubts as to how there can be "peaceful co-existence" in an atmosphere of suspicion, and of what benefit "cultural exchanges" can be when truth is suppressed.

Of what avail is it to argue for closer relations with communist countries when the main vehicle of communication—the press—is sabotaged?

Silenced Press
Khrushchev boasted of the superiority of "communism" over "capitalism." But he did not say the peoples living under the communist system would have a press that could print the truth about public affairs.

The expulsion of A.M. Rosenthal, correspondent for the "New York Times" in Poland, was brought about by Wladyslaw Gombulka, the Polish communist boss. The foreign office spokesman in Warsaw, acting under Gombulka's instructions, said to Mr. Rosenthal:

"The question of falseness or otherwise does not enter. You have written very deeply and in detail about the internal situation, party matters and leadership matters, and the Polish government cannot tolerate such probing reporting."

Example of Reporting
And what had Mr. Rosenthal written? Here is an excerpt: "Always moody and irascible, M. Gombulka is more withdrawn these days and seems hotter-tempered than ever. He is said to have a feeling of having been let down—by intellectuals and economists he never had any sympathy for anyway, by workers... by suspicious peasants."

"More than ever since 1956 there are barriers between M. Gombulka and some of the men who are important in his party... M. Gombulka runs the Polish communist ship, but it is not a happy one."

This was a story of friction inside the government. Where there's a free press, differences of opinion can be reported without fear of punishment. The communist concept is that what a foreign correspondent writes must always be pleasing to the powers that be. The Soviet government doesn't allow any correspondents to remain in residence in Moscow unless their dispatches to the rest of the world satisfy the communist regime.

Visa Problem
Foreign publications whose editorials are very critical of the Soviets are not permitted to have correspondents regularly behind the Iron Curtain. Careful scrutiny of all applications for visas is made by the Soviet foreign office. Unless a correspondent slants his news dispatches or broadcasts to suit the communists or omits mention of facts unpleasant to the communists, he cannot remain.

If misunderstandings are to be removed and war is to be prevented, free communication through the press and radio is most essential. It is the only effective way to keep the peoples on both sides of the Iron Curtain informed.

Poland was supposed to be steering a somewhat independent course. The world has been told that Gombulka is walking a tightrope and is trying to preserve close relations with the west so loans and aid from this country might be continued. But, as the "New York Times" said editorially, "M. Gombulka's incredibly foolish, utterly self-defeating action has only made Poland's difficult situation infinitely more difficult. For he does not seem to realize that the more accurate the knowledge in the outside world of what makes Poland really tick, the more sympathetic understanding the world will have of the position of the Polish people."

Former Star Leaves Acting After 55 Years

BY BOB THOMAS

Hollywood — After 55 years as an actor, former star Jack Mulhall is getting into a new kind of work.

"But I'm still dealing with actors, still working on movie sets and still having a wonderful time," said Jack, as jaunty and cheerful as when he played the young gettters in silents and early talkies.

His new role is field representative for the Screen Actors Guild, and he's just as enthusiastic about it as if he had a leading role.

"This means I can't take acting jobs now," but strangely enough I don't miss acting. I've had my share of it for a while."

His career goes back to 1904, when he started with a mud show in Passaic, N. J. A mud show was a traveling outfit, and Jack was a boy Irish tenor in the troupe headed by an English escape artist.

Jack graduated to films in 1912, working for the Thomas A. Edison company in New York. He came west in 1914 to play in the flickers at $25 a week, plus expenses. He had nowhere to go but up, and he made it right to the top.

The beginning of the end came when he split with co-star Dorothy Mackaill after a dozen pictures.

"We were not as a team, but her new contract called for single billing," Jack said. "I told her it was a mistake to break up the combination, that we would be co-starred with others but would never be as successful. That's exactly what happened."

Jack has kept working all these years as an actor, including seven and a half years with Ken Murray's Blackouts. Now 65, he has a new career as protector of actors' rights.

Hutchins Brown

working under old-fashioned contracts, made at a time when actors were doing one or two pictures a year. We do 20 to 40 shows a year and I'm afraid the public is going to get pretty darned sick of us."

Peter Brown of "Lawman" is trying to get a new deal. He said the studio tried to get him to stay on without the raise called for in his contract. "But I think Edd is making a mistake to walk out," he added. "The studio won't face it. They'll get another boy."

Ty Hardin, who replaced Walker and later got his own "Bronco" series, comments: "Like everyone else, I don't feel I'm getting what I deserve. But I'm making more money than I did as an electrical engineer. My wife and I live comfortably—not like movie stars, but comfortably."

John Russell, the stolid "Lawman," says he went in to the series with a better deal because he had done a previous one. "There is no deal that can't be improved, but I have no current problems," he remarked.

Efrem Zimbalist and Roger Smith, the crime-hunting sidekicks of "77 Sunset Strip," both declare they are very happy with their present setups. So far, there has been no grumbling from stars of the several new shows from Warner's this season, but then discontent usually doesn't set in until the second year.

Lesson in English

Words Often Misused: QUANTITY is a general word, and may be applied to an amount that may be either counted or measured; as, "A large quantity of water," or, "An equal quantity of oranges." NUMBER should be applied only to a total that can be counted; as, "A number of persons," or, "A large number of ships."

Often Mispronounced: Balm and calm. The "l" is silent in both of these words, which should be pronounced as "bahm" and "kahm."

Often Misspelled: B l a n c m a n g e (the dessert); observe the "c," and not "k."

Synonyms: Intrepid, fearless, undaunted, brave, heroic, valiant.

Word Study: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day.

Today's word: acrid; sharp and harsh; pungent. "He was aware of a slightly acrid odor permeating the room."

Sues Cigaret Companies in Husband's Death

Oklahoma City — A widow is asking seven cigarette companies to pay her and her two minor children $250,000 on grounds her husband smoked cigarettes and died of lung cancer.

The suit was filed on behalf of Hazel Shields of Holden, Okla., in Oklahoma district court Tuesday.

She contends her husband, Ed Shields, smoked two to three packages of cigarettes per day and had smoked since he was 15 years old.

Mrs. Shields contended the companies and distributors named failed to protect the public health. The suit also alleges the defendants warranted their products were wholesome.

U. S., Russian Attitudes Make Summit Talks Look Promising

BY GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

New York — The idea of a summit conference is not new. Such meetings have often taken place in history. Probably the greatest of them in modern times was the Congress of Vienna held after the Napoleonic wars. The Europe of the years between 1815 and 1914 was made by the Treaty of Vienna. It was an era of peace with only sporadic, limited wars. Naturally the great powers were never in agreement and many side conferences had to be held as so much of the world had to be rearranged.

In recent years there have been several summit conferences. Teheran in December, 1943, Cairo in November, 1943, Yalta in February, 1945, Potsdam in July, 1945, and Geneva in July, 1955.

Hope for Success
The London economic conference in 1933, at which this country was represented by Cordell Hull and Raymond Moley, might have saved the world from World War II had it not been scuttled by Franklin D. Roosevelt who had no understanding of the science of money and is reported to have flipped a coin to make a decision about the value of gold. The coin fell on the wrong side.

The forthcoming summit conference is to be attended by Eisenhower, Macmillan, Khrushchev, De Gaulle, with somebody from West and East Germany as witnesses. A thousand imponderables may make a failure of the conference just as the death of John Foster Dulles brought an unbelievable weakening of American policy.

Trade Arrangement
It would appear at the moment that the United States and Soviet Russia desiring the summit conference to have a measure of success, a way will be found to win over De Gaulle and Adenauer. The United States, as a practical measure, may agree to De Gaulle's program in Algeria and Soviet Russia may stop interfering in the affairs of West Germany. Soviet Russia has a strong stake in the continued existence of West Germany. Although American-based companies may not freely trade with Soviet Russia, West German companies, even though they may be American-owned, do deal with Soviet Russia. European companies which are licensees of American companies sell goods to Iron Curtain countries, including Soviet Russia. The methods of accomplishing this are various.

Soviet Russia, by these channels, may obtain American goods despite an American embargo. It is very doubtful whether Soviet Russia would want to risk antagonizing the common market countries which can provide manufactured goods, particularly metals of which Soviet Russia has a deficiency and other raw materials from Soviet Russia. It is therefore unparsonable to expect that De Gaulle will be played down either by Eisenhower or Khrushchev, no matter what else happens at the next summit conference.

Culture Comes To Window Rock

Window Rock, Ariz. — A few years ago Window Rock, in the middle of the vast Navajo reservation, was Arizona's quietest town. The nearest theater was in Gallup, N. M., about 50 miles away.

Then oil was discovered on Indian land.

Now the Navajo civic center at Window Rock has booked, for the fall-winter season: the U. S. Air Force Band, Guy Lombardo, Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians, Phoenix Orpheus Club Boys Choir, Ximenez-Vargas Ballet Espanol and the Vienna Boys Choir.

Faculties Seek More Voice in College Affairs

Board of Regents Told Teachers Want To Pick Presidents

Madison — The organized faculties of the state colleges are asking for a more direct voice in the management of college affairs.

A spokesman for the Wisconsin Association of State College Faculties informed the board of regents of the schools that the faculties want to "help" in the selection of future presidents who may be chosen at the 10 schools, and to have a part in the distribution of the merit pay increases periodically voted by the legislature.

The association requests were transmitted to the regents by Dr. Guy Salyer, a member of the faculty of Stout state college at Menomonie, and president of the group.

Under questioning by the regents, he said the mechanics of faculty collaboration in such administrative questions remains to be worked out. He said a special committee is prepared to meet with the regents to discuss the proposition.

Salyer said the teachers in the ranks also are concerned about recent publicity that suggested the arrangement of

24-Year-Old Warrants Returned for Payment

Ironton, Ohio — Warrants issued by a court clerk 24 years ago have finally been returned to the court house here for payment.

Treasurer Bernard McKnight says about $80 worth of warrants drawn up in 1935 to pay jurors and witnesses were cashed at a local grocery. But the grocer never turned them in to be reimbursed and they were rediscovered only recently.

Salyer said the teachers in larger classes and the use of television as a means of extending the usefulness of the college staffs.

You'd Use Vile Language, Too

Casper, Wyo. — A woman complained a city employee abused her with vile language after giving her car a good whack with a broom.

City Manager Henry Rolfe investigated and found a street employee who confessed "cussing" the woman.

But he told Rolfe he lost his temper only after the woman drove around a "do not enter" sign, drove over freshly painted stripes, struck him from behind and knocked him to the pavement. He said his broom flew into the air and landed on the car.

YOUR Social Security?

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. Is the retirement test based on a person's birthday from one year to the next?

A. No. It is based on the calendar year January through December. In a few isolated cases when a person is self-employed, it may be computed on the fiscal year.

Q. My claim for disability benefits was disallowed because I did not have 20 quarters of coverage. I know I worked under social security from 1957 through 1943 and have 27 quarters of coverage. Why can't I get benefits?

A. The 20 quarters of coverage requirements for disability must have been earned in the 10 years immediately before you became disabled. Without it you would not qualify for disability benefits.

Q. I've read about the $1200 retirement test under social security. When can a person have unlimited earnings and still receive benefits?

A. The month a beneficiary becomes age 72, he can receive checks regardless of his earnings.

Q. Can a person draw social security benefits based on wages and another payment based on self-employment income?

A. Only one benefit can be paid a wage earner on his social security account. If a person has both wages and self-employment income, they are combined to determine his monthly benefit amount.

The social security administration office is in the courthouse annex, 601 N. Elm street, Appleton.

Council Backs Badger Plug Road Project

2 Aldermen Question
Lack of Assessments;
Final Vote Is 18-2

The city council Wednesday voted 18-2 in favor of reconstructing the old John street roadway at Badger Plug company, 930 E. John, at city expense.

Opponents of the board of public works' recommendation were Ald. Roy Pointer and Ald. Mrs. Dorothy Stillings.

Pointer said he couldn't agree because there was no special assessment against the plug company for the improvement work. Somebody's benefitting, he said, and it certainly isn't the city.

Mrs. Stillings said the move would mean that any reconstruction of College avenue in the future also would have to be done at city expense or the council would be discriminating against other businesses.

No Chance in Court

"I at first favored a 50-50 split of costs," said Ald. Harold Hannemann, a works board member, "but the city attorney says that the removal of the old low level bridge would cut off the roadway and Badger Plug would have no way to back into its loading dock. He says we're obligated to replace the road."

"Without assessment?" asked Ald. Homer Malmstrom. "I believe the attorney said we'd have no chance in court with an assessment," answered Hannemann.

Sees Damages

City Atty. Don L. Jury explained that he cannot see how the new roadway will improve what Badger Plug has now, but on the other hand he can see where roadway removal would damage the property.

At any rate, both Hannemann and Jury pointed out, the money can be taken from the bond issue floated to pay the city's share of College avenue bridge building costs.

Ald. Ervin J. Bogan objected to Pointer's request for referral back to the board for more study.

Questions Minutes

Typographical errors by both the Post-Crescent and the city clerk's office in the published report of the Nov. 4 council meeting minutes caused Ald. Homer Malmstrom to seek changes in the minutes before they were approved by the council.

One change was made, the one involving the Post-Crescent error, but the others were not known specifically until today.

Malmstrom and Ald. Mrs. Dorothy Stillings, at the conclusion of the council meeting, submitted a resolution asking that the official proceedings be corrected when published for permanent record.

Malmstrom also said the figures published on the 1960 budget were erroneous. City Clerk Broehm explained that the figures were based on actual spending through nine months and were clearly labeled.

Bid Rejected

John McHugh's bid to install sewer and water laterals on S. Schaefer street, College avenue to Forest street, and at three addresses in the 300 block of Richmond street were rejected.

Cost was believed to be excessive, Ald. Thomas K. Schneider, member of the board of public works, said. Mayor Mitchell reported the works board will seek to have the Richmond street work done on a time and materials basis but if the price again is too high another bid call will be made.

The Schaefer street work will be re-bid in the spring at any rate, Schneider said, because the water department, under its new policy halting winter work, will not make the water tap until then.

Obligation Bonds

The council adopted a policy whereby it will bond for only fourth-fifths of the amount needed to cover money paid contractors for improvement projects.

Ald. Mrs. Stillings suggested the move some time ago, and it was recommended last week by the finance committee.

The move takes into account that more than one fifth of the money needed to repay the general fund for cash that went to contractors annually is paid before the end of the next February through the first installment of the 5-year plan for payment of special assessments.

Tucker Asks Mayor's Help

Asks Enforcement of Prior Notice Rule on Committee Reports

Ald. Austin N. Tucker called upon Mayor Mitchell Wednesday to help force the city council to observe one of its own rules.

The rule requires that all committees schedule meetings in time for the city clerk to forward their recommendations to all aldermen on the weekend prior to the two-monthly council meetings.

The rule was approved by the council in October, 1957, upon suggestion of Mitchell, then alderman of the First ward.

Questions Sense Of It

Tucker said aldermen are being asked every meeting to vote on recommendations they have just read for the first time.

"It's impossible to digest the contents of all these reports on the spot," said Tucker. And, it's just not sound judgment — good business sense — to give blanket approval to any 5-man committee.

Tucker also declared it's not good government to promise "support for your committee if you'll support mine. That's not representing the people," he said.

Should Attend

Tucker's remarks came while the board of public works report was under consideration. He told Ald. Harold Hannemann, a board member, he was not questioning the board.

"I'm not concerned with any one committee, this is just not good common sense," said Tucker.

Hannemann had said the only way Tucker could gain full knowledge of what the works board does at Tuesday meetings is to attend them.

Tucker said he had received reports of the welfare and ordinance, public safety and finance committee on the weekend.

was presented the Appleton city council Wednesday. It was referred to committee for study.

The contract requires Appleton to pay 41.17 per cent of the $153,370 total cost. It calls for 11 payments of $4,014.07 between March 1, 1960, and Dec. 1, 1962.

The 1960 city budget, adopted Wednesday night, will provide $16,057 for 1960 commitments.

Proposal Aimed At Condemnation Not Acceptable

Madison — A legislative committee has been told that a bill streamlining laws covering condemnation of land for highways was not acceptable by Gov. Gaylord Nelson in its present form.

The main objection to the bill, Bruce Thomas, Nelson's legal counsel told the assembly judiciary committee Wednesday, is that it hamstrings the highway department's program of setting up controlled access roads.

Thomas introduced 39 amendments to the bill, most of them calling for minor changes. The bill was passed by the legislature before it recessed last summer but was held in committee pending resumption of the session.

The highway commission has reported that the bill, with the governor's requested amendments, would provide for an increase in awards for land taken for highway purposes by as much as 25 per cent. The bill also would make compensable such items as loss of rentals, cost of financing, need for property alignment and damages due to grade changes when land is taken for highway purposes.

Two Fined $100 Each

Appleton Woman,
Man in Court for Drunk Driving

A 34-year-old woman was found guilty of drunken driving and a 28-year-old man charged with plea to no contest on a similar charge Wednesday in municipal court.

Fined $100 each by Judge Oscar J. Schmiege were: Elaine DuChateau, 1749 N. Owassa street.

Richard R. Radloff, 1407 W. College avenue.

Miss DuChateau was arrested on Highway 45 in Hortonville after her auto twice struck a car parked in front of her and she drove her car into a mail box while attempting to get out of a parking space. Parked behind Miss DuChateau's car at the time was County Patrolman William Janssen, accompanied by Hortonville Police Chief Ira Dominkowski.

The woman declined the drunkometer test and was jailed after being formally charged. Her attorney said the case would be appealed.

Radloff was arrested by Appleton police after his car collided with another auto at Richmond and Atlantic streets Nov. 6. He, too, refused the drunkometer test.

Both motorists will lose their drivers' license for one year.

State Road Death Toll for October Lowest in Decade

Sixty-two persons were killed in Wisconsin traffic mishaps during October, the lowest toll for that month in more than a decade, according to latest accident figures of the state motor vehicle department. Two persons died in Outagamie county accidents, compared to five during October, 1958.

Twelve of the state October victims were pedestrians, also the lowest number of such fatalities in the state in more than 10 years.

Up to through the end of October this year, Wisconsin traffic accidents brought death to 671 persons, lowest 10-month toll since 1951. Up to Nov. 1 this year, 101 pedestrians were counted among street and highway fatalities in the state.

None of the 71 counties in Wisconsin now is credited with a death-free record for 1959.

Victims in the first 10 months this year included 531 in rural accidents and 140 in urban mishaps. Fox Cities area death tolls for the first 10 months of this year include Outagamie county 20, compared to 15 last year; Brown 17 and 19; Calumet six each year; Shawano 13 and 18; Waupaca 16 and seven, and Winnebago 14 and 12.

Alderman Gets 4 Cents Chopped From Tax Rate

Ald. Robert Stumpf Wednesday saved property owners in the Calumet county section of Appleton 4 cents per $1,000 of assessed value on their city tax rate.

Alder men were all set to establish the section's new tax rate at $43.60 per $1,000, an increase of 20 cents per $1,000, when Stumpf noted that the rate would produce $92.40 more than needed.

He promptly called for reduction of the rate to eliminate the $92.40.

The reduction was not in the city purposes only rate of $34.40 which must be the same regardless of the county in which the city resident lives—but in the county and state rate of $9.07, City Atty. Jury ruled.

Several aldermen tried to josh Stumpf about his heated pleas, but he would hear none of it. Stumpf a year ago was provoked about the difference in the tax rates between his section of the city and the Outagamie county section, a difference caused by county and state tax demands.

Stumpf said he would not be provoked about the difference in the tax rates between his section of the city and the Outagamie county section, a difference caused by county and state tax demands.

Truck, Car Collide; Woman Injured

A panel truck driven by Kurt A. Kronberg, 19, of 1926 S. Memorial drive, and a car driven by Leon H. Bartman, 57, of 1704 Ravinia place, collided about 2:55 p.m. Wednesday at Spencer and Mason streets, slightly injuring Mrs. Esther Bartman.

Police said Bartman admitted failing to stop for a stop sign at the intersection.

Leo J. Laughlin, 24 Baldwin street, Chilton.

Kaukauna Community:

Son to Mr. and Mrs. Ignatius Lenz, 911 Kenneth avenue, Kaukauna.

Daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Baeten, 707 Blackwell street, Kaukauna.

Fall Injuries Fatal for Appleton Man

Harold J. Tennie, 45, of 270 E. Circle street, died at 2:20 a.m. today of head injuries received in a fall down a flight of basement stairs Sunday afternoon at St. Therese Catholic church.

Tennie, who was semi-conscious after the fall, was found by an unidentified nun and taken home by his father, Oscar. A physician ordered Tennie to the hospital and Tennie did not regain consciousness. Death was caused by a skull fracture, Coroner Bernard H. Kemps said.

Kemps was told Tennie had returned to the church to look for his hat and apparently mistook a door to the basement for the door to the usher's room. The anteroom leading to both doors was dimly lighted, Kemps was told.

Tennie was born Jan. 9, 1914, in Greenville and had worked as a truck driver.

Funeral services will be at 10 a.m. Saturday at St. Therese Catholic church, Appleton, with burial in St. Joseph cemetery, Appleton. Friends may call at Ellenbecker Funeral home, Appleton, after 2 p.m. Friday. The rosary will be recited at the funeral home at 8 p.m. Friday.

Survivors include the father, Oscar Tennie, Appleton; two brothers, Roman, Appleton, and Victor, Greenville; and three sisters, Mrs. Raymond Gosse, Greenville, Mrs. John Wagner, Milwaukee, and Mrs. Norman Abitz, Appleton.

Hobby Club Contest Winners Announced

Five winners of Cappy Dick's Hobby club contest of Nov. 11 were announced today.

They are Carol Thomas, 9, of 1312 W. Rogers avenue; Marcia Culligan, 9, of 1508 W. Franklin street; Diane Goodman, 8, of 842 Maple street; Neenah; Thomas Hansen, 5, of 117 Granite street, Waupaca; and Sally Stuyvenberg, 7, route 3, Kaukauna.

Man's Death Ups Road Toll to 712

Milwaukee — The death of an elderly Kenosha County resident has raised the state traffic toll to 712, compared with 720 on this day a year ago.

Joseph Charkowski, 78, was killed Wednesday when struck by an automobile as he crossed Highway 32, about two miles south of Kenosha. Police said that Charkowski was walking across the road to his motel. He recently moved to Kenosha from Crivitz.

Ask Red Paint, More Lights At Viaduct

The S. Mason street railroad viaduct should be painted red instead of yellow and should be better lighted than it is, two aldermen told the city council Wednesday.

Ald. Mrs. Stillings and Captain said the changes would keep cars from hitting abutments and the supporting pillar which rests in what normally would be the west traffic lane.

The resolution was referred to the public safety committee for study.

Other New Business

Other items of new business given the council include:

The state highway commission said it will undertake a 16-hour traffic study of the Memorial drive and Lawrence street intersection soon. Aldermen asked for the survey to determine whether stop-go lights are needed.

Ernest F. Kasten, Hales Corners, applied for the tavern licenses which Carlton O. Ziesmer holds for the 333 Club, 333 W. College avenue.

The Pizza Palace requested a change of address on its beer license from 745 to 815 W. College avenue.

Sacred Heart Athletic association requested a dance license for 1302 S. Monroe street on Dec. 11.

City to Study Replacing of Public Nurse

Suggestion Made to Secure V.N.A. Service Paid on Hourly Basis

Kaukauna — In a letter to the common council, James A. Gertz, deputy health officer, has suggested the city enter into an agreement with the Appleton Visiting Nurse's Association to furnish Kaukauna a public health nurse when the resignation of Mrs. Gertrude Nagel, present nurse, becomes effective Jan. 15.

Gertz stated, Miss Inez Davis, director, and the chairman of board of the V.N.A. have agreed to supply a public health nurse for the city on a 6-month trial basis and if the city was satisfied with the arrangement, the agreement would continue to be operated on a yearly basis.

Rate Schedule

The charge for service would be $2.50 per hour plus auto mileage, according to Gertz, with the nurse working only the hours needed to complete work as prescribed by the city and state board of health.

The city stenographer would do clerical work for the visiting nurse, stated Gertz. The nurse would make home visits to indigents and call on parents of first born infants. If desired, continued the deputy health officer.

Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon questioned Gertz on the arrangement both as to school programs for both public and parochial schools, cost of the arrangement and the efficiency of the health program.

Gertz maintains the school programs would continue to be operated as they are at present, the health program would be more efficient and the cost less than the present method. Visits to indigent homes and to homes to give instructions for bathing and caring for bedridden and to advise parents of first born are now part of the program, stated Gertz.

He felt a visiting nurse would not be needed as much in summer months, thus cutting down on total hours worked. This type of nurse would not be eligible for vacation attend in-service meetings or be required to speak before organizations such as public nurses' concluded the director.

The deputy health officer was advised to arrange a meeting of the board of health, common council and Miss Davis to further discuss the proposal. The council has set $5,000 in the tentative 1960 budget for a public health nurse and should the V.N.A. plan be adopted, payment would come from this fund.

WATA Seal Sale Mail Problem in Combined Locks

Combined Locks — WATA Christmas seals have been mailed to residents of the community as a village project for the first time this year.

Formerly mailings were made from Appleton or Kimberly and no effort was made to keep separate figures of contributions by village residents. Considerable difficulty was encountered this year by the committee as four mailing addresses are found within the village.

Combined Locks residents may have a village mailing address, a route 3, Kaukauna, address, a route 4, Appleton, address or a Kimberly address.

When returning contributions for the seals, village residents are asked to write correct mailing addresses on the reverse side of the contribution envelope to enable the committee to operate more efficiently in future years.

VFW Women Plan Christmas Party

Kaukauna — Plans for the annual Christmas party and the eighth district meeting were completed at a meeting of the VFW auxiliary Monday evening at the VFW club-rooms.

The Christmas party will open with a 6:30 p.m. covered dish supper on Dec. 7. Members are invited to bring a guest and gifts will be exchanged.

The Kaukauna unit will entertain representatives of the district Jan. 17 at Park school with registration starting at 2 p.m. The host unit will serve a swiss steak dinner in the evening.

Heading the kitchen committee for the December party are Mrs. Gerald Arnoldson, Mrs. Ed Matchett, Mrs. Arthur Kromer and Mrs. Fred Mason. Mrs. Ben Ives will have charge of decorations. Only one meeting is planned next month as the second date is too close to the holiday.

Hostesses Monday were Mrs. Robert Sanders, Mrs. Ed King, Mrs. Lester Luedtke and Mrs. Mabel Swedberg.

BPW Women Work for School Project

Volunteers Contact Merchants for Part of Dec. 1 Sale Receipts

Kaukauna — Volunteers from the Business and Professional Women's club here have started contacting business places in the city to support the county-wide fund raising campaign for a school for retarded children.

Contacts are being made this week with women asking merchants to assist with the drive through pledging a part of sales receipts on Dec. 1 to the school. Similar pledges are being accepted by business places throughout the county.

Dr. Raymond Breitbach heads the southside effort here while Martin Janssen has charge of the northside drive. Women volunteers include Mrs. Willis Ranquette, Mrs. Gen Anderson, Mrs. Charles Elliott, Mrs. Louise McGee, Mrs. George Hurst, Jr., Mrs. Melvin Van Dyke, Miss Marie Wodjenski, Miss Jane Donley, Miss Mabel Learman and Miss Lorraine Duddy.

School Background

Six acres of land near Apple Creek have been donated for a school by Robert Plamann while George Narovec and Associates, architects, have agreed to donate plans for the building. A county goal of $40,000 has been set with the Dec. 1 effort by merchants of the county expected to bring in about $15,000.

Outagamie county is the only major populated county in the state without a school for retarded children. The county presently has about 100 children with I. Q.'s between 35 and 50 who are trainable and should attend a school.

The amount pledged to date for such an institution is $10,032 of which about one-half has already been collected. Once the school is established, it will become state and county supported.

22 KHS Students Earn A Honors

Kaukauna — Two Kaukauna High school students maintained straight A grades for the first semester while 20 others maintained marks of average A to be included on the honor list.

Straight A marks were achieved by Sandra Kern, senior, and Karen Lindemuth, junior. Seniors keeping average A grades were Jane Barribeau, Margaret Guert and Melvin Kruse.

Juniors making the honor list were David Foxgrover, Marilyn Hilgenberg, Barbara Otte, Karen Siebers, Sharon Spice and Nancy Van Dyke.

Sophomores on the list were Kathleen Eslein, Joan Mau, Fawn Pechman, Richard Skibba, Richard Smits and John Verhagen. Freshmen with average A were Thomas Hiestand, Karen Nelson, Mary Oliva, Anthony Schulde and John Weyers.

The B honor list includes 47 seniors, 38 juniors, 29 sophomores and 43 freshmen.

Combined Locks School to Change Dismissal Hours

Combined Locks — A change in the hours for school attendance at Combined Locks graded school will take effect Monday and be continued throughout the winter, according to Wayne Hull, principal.

All classes will be dismissed at 3:30 p.m. to permit mill workers to pick up youngsters on their way home. Previously upper grades were kept until 3:40 p.m.

Parents picking up youngsters have been asked to drive into the school yard rather than parking on streets in front of the school.

Gates to the yard will be kept open and the area will be plowed clear of snow to make it usable throughout the winter months. Regular school hours will be resumed in spring when many children begin walking from school.

Cub Pack 27 Pinewood Derby Winners Named

Kaukauna — Pinewood derby races highlighted a meeting of Cub Scout Pack 27 of St. Mary's church with Tom Smith winning the grand prize for defeating the champions of four other brackets.

Consolation winner was Melvin Biersteker. Other winners were Dennis Veldman and George Watson. Boys raced cars in groups according to car weight.

Cubs graduated were James Van Drasek and Richard Wimbunger. Conducting graduation ceremonies were Howard Veldman and boys of Troop 27 together with the Cubmaster, Ted Gloudeaman. Boys receiving bobcat pins were Mike Greenwood, Don Bloy, Jan Tullock, Pat McPhail, Pat Cleveland, Kenneth Brooks and Mike Schommer.

Wolf badges went to Tom Smith and James DeWitt. Robert Watson received a wolf arrow-point. Bear badges went to Len Hawley, Allan Hartzheim and Robert Smith. Lion badges were awarded Harry W. House, David Brooks, Jeffrey School, Dennis Plzak and Marvin Van Wychem.

Denner stripes went to Ted Simon, Richard Schroeder and Patrick Cleveland. Assistant denner stripes went to Allan Hartzheim and Len Hawley. Den chief cords went to Allan and Stanley Plzak.

Good Weekend In Store for Deer Hunters

No Precipitation Or Cold Expected, Weatherman Says

There's pleasant news in store for Wisconsin deer hunters setting out for the state's biggest area opener this weekend.

Forest rangers in an area covering Marinette, Oconto, Langlade, Marathon, Portage and Waushara counties expect one of the better seasons in the last three years.

Weathermen at the Green Bay weather station said temperatures for the next five days should average near normal. Average high is in the mid 30s and average low in the mid 20s. Skies are to be partly cloudy, with no precipitation expected.

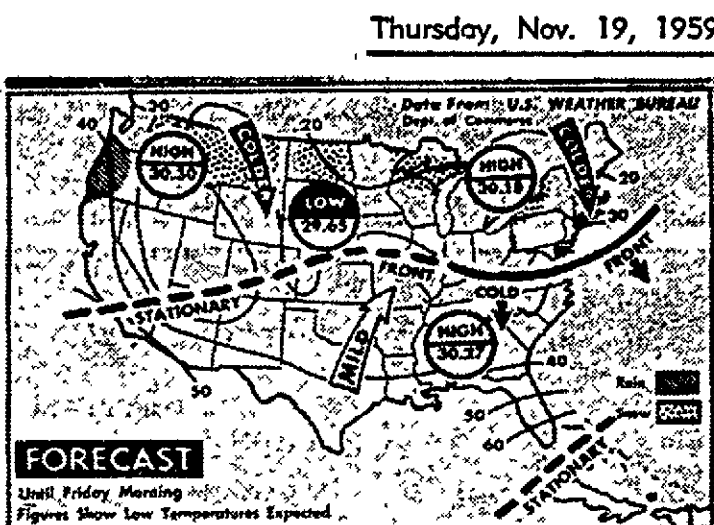

Forest Ranger Earl Overlien at Mosinee, Marathon county, said if a new snow doesn't come Friday it will be a noisy opening day. There is a frozen crust on top of four inches of snow. It is still trackable, although many tracks already spread over the cover, he said.

Low during the week in that area was 5 below Tuesday. Average temperature has been in the low 20s.

Rangers in the northern sections believe the normal hunting pressure there may taper off because of the early opening north of Highway 8 last weekend.

The district ranger station at Lakewood, in northern Oconto county, said snow on level areas is ankle deep. In the woods and brush country snow is knee deep.

Low during the week there

Light Snow Flurries are expected tonight in western New York, the Michigan peninsula, North Dakota and the northern Rockies. It will be colder in New England and the northern plains and warmer in the northern Rockies.

was 8 below at Townsend Wednesday, Earl Wolff, district assistant, said. Temperatures are expected to remain in the low 20s, with partly cloudy skies.

Wautoma, Waushara county, reported a slight snow cover of about one inch. A low temperature of 7 below was recorded there Sunday night. Temperatures there are expected to range in the low 30s, with some sunshine between clouds.

Many Anxious To Give Blood For Young Boy

Rare Type Donors Answer Plea to Aid Ogdensburg Child

Waupaca — The call for a rare blood type needed to keep an Ogdensburg boy alive during a delicate heart operation was answered wholeheartedly by Waupaca county and Fox Valley area residents.

The Red Cross has a list of about 30 persons willing to give a pint of O-negative blood for use in a heart-lung machine to be used Tuesday in Billy Anderson's operation.

The 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Anderson, route 2, Ogdensburg, has been unable to walk or talk and has not developed physically because of a hole between his lower heart chambers.

He needs the rare blood, and it must be fresh. The blood will be collected Monday at Waupaca prior and during the semi-annual visit of the bloodmobile here. Special equipment and bottles from the Madison University hospital will be sent to the bloodmobile for use Monday. The operation is the next day at Madison.

Where did the folks who volunteered blood come from? Waupaca, Manawa, Iola, Marion, Weyauwega, Ogdensburg, King, Neenah, Menasha, Appleton and Kaukauna. Red Cross officials made their plea in Tuesday's Post-Crescent. It was answered by a flurry of telephone calls Tuesday night and Wednesday.

The Madison hospital informed local Red Cross officials today that 17 pints of blood will be needed. Red Cross officials will attempt to gather even more donors to insure enough blood for the operation. A percentage of all donors are sometimes ineligible or unable to attend the blood center.

Donation Center

Local officials had hoped to establish a Fox Cities donation center for the youth but were told today by Badger regional blood officials that the collection would have to be made at Waupaca because of special equipment preparations already arranged. About a dozen of the donors live in the Fox Cities area.

Testimony to the fact that everyone is willing to help when the chips are down is the call from a professional blood donor who was willing to donate free for the Ogdensburg lad.

In addition to the calls which came to Waupaca, chapter officials have phoned area persons with O-negative blood and are securing volunteers.

ORDINANCE NO. 10
The Town Board of the Town of Menasha, Winnebago County, does ordain:
SECTION 1. It shall be unlawful for any person to throw or deposit any weeds, sod, brush, cans, garbage or rubbish on or along any highway or upon the lands of another within the limits of the Town of Menasha, Winnebago County, Wisconsin, except that it shall be lawful to dump any such material in or upon any public dumping grounds created and regulated as such by the Town Board of the said Town of Menasha.
SECTION 2. It shall be unlawful for any person to dump or deposit any garbage upon his own lands or upon lands over which he may have control, unless such garbage shall be properly covered by ground so as to prevent any possible damage to the health of the Community.
SECTION 3. It shall be unlawful for any person to dump or deposit any weeds, sod, brush, cans, garbage or rubbish in or upon any public dumping grounds within the limits of the Town of Menasha, Winnebago County, Wisconsin, in violation of the rules and regulations concerning such dumping, as shall be established by the Town Board of the said Town of Menasha.
SECTION 4. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall, upon conviction thereof, be subject to a forfeiture not to exceed ten dollars ($10.00), plus the costs of prosecution, in default of the payment of such forfeiture and costs shall be imprisoned in the County Jail, Winnebago County, until such forfeiture and costs are paid, but not to exceed thirty (30) days.
SECTION 5. All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict with the provisions of this ordinance are hereby repealed.
If any portion of this Ordinance shall be adjudged invalid, such invalidity shall not affect the provisions which are not adjudged invalid.
SECTION 6. This Ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication.

Appleton-Born Artist

Francis S. Bradford Creates Mosaics For New Catholic National Shrine

Post-Crescent Staff Writer
Appleton has gained a significant artistic honor by way of one of its illustrious sons. A p p l e t o n - b o r n Francis S. Bradford, outstanding muralist and artist of the United States today, designed and created the five mosaic overdoors or tympana of the Porch of Charity of the great Catholic National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception to be dedicated Friday in Washington, D. C. The Porch of Charity is one of two on the huge Romanesque edifice that has taken 39 years to build. Located on the campus of Catholic University of America, the national shrine is the largest Catholic church in the United States and one of the seventh largest in the world. It was built at a cost of nearly $30 million, with the financial help of Catholics in the Fox Cities area and throughout the nation. The theme of charity or mercy is exemplified in the central tympanum based on the story of the Good Samaritan. The seated figure of Christ is in the center and He is depicted telling the story to two apostles on either side, with central tympanum. They represent the orders of the Catholic church and the good works to which they are dedicated.

Francis Scott Bradford of Cornwall Bridge, Conn., and New York City. This scene depicts the dedicated works of Catholic orders in the dramatized arrival of Father Damien and Brother Dutton at the Molokai leper colony.

One shows an army chaplain serving on a battlefield while two angels hover at his side; another depicts the Daughters of Charity administering to the wounded at Gettysburg in the Civil war. The other two show the Little Sisters of the Poor caring for the aged and the arrival of Father Damien and Brother Dutton at Molokai leper colony.

Wins Prix de Rome
Artist Bradford is the brother of Alfred S. Bradford, 312 W. Prospect avenue. He now lives in Connecticut and maintains a studio in New York City.

Before taking to painting Bradford studied at Lawrence college and started a law course at the University of Wisconsin. After World war service he began studying

Knight Chosen To Edit Book On Education

American Assembly Project Relates Government, School

President Douglas M. Knight of Lawrence college has been chosen to edit a book on "The Federal Government and Higher Education" for the art in schools in Des Moines, Iowa, Chicago and New York City.

He was the first Wisconsin artist ever to win the Prix de Rome in the field of mural art, which he did in 1923. He also won four years of study in Europe, which took him to Rome and Fontainebleau, France.

Other Works

It was during his 3-year stay in Rome that he learned the secrets of fresco work, a method of painting murals on plaster which goes back to ancient Greece and Egypt. Bradford returned to Appleton in 1942 to paint the fresco mural for the Outagamie county courthouse. These scenes represent the history of the county in all its phases. Another of his major works in Wisconsin is the 25-section oil mural in the Milwaukee county courthouse.

Bradford's work is in many museums and on the walls of numerous churches, private and public buildings.

As ambitious in scope as his work on the Porch of Charity at the Catholic shrine are Bradford's marble and glass mosaic murals on walls and ceilings of the chapel of the United States Military cemetery near Cambridge, England. The memorial work covers 2,300 square feet. He was awarded the commission by the U. S. government in 1951 and the project was completed in 1956.

Bradford is a fellow of the American Academy of Rome and a member of the National Society of Mural Painters and the Architectural League. Lawrence college in 1932 presented him with an honorary doctor's degree.

American assembly. It has been announced by Dr. Henry M. Wriston, president of the assembly. Dr. Wriston was eighth president of Lawrence before going to Brown university.

The book is being underwritten by an $85,000 grant from the Carnegie corporation of New York. A grant from another foundation will enable President Knight to make a 3-week trip to Europe in January or February to talk to those educational leaders of England, France, Germany and Denmark who have worked most closely with the problems of federal and educational cooperation.

The book will be made up of papers which are being written for presentation next May at the Seventeenth Annual assembly at Arden house on the Columbia university campus, and will be published after the meeting.

Sections of the book and their authors are:

1 - Section Book

A historic, factual and statistical survey of federal participation in higher education, from the beginnings through the fiscal year 1958-59, including discussion of legislation pending in congress: by Charles Quattlebaum, specialist in education from the legislative reference service of the library of congress.

2 - Current federal problems in higher education, with commentary on the problems they raise and the types of influence on higher education they imply; by Vice President James McCormack of Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Vincent Fulmer of the MIT industrial liaison office.

3 - The major problems of federal interaction with higher education—definition and analysis; by President John A. Perkins of the University of Delaware and his assistant Daniel W. Wood.

4 - Toward a coherent policy, a discussion looking beyond the present fragmentary planning; by President Knight.

The American assembly, founded by Dwight Eisenhower in 1950 when he was president of Columbia university, is an educational institution chartered by the New York board of regents. It regularly holds meetings and publishes books on topics of national importance.

Lawrence Dean, Fraternity Heads To Attend Council

A trip to New York on a 707 jet airliner is in store for Lawrence college's six fraternity presidents and Dean of Men Robert Hubbell, when the group takes part in the 50th anniversary convention of the national Inter-Fraternity council Nov. 26 to 29.

Besides Dean Hubbell, representatives will be James Leatham, Hinsdale, Ill., president of Beta Theta Pi; Gerald LeNoble, 712 E. Main street, Little Chute, Phi Gamma Delta; Thomas Tretin, 817 Grignon street, Kaukauna, Phi Kappa Tau; John Wurster, Pocatello, Idaho, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Douglas Logan, Evanston, Ill., Phi Delta Theta; and Peter Switzer, West Allis, Delta Tau Delta.

Prominent guests and speakers at the convention, to be held in the Waldorf-Astoria hotel, include Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association of America, who will deliver the main address; Lowell Thomas, news commentator, toastmaster; the Rev. Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, president of the United Lutheran Churches of America; Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, noted clergyman, and cartoonist Milton Caniff. Meetings will deal with scholarship, fraternity rushing and pledge training.
